BALL INDICTED AT ARLINGTON IN FUNDS CASE

Misuse of $515,959 in County Moneys Is Charged.

PROSECUTOR TO ASK FOR OUTSIDE JURORS

Tomorrow Afternoon Is Set for Hearing on New Trial Motion of Duncan.

As a result of a surprise move by Commonwealth's Attorney Lawrence W. Douglas, the Arlington County grand jury last night handed down three indictments charging former County Treasurer E. Wade Ball with misuse of $515,959 of county funds.

Today Mr. Douglas will ask Circuit Court Judge Walter T. McCarthy for the importation of a foreign jury to try the case, and will ask him to set an early date for the tr[illegible]. The reason for the plea for an out-of-county jury is that Mr. Douglas believes a "fair and impartial trial" can not be had with county jurors.

The indictments allege only the misuse and misappropriation of county funds. In August Ball was acquitted of a charge of misuse of $24,000 of State funds. An indictment alleging improper use of $60,000 of county funds, returned in June, is still pending.

Summons Two Auditors.

It had been expected that Mr. Douglas would appear in court yesterday to ask for a trial date on the earlier indictment for alleged misappropriation of county funds. Instead, he summoned State Auditor R. B. Jordan and County Auditor Elmer F. Newell before the grand jury and the new bills were found.

The first indictment is a general indictment because of Ball's alleged failure to deliver $515,959 of county funds into the hands of County Clerk William H. Duncan when he tendered his resignation as county treasurer on February 26.

The second contains eleven counts, charging him with the misuse of $117,300 during the last half of the fiscal year of 1931.

Contains Four Counts.

The third contains four counts, alleging that he misused and misappropriated $75,000 during the fiscal year of 1930.

All of the alleged defalcations in the second and third indictments are included in the general sum allegedly misused in the general indictment.

The request for a continuance to the December term of court of arguments on motion for a new trial for William H. Duncan, former Arlington County clerk, was refused by Judge Walter T. McCarthy at the opening of the October term of Circuit Court yesterday. Judge McCarthy set tomorrow afternoon for arguments.

Motion Not Filed.

Duncan was convicted at the last term of court for misuse of State funds amounting to $7,815. Notice of a motion for a new trial was filed at that time, but when the October term opened yesterday the motion had not been filed.

Leo P. Harlow, one of Duncan's attorneys, asked the court that the fil-

Legion Withdraws HurleyBanquetBid

Post Members' Protest Leads to Action at Pueblo, Colo.

Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley's invitation to an American Legion banquet here tonight was canceled as Mr. Hurley's plane landed at the Pueblo Airport.

Dr. W. Gano Compere, newly elected commander of the Legion post, said he had received so many protests from irate members because of the Secretary's connection with the eviction of the bonus army from Washington that he canceled the invitation. The banquet preceded a Republican rally at which Mr. Hurley was the principal speaker.

Denver, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Patrick J. Hurley, Secretary of War, speaking before the Arapahoe Club here today, declared that maintenance of the gold standard is essential to the welfare of the country and that issuance of fiat money would ruin every debtor, wage earner, farmer and miner in the United States.

Hurley said "the Democratic House passed two bills for currency inflation, one of them proposing the use of fiat money. * * * If the Patman bonus bill for fiat money became law, we would be ignoring our own experience in the early days of the republic when the country attempted to pay its bills in currency behind which there was no specie reserve."

HOOVER WILL VISIT DETROIT SATURDAY

Will Leave Friday and Speak From His Train En Route; Praise Pours In.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

Gratified by the Nation-wide applause accorded his Cleveland address last Saturday, President Hoover yesterday approved plans for another personal invasion of the Middle West next week-end. He will deliver the third major address of the campaign at Detroit next Saturday night, after a day of rear-platform appearances in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Michigan.

The itinerary has been arranged with a view to keeping the presidential special in new territory from the time it leaves Washington Friday evening until it returns Sunday morning. The Detroit address will be broadcast over a national radio hookup.

A flood of congratulatory telegrams from all sections of the country poured into the executive offices Sunday and yesterday, following the President's slashing attack at Cleveland upon the Roosevelt-Garner campaign of economic generalities. Scores of the messages told of a decided turn in the political tide in various sections during the last two weeks and urged the President to continue his vigorous expose of the Democratic promises and panaceas until election day.

Republican managers now are satisfied that the great majority of the voters are giving serious thought to the realities of the world economic situation and that the opposition appeal to discontent gradually is losing ground everywhere. The enthusiastic response to both the Cleveland and Des Moines addresses this month, it

Ford Workers Get Advice on Election

Auto Magnate Urges His Employes to Vote for Hoover.

Detroit, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—In a message to its employes throughout the country, the Ford Motor Co. today advocated the reelection of President Hoover and declared that "any break in his program would hurt industry."

The statement, which was placed before employes of the River Rouge plant here and mailed to Ford offices throughout the country, said: "President Hoover has overcome the forces that almost destroyed industry and employment. His efforts to start the country back to work are beginning to show results.

"We are convinced that any break in his program would hurt industry and employment. To prevent times from getting worse and to help them to get better, President Hoover must be reelected.

"These are our convictions and we submit them to the serious consideration of all Ford employes throughout the country and their families."

ALLEN DEBATES RITCHIE ON PICK FOR PRESIDENT

Governor Says Country Is in Need of Policies of Democrats.

REPUBLICAN ASSAILS ROOSEVELT'S RECORD

Prohibition, Economy and Tariff Cited in Talks at Northwestern.

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland and former Gov. Henry J. Allen of Kansas discussed the Republican and Democratic presidential campaign issues in a lively political debate arranged by Northwestern University tonight.

In Throne Hall on McKinlock campus, dedication of which was the occasion for the forum, the Marylander declared that the traditional policies of the Democratic party were "what the country needs at this time."

Allen, director of publicity for the Republican national committee, replied that the fundamental issue of the campaign was whether the country should risk failure of three years' endeavors to restore economic life by embarking "on an unchartered course with an inexperienced pilot."

The debate was broadcast over a national radio network.

Assails Prohibition.

Ritchie, the first speaker, stressed the tariff, prohibition and economy issues in attacking the Republican administration and platform. Allen assailed the record of Roosevelt during his three years as Governor of New York as failing to offer proof of his qualifications for the Presidency.

"Foreign nations can not pay the debts they owe us unless the channels of international trade are kept open," Ritchie declared. "President Hoover was told that the Smoot-Hawley bill would raise the tariff rates so high it would bring economic disaster and reprisals from other lands. He signed it and the prophecies have been fulfilled."

"The Democratic party," he continued, "promises a tariff policy which without injuring American industry or labor, would open our markets again to the trade of the world."

Just one thing brought about the ills attributed to prohibition, the Democratic speaker said, declaring it was "putting prohibition into the Constitution." The Republican platform, he contended, offered no hope of repeal of the eighteenth amendment, but the Democratic plank promises repeal without "any ifs or buts or reservations."

"No Hope for Lower Taxes."

"It is idle to say there has been any economy in the Republican national administration," Ritchie asserted and said, "the Republican party holds out no hope for lower taxes."

The vital issue, the speaker said,

Roumanian-Soviet Pact Is Predicted by Poland

Warsaw, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A communique issued by a semiofficial news agency today expressed the belief that despite pessimistic predictions by Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, negotiations for a nonaggression pact between Roumania and Russia will be successful. Poland, the communique said, is mediating for friendship between Roumania and Moscow in the firm belief that such a pact would cement peace in eastern Europe.

In a statement issued at Moscow M. Litvinoff questioned the sincerity of Roumania in the pact negotiations.

Capital Heir Given Away

Charlotte, N. C., Man Said to Be Son of "Aristocratic" Washington Couple Who Left $550,000 for Him When Search Failed.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Withholding names for the present, F. N. Littlejohn, chief of detectives here, said tonight he had obtained strong evidence that a Charlotte citizen is heir to a $550,000 estate left in trust several years ago in Washington, D. C.

The officer said his evidence showed the Charlotte man was the son of a "wealthy and aristocratic" Washington couple who gave him to another family shortly after his birth for fear the mother would be disinherited if her parents learned of her secret marriage.

The parents are said to have tried without success to find their son about fifteen years ago. Failing that, the detective said, the trust fund was established. The mother is reported to be still living, but the father is dead.

The Charlotte man is described as about 35 years old.

Mermoz and Bossoutrot Rivals in Nonstop Record Effort.

Istres Airport, Marseilles, France (Tuesday), Oct. 18 (U.P.).—Two of France's foremost airmen prepared to take off this morning on one of the most dramatic aerial races of history—a nonstop dash for Buenos Aires across the South Atlantic with a million francs as the prize.

Both Jean Mermoz, sometimes called the Lindbergh of France, and Lucien Bossoutrot, famous for his distance flights, announced that they would get away at 5:30 a. m., on their attempts to beat the distance record set by the Americans, Boardman and Polando, who flew from New York to Istanbul without a stop.

After leaving instructions that their planes be placed "on the line" for the take-off at 4:30, the fliers went to bed, jubilant at reports that weather conditions are extremely favorable for their race across the ocean.

Mermoz, who is France's No. 1 airmail pilot, has the faster plane. It is tango-colored and bears the French colors of blue, white and red on the rudder. It is the same ship in which he attempted in 1931 to break the world's closed circuit record.

Both pilots will have navigators with them. With Mermoz will be Capt. Jean Mailloux, a professor of navigation in the French army's flying school. Sublieut. Maurice Rossi, connected with the air ministry, will be with Bossoutrot.

The straight-line distance from Istres to Buenos Aires is 6,200 miles.

NORRIS HITS HOOVER AND PARTY LOYALTY

Opens His Democratic Talks; Cites President's Switch to Republicans.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Terming party regularity "one of the greatest evils confronting our Government," Nebraska's Independent Republican senator, George W. Norris, told a Pennsylvania audience tonight that President Hoover can not be reelected except through the votes of "people who do not believe in him but who vote on account of party."

"If the people of this country," he said, "will think only of the happiness of our people, the welfare and the perpetuity of our homes and firesides, Gov. Roosevelt will be elected by a majority which will be more outstanding and more overwhelming than the majority which put Theodore Roosevelt in the White House."

It was the opening speech of Norris' recently announced active campaign on behalf of the Democratic candidated for the Presidency. The senator spoke in Philadelphia's Metropolitan Opera House, under auspices of the Roosevelt Independent State committee.

Taking "partisanship" as his theme, Norris quoted Abraham Lincoln:

"'I will stand with any man who stands right. I will stand with him as long as he is right and I will part from him whenever he goes wrong.'"

"The modern slogan of political bosses," Norris said, "is: 'Stand by your party right or wrong. Be regular though the Government falls. And these same bosses try to teach the rising generation that party regularity is the very essence of citizenship, when, as a matter of fact, party regularity is very often the concealment of crime and debauchery—the covering up of evil and the robbing

Germany Again Rejects Geneva as Parley Site

Berlin, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Germany today rejected a renewed invitation to send representatives to Geneva to participate in a four-power conference on the German claim to equality in armaments. The British charge d'affaires, who called at the foriegn office, reportedly urged that Berlin accept Geneva as the meeting place because France has insisted that the conference be held there.

Foreign Minister Baron Konstantin von Neurath reiterated his previous objection that by going to Geneva Germany would in effect be entering the world disarmament conference by the back door. He declared his willingness to negotiate the question elsewhere.

IRISH TARIFF BOOST PLAN IS PREDICTED

Chamberlain Due to Tell Parliament Rates Ought to Be 30 Per Cent.

London, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, is expected to open the crucial tariff debate in the House of Commons tomorrow with a statement that may mean the British tariff against the Irish Free State will be raised to 30 per cent on most imports.

When Great Britain abandoned free trade as a national policy last February and imposed a general tariff of 10 per cent, a provision of the tariff act provided that the dominions should escape from this levy until November 15, or after the Ottawa economic conference.

Although it was not known just how Mr. Chambrelain would approach the subject, it was pointed out in this connection that the exemption of Free State goods from the general 10 per cent tariff will expire on November 15 without the benefit of a treaty signed at Ottawa. The other dominions concluded such treaties at the imperial conference.

In view of the fact that a special tariff of 20 per cent is levied against Free State goods coming into Great Britain as a means of collecting the defaulted land annuities, it was argued that the addition of the general 10 per cent tariff would increase this levy to 30 per cent.

Another statement dealing with the Free State will be made by J. H. Thomas, secretary for dominions, who will report on the status of abandoned negotiations on the land annuities dispute which brought the British tariff and a retaliating 20 per cent levy on the part of the Free State.

Meanwhile, the national cabinet of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will push through action on trade agreements with various dominions signed during the Ottawa conference. The government will depart from the time-honored practice of giving first consideration to the contents of the speech from the throne as a means to this end and launch immediately into tariff debate instead.

Youngquist Ready to Aid Fight on Capone's Move

(Associated Press.)

The Assistant Attorney General, Aaron Youngquist, planned to leave last night or early today for Atlanta to aid local attorneys in combating Al Capone's latest legal maneuver to obtain freedom.

Capone, claiming his constitutional rights were not protected in the trial which resulted in his ten-year penitentiary sentence, is seeking freedom through habeas corpus proceedings.

RAIL AND A. F. L. UNIONS MERGER URGED BY DOAK

Secretary Denies He Has "Hatchet to Bury" With Green.

TALKS AT CONCLAVE OF EMPLOYES OF U. S.

Asserts Labor Department Can Stand No Further Appropriation Cut.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Centralization of the railroad brotherhoods and the American Federation of Labor "into one unified, articulate body" was urged last night by Secretary of Labor William N. Doak before the first annual banquet of the American Federation of Government Employes.

Speaking extemporaneously, the Secretary denied he "had any hatchet to bury" with President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, another speaker at last night's banquet. His denial followed reports of bad blood between the two, growing out of the President's appointment of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen official to the Labor portfolio, when Green believed a federation executive should be named.

Secretary Doak said he has had the support of President Green ever since he took office; that while an official of the railroad brotherhood he, Doak, advocated affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

Denies Pay Cut Blame.

Pointing to the need for "a solidified labor movement," Secretary Doak said it had been his experience before congressional committees that labor was the only group without a spokesman able to talk for a common cause.

The program he outlined would bring together the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Order of Railroad Conductors, all independently operated units, with the American Federation of Labor, unaffiliated with any of the four.

The Labor Secretary made no reference to the rift between the American Federation of Labor and the National Federation of Federal Employes, which brought the labor affiliated American Federation of Government Employes to Washington yesterday in its first annual convention. He denied that either himself or President Hoover was in any way to blame for the cut in salaries of Government workers ordered by Congress.

Green For Single Spokesman.

Despite the demand for Federal economy, he declared the Labor Department can stand no further cuts in appropriations, and might have to order administrative payless furloughs as high as four months, because of the last slashes.

President Green, who also addressed the group, declared prosperity will never return to this country until buying power is increased through restoration of former wage levels.

He called on "all Government workers who want service" to join the labor unit. He said he would inform Congress "that the American Federation of Government Employes is the only organization that has the au-

MAHATMA GANDHI.

GANDHI PARALYZED, LONDON PAPER TOLD

Stroke Followed Soon After Recent Six-Day Fast, Friends Assert.

London, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The Daily Herald tonight quoted close personal friends of the Mahatma Gandhi as asserting the frail Nationalist leader of India had suffered a paralytic stroke in Yerado Jail at Poona.

These friends, who were in London, said the mahatma was stricken soon after he had ended his recent "fast unto death" in the interests of Indian unity, and this was why the government had suddenly stopped visitors at Yeroda Jail.

The paper added that throughout the fast doctors had been worried for fear Gandhi would be stricken with paralysis, since he had suffered a slight stroke two years ago.

The newspaper's informants, who were unnamed, said they had got the news of Mr. Gandhi's illness through confidential channels improvised recently in order that the civil disobedience leader's friends would have reliable news despite censorship in India.

Mahatma Gandhi began his fast on September 20 and abstained from all food for six days until September 26 when the British government announced it would recommend to Parliament acceptance of a compromise agreement on political questions reached by Hindu leaders during the fast.

The little Nationalist became very weak before the compromise was finally reached and his doctors only a day before the fast ended said they would fear for his life if he abstained from food for 24 hours longer.

Former Engineer At Bolling Killed

Thompson S. Dealor Struck by Auto While Crossing Highway.

Thompson S. Dealor, until four days ago an operating engineer at Bolling Field, was killed yesterday when struck by an automobile while crossing the Crain highway near Glenburnie, Md., 10 miles south of Baltimore.

According to police, Dealor darted into the road into the path of a machine driven by Alexis MacCoy, 25, of Piney Point, Md. MacCoy and Deputy United States Marshal George H. Edelen took the engineer to Baltimore, where he was pronounced dead.

Dealor, who was 43 years old, resigned his position at the Washington air field four days ago and was identified through an official notice of the acceptance of his resignation. He had been living at his country place near the scene of the accident through the summer. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Catherine S. Shilling, of 1226 Orren street northeast, and a brother, Karl, of Trenton, N. J.

900 PRISONERS ARE QUELLED IN RIOT IN ONTARIO

Militiamen Aid Guards; Shots Are Fired, but None Injured.

DEMONIACAL HOWLS ISSUED FROM CELLS

Disorder Starts When Men Demand Cigarette Papers and More Leisure.

Ottawa, Ontario, Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Nearly 1,000 convicts in the Portsmouth Prison, near Kingston, rioted for four hours today, defying guards and a company of militiamen, until they were subdued by rifle fire.

Ten shots were fired by the guards, according to officials of the department of justice, but no convict was wounded. One prisoner suffered a fractured rib and another's hand was badly torn in a piece of machinery.

The immediate cause of the riot was a demand for cigarette papers and more hours of relaxation. The riot started suddenly in the main workshop when the men threw down tools and refused to continue their labor. Leaders made speeches declaring work would not be resumed unless the demand for cigarette papers and more leisure was granted.

Threats of Violence.

This inspired other agitators to jump on tables and demand various concessions, including spring mattresses, the five-day week and union pay. The hundreds of convicts became inflamed and from passive resistance to work the situation grew to threats of violence.

In the turmoil, machinery was hurled around in an effort at destruction, and a fire was started in the mailbag factory.

Guards, who had attempted to quiet the convicts, prepared to put down the riot with firearms. A hundred militia were brought on the scene, being called when the prison authorities became convinced an attempt was to be made to destroy the penitentiary.

Returned to Cells.

The presence of the soldiers proved effective, the justice department's story of the riot explains, and prevented the attempt at the destruction of the buildings. By 6 o'clock 600 of the prisoners had been returned to their cells. Prison officials issued warnings to the remaining 306 who were determined on violence, that if they did not return to their cells in fifteen minutes they would be severely dealt with.

Shots were fired to add strength to the ultimatum. At first they were effective in starting the rioters into submission, but the insubordination was soon resumed and further shots were fired over the heads of the convicts. These finally put an end to the resistance and at 7 o'clock all the prisoners were locked up.

Men Shout and Jeer.

Thus without casualty the most serious prison outbreak in Canada was brought under control. The men, secured in their cells, continued shouting and jeering, but danger of violence was believed over. The ringleaders were removed from the general quarters and the justice department said that tomorrow the regular course of prison life will be resumed. An investigation will determine the action to be taken against those responsible for the trouble.

Rumors of possible trouble have been current in Kingston for months, it being stated that the majority of the prisoners were resentful of alleged favoritism to preferred prisoners both as to labor, admission of guests and other preferences.

The department will commence its investigation at once.

Capital's Rainfall Record Of 47 Years Now in Danger

Two Storms of Present Month Send Precipitation to 6 Inches; Virginia Roads Impassable as Rivers and Creeks Offer Big Problem.

A Weather Bureau record for precipitation which has stood for nearly half a century is in an excellent position to be shattered by the currrent October. The record set 47 years ago in October, 1885, is 8.69 inches.

October, 1932, has had only two rains for the Capital, but up to date last night these two storms had sent 6 inches of rain, with more in store for today.

The precipitation to date has already more than doubled normal fall for the month, which is 2.84 inches. Setting in Sunday, the present downpour has registered more than 2 inches.

Scanning precipitation records, Weather Bureau officials said the month of October in 1906 and 1910, with counts of 5.71 and 5.74 inches, respectively, were the nearest approach to the current month.

Impassable roads, flooded fields and crippled communication facilities continued to mount in the toll of havoc wrought by the greatest 24-hour period of rain in nearby Virginia since August, 1931.

So heavy was the rainfall in valley sections that streams overflowed their banks and presented a problem in

Deputies Ruin Mr. Wright's Lunch, Humor and 2 Lions

Nellie and Bess Dispatched by Machine Guns in Island Jungle, While Billfold-Maker Is Girding for Sport at Meal Table.

Commerce, Mo., Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Deputy sheriffs killed the lions today while the hunters were out to lunch—and that was the end of America's strangest lion hunt.

"If anybody ever says lion hunt to me again, I'll hit him," said Denver Wright, the St. Louis billfold manufacturer, who bought two female lions for $75 so that he could hold an African hunt in the Missouri veldt.

"Lion hunting was my lifelong ambition," he almost sobbed, "and these—these—" emotion overcame him; he pointed disconsolately at Deputies Tom Hotchkiss and W. E. Wise.

"We're not either villains," said Deputy Hotchkiss. "We were afraid the lions were going to eat us while you were out eating sandwiches."

"Yes sir," Deputy Wise continued, "they were hungry looking lions. They stalked up on us and growled. We had to shoot 'em."

The hunt began this morning. Wright, steely-eyed; two companions, shivery in the cold; the lions, Nellie and Bess; seven dogs, unnamed; the deputies, antagonistic, and half a dozen newspapermen, trembly in the knees, ferried to Commerce Island, in the middle of the Mississippi River.

There Wright climbed upon the FARMER PICKETING IS PROBED BY U.S.

Mail Truck Tire Punctured; Patrols Are Spread in Minnesota Dispute.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The Federal Government investigated activity of highway pickets tonight for the first time since farmers began patrolling Minnesota roads several weeks ago.

Postal inspectors were at work because a Federal mail truck was delayed more than an hour near Stillwater. Front tires were punctured by nails in planks placed across a road by pickets.

The pickets said they mistook the truck, en route here from Stillwater, for a farmer's vehicle and, consequently did not remove the planks.

After warning truck drivers to "quit moving stuff to market beginning tomorrow," farmers ceased activities this afternoon on highways in Washington County, in which the mail truck was stopped.

Some of them had been at the Minnesota end of an interstate bridge over the St. Croix River near Hudson, Wis., allowing drivers to proceed after telling them to cease hauling nonperishables.

Other Roads Picketed.

Several other principal highways serving the Twin Cities were picketed today, and farmers were on roads in some other Minnesota sections, seeking higher prices for their products through curtailed marketing.

The State-Federal Bureau at South St. Paul, chief live stock market in the State, announced 2,834 trucks brought animals there last week, compared with 3,812 in the corresponding week a year ago. Railway receipts there were 1,059 cars, compared with 1,634 in 1931.

Traders said low prices were a factor in addition to picketing, since many farmers are holding live stock for higher prices.

Farmers Present Petition.

Two hundred Parshall, N. Dak., farmers presented a petition to State's Attorney F. W. Medberry of Stanley, demanding pickets be restrained from interfering with marketing. Medberry went to Parshall to investigate.

Nonperishables were being stopped by pickets on two roads near Watertown, S. Dak.

Meeting at Huron, directors of the South Dakota Farmers Holiday Association decided members would not be asked to withhold dairy and poultry from the market starting next Friday, as suggested by the National Farmers Holiday Board.

Board members said they took this action "because there is practically no excess of produce in South Dakota going into marketing channels during the winter months."

Baker to Campaign For Gov. Roosevelt

Bainbridge Colby's Tour Schedule Also Is Announced.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Newton D. Baker, some time this week, will join the ranks of the campaigners for Franklin D. Roosevelt. The Wilson Secretary of War will come to New York within the next few days to plan with James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, for his address.

Farley said today the Baker address would be broadcast over a Nation-wide radio hookup and would be made either in New York or Brooklyn.

Another of the Wilson Cabinet—Bainbridge Colby—announced his itinerary for a Nation-wide tour in behalf of the New York governor's candidacy. The former Secretary of State will speak in Grand Rapids, Mich., October 19; Aberdeen, S. Dak., October 21; Portland, Oreg., October 24; San Francisco, October 26; Los Angeles, October 27; Salt Lake City, October 29; North Platte, Nebr., November 1; Davenport, Iowa, November 2, and Indianapolis, November 4.

DEPUTY SHERIFFS SPOIL LION HUNT

lion's cage, opened the gate and pounded on it with a club. Nellie and Bess finally took the cue and strolled into the thick underbrush which covered the 40-acre island.

Wright, O. W. Brinkmeyer, Plumber and M. V. Harris, barber, waited until Nellie and Bess disappeared.

"Gentlemen," said Wright, "this is the biggest moment in my life."

With Brinkmeyer and Harris at his heels, he plunged into the jungle. The deputies and the newsmen remained on the shore, ready for a quick plunge into the Mississippi, if necessary.

For three hours Hunters Wright, Brinkmeyer and Harris fought brambles and stumps. Not a lion did they see. So the hunters took time out for lunch on the other side of the island.

While they were doing that, Deputies Hotchkiss and Wise were smoking cigarettes and wondering how hungry a lion has to be before the lion chews a deputy's leg. As they were recalling that Nellie and Bess hadn't been fed for a day, they saw two streaks of tawny hide in the underbrush not 25 feet away.

The streaks were Nellie and Bess, decided the deputies, and Nellie and Bess were hungry. The newsmen took one look and prepared to dive into the muddy water. The deputies raised their machine guns and fired.

The lions died in their tracks, the newsmen began to look brave again, and the deputies started to explain to Wright, who came running up as soon as he heard the shots. The deputies still were explaining at this writing. Wright was so angry he was hardly interviewable.

"It was my lion hunt," he sputtered. "I had fed those brutes 12 pounds of raw meat a day for two months. I spent a lot of money outfitting this safari. I traveled more than 1,000 miles looking for a good yeldt. Everywhere I went these southeast Missouri sheriffs made me move on.

"And then these—these—(words failed him)—they killed my lions right out from under my nose."

Texas Guinan Club Wins Case.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison Will Speak for Hoover

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The Republican national committee announced today that Mrs. Thomas A. Edison, widow of the inventor, will appeal for the reelection of President Hoover in a radio address Wednesday night. This will be Mrs. Edison's first radio talk.

She told the Republican national committee she "accepted with great reluctance, because I do not like public appearances of any sort. But in this case, I feel it my duty to do all within my power to help reelect the President. I feel it would be a calamity if he were not returned to the White House."

Alleged Confession Spiked; Two Laurel Grove Men Are Released.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Leonardtown Md., Oct. 17.—The alleged confession of a 21-year-old Mechanicsville youth to participation in the recent string of terrorizing depredations by members of the "Black Shirt" gang was spiked here today by Deputy Sheriff John T. Smith.

The youth, William Owens, held in the Leonardtown Jail on charges of assault and battery, is in no way connected with the gang, Smith declared.

Sought since October 5, in connection with an assault on Richard H. Sears, of Leonardtown, in a small rural store at Helen, Md., Owens was arrested last night by State police following an automobile accident near Mechanicsville.

It was shortly after the attack on Sears that the "Black Shirt" gang first made its appearance. For a time it was believed the incident was the beginning of what developed into a reign of terror, with ten residents of St. Marys County falling victims to the highwaymen.

Attacked on September 30.

Sears, authorities said, swore out a warrant for Owens after he was attacked on September 30. Police, receiving the warrant a few days later, conducted a fruitless search for the youth.

Returning from a false holdup alarm near New Market last night, State police came upon an automobile accident just outside of Mechanicsville. They recognized Owens, who escaped uninjured in the crash, and arrested him.

After several hours' questions at the jail here, Deputy Smith said he was convinced Owens had nothing to do with the series of robberies and assaults in St. Marys County.

Two Others Released.

"We still have a number of leads in the case," Deputy Smith said, "and although the arrest of Owens may aid us, I am sure he has no connection in the recent series of robberies."

Two men of Laurel Grove, Md., arrested Saturday night in connection with the "black shirt" activities, were released early today. They are Gorman Davis and Raymond Harding.

They were apprehended driving an automobile with only one license plate. Another set of tags was found in the rear seat, police said, and suspicion was aroused when it was recalled the "black shirts" operated in stolen machines or with stolen license plates.

Deputy Smith indicated that a newly discovered clew would bring about a rapid solution to the crimes.

Swanson Attacks Hoover "Evasion"

Says Effort to Escape From Slump Responsibility Involves Him Further.

(United Press.)

Attempts of President Hoover "to escape the responsibility" for the depression "only involve him further," Senator Claude A. Swanson, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, said yesterday.

"At Cleveland," he declared, "Mr. Hoover dealt with the consequences of the World War on economic conditions. * * * As Secretary of Commerce, he, more than any other man in the world, was in a position to feel the economic pulse of the world. Did Mr. Hoover give any warnings of the approaching storm? Either he possessed the knowledge which he now advances as an alibi and was guilty of gross negligence or there is no merit to the argument which he now advances.

"Mr. Hoover and his campaign orators no doubt will be willing to tell the country just when Mr. Hoover made the discovery which is now the backbone of his apology. Possibly at the same time he learned we were within two weeks of going off the gold standard."

Jobless of Toledo Riot in Courthouse

Several Seriously Injured as Police Attempt to Eject Crowd.

Toledo, Ohio, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Several persons, including one woman, were injured and two arrested when police officers and deputy sheriffs late today ejected a crowd of unemployed who refused to leave the county courthouse where they had demonstrated for hours in an effort to obtain relief.

The crowd was concentrated in the second floor corridor when, at the 5 o'clock closing hour, the police and deputies ordered them to leave. Shouting and mobilizing into a closely knit unit, they refused. As police and deputies attempted to move them toward the exits, the combat started.

Blows were struck and kicks administered. Both police and rioters were knocked to the floor, trampled upon, kicked and beaten. Patrolman William Bedacht suffered severe bruises on the head and neck and was kicked in the abdomen. Police Capt. Clarence Mead received a neck injury when he also was kicked. One of the rioters was dragged to the doorway bleeding from a gash on his head.

Irving Berlin Loses Plea Here.

(Associated Press.)

Irving Berlin, New York musical composer, was yesterday denied a review by the Supreme Court of a penalty imposed on him by the commissioner of internal revenue for failure to file his income tax return for 1924 within an extension of the time allowed by the commissioner.

PROBE OF ALABAMA PRISON RIOT BEGUN

Conditions Back to Normal; Legislative Inquiry May Be Made.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—One investigation into the outbreak at Speigner Prison, in which one convict was killed and 21 were wounded yesterday was under way tonight, and a second impended as the Senate prison committee gathered here to discuss the situation.

W. F. Feagin, president of the board of administration, today made public the report of Warden A. B. Smith and said conditions were normal at Speigner today.

In his official report the warden stated that during the recreation period fifteen white convicts made a break for liberty by knocking a board from the south fence of the prison enclosure.

They were fired upon by guards and Carl Singleton, young Jefferson County convict, was fatally wounded. All the others were immediately recaptured except Reuben Pittman, who still is at large.

While the men were being brought back into the yard, the warden said, upward of 100 other prisoners rushed the front gate. When they failed to heed commands to halt, the guards again opened fire, wounding 21 of them.

The warden himself turned back ten of the fleeing convicts, subduing them with what appeared to be a pistol in his pocket. In reality it was a small scrubbing brush he had snatched from his automobile when the outbreak began.

State Senator W. C. Warren, of Tuscaloosa, announced from his home that he had requested the other members of the senate prison committee to meet him here tonight to discuss the advisability of a legislative investigation.

First Lady to Go To Opera Tonight

"H. M. S. Pinafore" to Be Given at Central High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, with a party of eight guests, is expected to attend the presentation of the opera "H. M. S. Pinafore" at 8:15 o'clock tonight at Central High School auditorium, the first of several events to be held at the school under auspices of the Community Center Department.

The opera will be staged by 40 Washington singers under the direction of Miss Estelle Wentworth, and the audience will be asked to imagine that the scene of the opera takes place on the deck of a British warship anchored in the harbor off Portsmouth, England.

The events planned to follow the opera, during the winter months, will provide recreational music and drama programs of general interest at a low admission charge. The proceeds will go into a fund for civic work throughout the city this winter, sponsored by the Community Center Department.

Students Meet Tonight At Democratic Rally

Students from all universities in the city will rally at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the headquarters of the Democratic central committee at 1320 G street. Student and graduate speakers will make ten-minute addresses. College songs, music and decorations and solos by Eva Whitford Lovett will be part of the program.

American University will be represented by Kenneth Hoover, Catholic University by Clement A. Ducy, Columbus by Raymond J. Walker, Georgetown by Robert Criscuolo, George Washington by Miss Etta Taggart and Trinity College by Miss Ruth Cox. A member of the National University Democrat Club also will speak. Students from other schools and the general public are invited.

Postmasters Pick Officers for Year

Three State Branches of U. S. League Hold Elections.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected yesterday by the Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania branches of the National League of District Postmasters.

R. L. Griffith, Hague, and Waverly S. Barrett, Dendon, were reelected president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Virginia branch. The Maryland officers were also reelected. They were W. C. Dempsey, Kennedyville, president, and Mrs. Ruth M. Sweeney, Capitol Heights, secretary-treasurer.

The Pennsylvania branch elected O. R. Beach, Waterside, president; C. A. Benner, Farrandsville, secretary-treasurer; J. F. Lutz, Stevens, first vice president, and W. J. Woodring, Port Matilda, second vice president. J. S. Wertz, Washingtonboro, who has been president of the organization since 1917, was elected honorary president.

The annual meeting of the National League of District Postmasters will open today at the Willard Hotel.

Hold Up Employes of Institution Near Police Station at Gun Point.

Taunton, Mass., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Four young men, armed with revolvers and masked, tonight held up the Mechanics Cooperative Bank and escaped with receipts amounting to approximately $7,700.

The bank, within 150 yards of a police station, had just been closed. It had been open throughout the evening, as is customary on the first Monday after the fifteenth of the month.

Arthur Knox, cashier, and his brother, Frank, and officers of the bank, were seated at a table, counting the day's receipts, when a young man knocked on the door. The brothers admitted the man, who was followed by there others. The four displayed revolvers and scooped up all the money. They escaped in an automobile.

RIVERS IN 3 STATES REACH FLOOD STAGE

Homes Isolated and Traffic Is Interrupted; Train Wreck Injures Four Men.

Atlanta, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Rivers in three Southern States were at flood stage today, causing isolation of homes, interruption of traffic, a train accident and a threat of further overflow.

In Alabama the Black Warrior has riven 60 feet, 14 above flood stage, and all other streams in that State were reported rising. At Northport a few houses in the lower sections of the city were isolated and numerous families in the lowlands of Walker and Tuscaloosa Counties evacuated their homes.

The Tennessee River was rising slowly as it pushed through Alabama, but torrential rains had diminished in the vicinity of Birmingham. The Coosa and the Alabama Rivers were expected to continue rising for the next day or so, but without danger unless the rain starts again.

In North Carolina and South Carolina flood warnings remained posted as the Catawba River overflowed under general rains of from 2 to more than 7 inches over the week-end. The Catawba practically bisects the two Carolinas. Other streams were swollen in both States, and Richard H. Sullivan, meteorologist, of Columbia, issued flood warnings for sections of South Carolina.

During the heavy rains a freight train was derailed late yesterday at Charlotte, N. C., causing injuries to four trainment. A fill washed out as the engine moved across it.

While the heavy downpours have ceased in the Carolinas, there were showers at intervals and more rain was forecast. The eastern North Carolina streams were not expected to become threatening because of the previous low stage and the steady nature of the rain.

On at least two important roads of North Carolina the highway department had posted warnings and traffice was allowed to move "at your own risk."

In Georgia rain continued intermittently, but the Weather Bureau here predicted cessation tomorrow with clearing skies.

The tropical disturbance swept in from the Gulf of Mexico and whipped through the South, causing storm warnings to be displayed between Southport, N. C., and Sandy Hook.

Charlotte, N. C., reported 4.62 inches of rain for the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m.; Lynchburg, Va., had 4.32 inches; Raleigh, N. C., 3.22, and Asheville, 1.74.

Flood Work on Potomac May Be Halted by Rains

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., Oct. 17.—For the first time in months there has been a perceptible rise in streams in this section due to rain which has continued for more than 24 hours. The Potomac River rise, while not threatening, may cause abandonment of work or repairing the flood gates. The cofferdam will be washed out, it is feared, and the safety of the gates is endangered.

Local industrial and utility companies, depending on the river for water supplies, are assisting the city in its effort to keep the work from being interrupted.

U. S. Priest Feared Killed by Chinese

Five Tokyo Soldiers and Refugees Attacked in Manchuria.

Mukden, Manchuria, Oct. 17 (A.P.). An American, believed to have been a Catholic missionary, was killed today near Mulantien, east of here, by a band of 50 Chinese, who attacked a detachment of five Japanese soldiers escorting refugees to safety.

The American was not immediately identified. He was riding a horse which carried the American flag.

Two Koreans and two Manchurians made up the rest of the refugee party, who were on their way from Hsinpin, 70 miles east of Mukden, to the railway station at Nantsamu. The American was killed at the first burst of fire from the attackers. The survivors returned to Hsinpin, where there is a fairly strong Japanese garrison.

rural communities, dependent on State highways for connection with the outside world.

The Virginia Highway Department posted warnings, informing motorists which numbered routes were impassable. Traffic was being detoured late last night on five State highways.

Lynchburg was apparently the hardest hit. A precipitation of 4.76 inches of water had fallen at 8 o'clock last night.

At Luray, Hawksbill Creek and the Shenandoah River had overflowed their banks more than 5 feet. School buses were marooned outside of town and the reservoir, almost dry Sunday, was filled within 5 feet of the top at noon yesterday.

A tropical storm that has scudded around the Gulf of Mexico for the past several weeks, finally taking a northward course, is blamed for the wet spell current here.

Just after 2:30 p. m. yesterday afternoon hailstones fell in the District and Maryland portions of Chevy Chase. The hail shower continued for about ten minutes.

Fresh winds were expected here late last night or some time early this morning by Weather Bureau forecasters. The bureau at the same time issued a warning of a disturbance that would be felt only slightly in this immediate vicinity. The warning follows:

"Advisory, 9 p. m.—Northeast storm warnings ordered north of Sandy Hook to Boston. Disturbance of moderate intensity over southwest Virginia, moving northeastward. Will cause increasing eastery winds, becoming strong and probably reaching gale force over south portion of display early tonight and over north portion late tonight or early Tuesday morning."

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The United States Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Storm warnings were displayed on Lake Erie at 3 p. m. today, fresh to strong northeast winds with rain. Storm over east Tennessee moving northeastward."

3,000,000 Votes Called Possibility for Socialist

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The Thomas-for-President committee today said that "even with the widespread disfranchisement of the poor and jobless, there is ground for the belief the Socialist vote can reach 3,000,000 this year."

The vote for Norman Thomas, the committee said, can not "in any sense be considered a 'protest vote.' The Roosevelt vote in the States hardest hit by the depression, is the true 'protest vote.' It is significant of the emotional quality of the Roosevelt strength that one of the most popular slogans in the Middle West is 'Roosevelt and Revenge.'"

MISSISSIPPI POSSE SHOOTS 5 IN FAMILY

Three Meet Death as Slayer Is Sought; Other Killings Are Rumored.

Senatobia, Miss., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Conflicting reports tonight said that from three to seven Negroes had been killed today by enraged posses scouring the hills of Tate County for Jesse Williams, 45-year-old Negro who killed Deputy Sheriff Walker Williams yesterday. At least two other Negroes and a deputy sheriff were wounded.

District Attorney Milton Thompson said he knew of only three Negroes who had been killed. Perry Poe, newspaperman, of Coldwater, said he had seen the bodies of four and heard reports that possemen had killed three more.

Deputy Sheriff Williams was killed with his own pistol here after he arrested Jesse Williams on a robbery charge. A posse was hastily organized by Sheriff A. C. Williams, father of the slain deputy, and a trail was followed to the home of "Judge" Crawford, a Negro farmer.

"Reports made to me indicate the posse was fired upon from within the Crawford home, one of the shots slightly wounding Deputy Max Lloyd," Thompson said.

The posse returned the fire, killing Crawford, one of his sons and a son-in-law. Crawford's wife and another son also were wounded.

"My office will make an investigation of the entire matter," Thompson said, "and our evidence probably will be turned over to the grand jury next week."

Gov. Conner, reached by newspapermen at Cleveland, Miss., said he would order troops to Tate County if necessary, but local officials indicated they were not ready to make a request for outside aid.

NORRIS HITS HOOVER AND PARTY LOYALTY

of the people of their very fundamental rights of human freedom. * * *

"It puts party above country and, in the logical end, it means the destruction of democratic government.

"Mr. Hoover today is the embodiment of that partisanship. Without its sinister influence, he has no chance of being reelected President. He must be elected by people who do not believe in him but who vote for him on account of party, or he can not win. * * *

"We once had a Roosevelt in the White House and he stood manfully for the rights of the people against monopoly. He did not hesitate to cross the party line whenever he believed the welfare of the country demanded. The politicians and the machines reviled him—condemned him, and used all their power to prevent him from carrying out the principles of government in which he believed. He called himself a Republican. * * *

"Now we have another Roosevelt who stands for practically the same things, who believes in the same kind of government, * * * who stands for the rights of the common people as against the overpowering domination of wealth and political power. But he calls himself a Democrat. * * * Are we going to cast aside the things we want in government simply because of the party name?"

Points Out Past Statements.

Norris recited to his audience a series of statements by regular Republicans from the time of the World War down to 1928, criticizing Mr. Hoover, one going to the extent of calling him unfit for "responsible position of trust." He added:

"For the sake of regularity, in the name of partisanship, these leaders in the party—these statesmen advocated the election of Mr. Hoover to the highest office in the land, when, before the nomination and before party action, they had, each and every one of them, condemned him as unworthy of the office."

He quoted from senator, now Vice President Curtis, of Kansas; Senator Pess and the late Senator Willis, of Ohio; Senator Dickinson, of Iowa; Senator Glenn, of Illinois; former Senator Goff, West Virginia, and Representative Will Wood, of Indiana.

"It is proper in this campaign," continued Morris, "for the American citizen to rise in his might and ask these Republican leaders whether they told us the truth before the party whip was unlashed or whether they are telling us the truth now."

Was Once a Democrat.

Morris said the President and his followers are now seeking to deny the rank and file of the Republican party "privileges which he (Mr. Hoover) has exercised himself."

"When he first returned to this country, after an absence of more than twenty years," said the senator, "he allied himself with the Democratic party. About the time it became evident that the Democratic party was going to be defeated he began to consider the question as to which party he should give allegiance."

Norris then quoted a statement he said Mr. Hoover had made in February, 1920, saying persons in both parties were urging him to declare allegiance, but declining "to pledge my vote" until "it appears what the party managers stood for." Norris continued:

"We should remember that at this time Herbert Hoover had been holding office as a Democrat for three years. * * * Shortly after this date the Republican administration came into power and he went into the Cabinet and became a Republican. * * *

"He had a right to jump from one party to the other just as he pleased. It is, however, an incident of importance that every time he jumped he got an office."

ROOSEVELT REPLIES TO SMOOT CHARGES

Denies He Advocated Cut in Sugar Tariff in Letter to Havana Concern.

Denver, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in a telegram today to Fred Cummings, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second District, struck back at charges that he advocated a lower tariff on sugar.

The Democratic presidential candidate declared "it seems a pity that Senator Smoot (Senator Reed Smoot, R., Utah) should try to manufacture a false issue and a false impression of what was merely a courteous acknowledgement by me of a message of congratulation on my nomination. American voters have, of course, too much intelligence to be influenced by that sort of cheap campaigning."

Gov. Roosevelt referred to a letter written him by La Casa Grande Co., of Havana, Cuba, which suggested a cut in the sugar tariff of 30 per cent ad valorem, a reduction of some 80 per cent based on the current price of sugar. The Second Congressional District is largely a sugar beet growing area and the publication of the letter and Roosevelt's acknowledgement has made the sugar tariff an outstanding campaign issue in this State.

Prepared by Headquarters.

"My letter to La Casa Grande Co. was in acknowledgement of one of 6,000 letters received within five days after my nomination," Mr. Roosevelt's telegram recited. "In accordance with my desire personally to sign all letters, even of congratulation, I signed a letter to Casa Grande which had been prepared for my signature in the New York headquarters. I did not see the original letter.

"My letter said: 'Thank you for your prompt and hearty congratulations. It gives me a great deal of pleasure that my political ideals are understood and appreciated by my friends in neighboring countries.'"

Mr. Roosevelt said this letter has "no reference whatever to that tariff schedule upon sugar, or any other items. At the time I signed it I had no knowledge of any reference to that tariff in the communication from La Casa Grande."

Refuses to Talk Schedules.

The candidate said he has "consistently declined to make any statement with respect to individual tariff schedules, and I am glad to assure you that I have made no commitment whatever respecting the sugar tariff."

Roosevelt's telegram to Cummings stated the declared policy of the Democratic party and its candidates is to establish a "fact-finding tariff commission free from executive interference to negotiate reciprocal tariff agreements with other nations and finally to call an international economic conference designed to restore international trade and facilitate exchange."

"In other words," the telegram said, "the Democratic program is specifically intended to eliminate politics from the consideration of the tariff question and there is no industry in the United States, manufacturing or agriculture, that can not with greater assurance rely upon this program than upon the Republican policy which has brought our country to the brink of disaster."

3 B. E. F. Officers Resign as Protest

Assert Capt. Hoke Smith Sought to Be "Voice" fo Organization.

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Three officers of the Bonus Expeditionary Force announced their resignations at Camp Sherry today, basing their action on opposition to the policies of Capt. Hoke Smith, national field officer.

The three are Capt. William E. Jordan, of Savannah, Ga., national intelligence officer; C. B. Snodgrass, of Wellsburg, W. Va., commander at Camp Rohrbacker, and Sergt. T. Fred Allamong, first aid to Smith. They said their resignations were based on his action in Washington last week, where, they said, he attempted to become the voice of the organization.

RITCHIE DEBATES ALLEN IN CHICAGO

is the record of the Republican party under the leadership of President Hoover and during his administration.

"My prediction is," he said, "that the American people are not going to intrust the Republican national administration, under which we got into our difficulties, with the job of getting us out again."

He described the prosperity the country enjoyed under the administration of former President Coolidge as a "fictitious" one which collapsed under President Hoover's administration, asserted the Hoover farm relief program had failed, denounced the Smoot-Hawley tariff, declared Republican promises of a sound fiscal policy had resulted in huge deficits, and denied that Republican pledges of economy had been kept. He asserted Federal relief measures for combating unemployment and business depression owed their enactment to Democratic leaders in Congress.

"The difference in degree of frankness and candor with which the two political parties have approached the prohibition problem is the difference between them in other problems," said Gov. Ritchie, "and back of all these things is the fundamental antagonism between the Democratic party, which has ever contended for the rights of the individual, and the Republican party, which today more than ever through its high tariffs, remains the party of special privilege for the favored few."

New York Expenses.

Allen centered his attack upon increase in the cost of State government in New York during Roosevelt's three years in office and on what he termed "the pork barrel bill," which the Democratic House under the leadership of Speaker Garner endeavored to enact.

He cited an increase of $35,000,000 in the cost of New York's government in the three years and said the Democratic House, led by Speaker Garner, sponsored not only "the pork barrel bill," but also the cash bonus, the Goldsborough "rubber dollar bill," and pared away the President's $900,000,000 economy bill to a saving of only $50,000,000.

After their main addresses, the two speakers were given fifteen minutes each for reply to their opponents' arguments, and later a general discussion of campaign issues followed.

ROOSEVELT IS READY FOR SOUTHERN TOUR

May Air Plan at Pittsburgh or Indianapolis to Aid Needy Veterans.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Gov. Roosevelt packed up for his Western and Southern trip today, but kept a close silence upon his plans for dealing with the bonus question and upon the subjects of the half dozen or more speeches that will comprise the weapons for his attack upon the farm belt and border States.

His views upon the bonus, reported by some of those who have been in close contact with the Democratic candidate to contemplate opposing immediate payment, but proposing a method of helping the most needy veterans, are expected to be made the subject of one speech. There have been various reports that he would express his attitude either at Pittsburgh or Indianapolis.

A letter made public today at Hartford, Conn., by Dominick Delucco, a man active in Hartford veterans affairs, purported to quote the candidate as writing it would be time to consider adding additional expenditures to the Treasury burden after Federal expenditures had been cut from 20 to 25 per cent by eliminating unnecessary offices and overlapping governmental functions.

Leaving Albany at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, Mr. Roosevelt will devote the first day of his trip largely to the State fight for the election of a Democratic successor to the governorship. He will urge the election of Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and will discuss the Democratic State policies in the talks during his stops at Rochester and Buffalo.

He spent most of today working on speeches while several of those associated with him on his recent Western trip busied themselves in assembling material on the subjects he will discuss. Virtually the same party that entrained a month ago for the transcontinental journey was gathering in Albany tonight to leave with him tomorrow.

is said, reveal a growing faith in the broad-guage reconstruction program now under way.

Confirming these conclusions, Secretary of the Treasury Mills told President Hoover yesterday at the White House that during his recent three weeks' campaign swing to the Pacific Coast he found both business sentiment and political feeling greatly improved as compared with a month ago.

"Politically," he said, "things look pretty good for the President. I gained a very distinct impression on this trip that there is a definite swing toward the Republican national ticket and an unmistakably strong swing toward the President in California."

Held Safely in Column.

Questioned concerning the outlook in various States, Secretary Mills said he had told the President that California, Oregon, Utah, Wyoming, Michigan and Kansas already were safely in the Republican column.

"I followed in part the route taken by Gov. Roosevelt, and everywhere I found that the impression he made was purely negative. I heard the complaint often that he hadn't given the people anything definite or constructive. This feeling was particularly strong in California."

Although the pronounced business spurt which began to be felt in August, has been slowed down a little during the last two weeks by the presidential campaign, Mr. Mills said, the gains have been held almost everywhere.

"Business is on the mend. That is a statistical and not a political observation," he said. "Right now the election is the biggest obstacle to recovery, but that will be removed in three weeks."

To Speak in Baltimore.

Secretary Mills will go to Baltimore tomorrow night to deliver an address replying to Speaker Garner's national broadcast from New York last Friday, in which he told the country the Treasury blocked a budget-balancing program in the last session of Congress by its failure to furnish adequate tax data.

Next week Mr. Mills will carry the Republican campaign to Ohio, New York and Massachusetts.

The President's plans beyond next week-end have not yet been made, but it is expected he will make at least two more short trips, one to New York and New Jersey and another to the pivotal Middle West, with a major address in either Illinois or Indiana.

Roosevelt Winner In Hospital Ballot

Democrats Find 2,848 for Him in Veterans' Institutions; 444 for Hoover.

The results of a presidential poll, conducted in veterans' hospitals throughout the city, were announced yesterday by the War Veterans' Democratic Club of Washington.

The poll, made by various committees at the request of John F. Costello, Democratic national committeeman of Washington, included the sentiments of patients, officers, doctors, nurses, soldiers and civilian employes of the institutions.

The tabulation resulted as follows:

Hospital.	Persons canvassed	For Roosevelt	For Hoover
Walter Reed....	1,458	1,262	196
Naval	468	430	38
Mount Alto.....	238	202	34

4 CHILDREN PERISH WHEN HOME BURNS

Great-Grandmother Is Saved With Three Others as Mother Is Hurt.

New Castle, Pa., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Fire, believed to have started from an attempt to kindle a fire with coal oil, swept through a miner's home at Volant, near here today, taking the lives of four children.

The dead are Delilia Rider, 15; Betty Hedglin, 6; Jacqueline Hedglin, 18 months, and Lottie Hedglin, 1.

While the flames ate their way through the house, Mrs. Lottie Hedglin, 38, mother of all the children, assisted her 90-year-old grandmother, and three other children, Mary Hedglin, 8; Maud Hedglin, 5, and Thelma Rider, 11, to safety. Mrs. Hedglin was badly burned in the rescue.

The Rider children were born to Mrs. Hedglin by a former marriage.

The bodies of Delilia and Betty were found in the kitchen, Jacqueline and Lottie in their cribs.

John E. Hedglin, father of the Hedglin children, had gone to work at the nearby Sharon Coal & Limestone Co. mine only a short time before the fire was discovered.

Winner Also Asks Recount of Ballots

Both G. O. P. and Democratic Nominees in Maine Appeal to Governor.

Augusta, Me., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—United States Representative-elect Carroll L. Beedy, Republican, and Joseph E. F. Connolly, of Portland, the Democrat he defeated by 1,786 votes in last month's State election, both petitioned Gov. Gardiner and the executive council today to recount the First District congressional votes.

At the same time six York County Democrats asked for recounts of votes cast in the county for State senators, county attorney, county commissioners, and register of probate, making a total of thirteen State election recount petitions received by the executive body.

Both Beedy's and Connolly's petitions were lengthy and went into great detail in support of charges that the 41,112 votes for Beedy and 39,356 for Connolly, tabulated from election officials' returns by the governor and council last month, do not correctly state the vote; that clerks and officials made errors in counting; that persons not qualified to do so counted ballots election night, and that adequate booths were not supplied for voters in some places.

Third Woman Gets Huguenots Cross

D. A. R. Announces Award to Mrs. A. K. Evans, of Yorktown, Va.

(Associated Press.)

Presentation of the Cross of the Huguenots to Mrs. Arthur Kelly Evans, of Yorktown, Va., third woman ever selected for such honor, was announced yesterday by the Daughters of the American Revolution as part of the 151st anniversary celebration of the battle of Yorktown.

Mrs. William Russell Magna, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has sent a message to be read at the Yorktown ceremonies tomorrow.

"A descendant of the first patentee of Yorktown, Nicholas Martiau, who was also earliest American ancestor of George Washington," was the D. A. R. characterization of Mrs. Evans, who was also credited with "making possible the restoration of the custom house at Yorktown, the first custom house in the United States."

VIRGINIAN ARRESTED IN EXTORTION PLOT

Notes to Shipbuilder Asked $10,000 and Implied Harm to Family.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A $10,000 extortion plot against Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., was believed by police to have been thwarted today with the arrest of Herbert Young, 44, a former employe of the shipyard.

Threatening notes, asserting that the writer believed the peaceful payment of $10,000 would eliminate the possibility of bloodshed and loss of life that might accompany the hold-up of the First National Bank, of which Mr. Ferguson is president, led to Young's arrest.

While the notes sent through the mails did not actually threaten kidnaping, or harming either of Mr. Ferguson's children who are at their homes here, one of them suggested:

"One of your friends came across, and his children are safe."

Beginning on September 27, three notes were mailed to the Ferguson residence at weekly intervals.

The instructions in a special delivery letter October 13, designated a deserted spot in Warwick County, and a squad of a half-dozen policemen and detectives went to the place "with a package." They said they found Young seated in a car parked not far from the designated spot. He was arrested.

Young steadfastly denied any knowledge of the plot.

Thousands of Cattle Die In Honduras Hurricane

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—As communications with the interior are slowly reestablished, it is developing that the storm which lashed Honduras for five days last week caused heavy damage, particularly in those areas where cattle are raised. Thousands of cattle drowned.

Ranch houses, other small buildings and many bridges were destroyed; power plants, dams and water systems were damaged and the City of Choluteca suffered heavily. It is feared that many persons were killed in the interior districts from which no details have come.

Five Cars of Passenger Train Are Telescoped

Moscow, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Another serious transportation accident occurred tonight when the Black Sea express train was wrecked near Moscow, apparently with heavy casualties.

The train, coming from Sotchi on the Black Sea, crashed into a freight car which had been switched by error to the through tracks at Lublinoff station, 11 kilometers from Moscow. Five cars were telescoped, three of them passenger coaches. Official announcement of the casualties was withheld.

RIDER JUST BEFORE FATAL FALL

J. Temple Gwathmey, well-known hunt meet rider in Washington, photographed just before his mount fell and he was killed at Red Bank, N. J., Saturday. He is on Brown Ruler (No. 5).

RIDER KILLED IN RACE KNOWN TO VIRGINIA

J. Temple Gwathmey, Who Lost Life in Fall, Rode at Meetings There.

J. Temple Gwathmey, who was killed at Red Bank, N. J., Saturday, was a prominent figure in the Green Spring Valley, and hunt meet circles of Virginia, as well as on Long Island. He was secretary of the Aiken Hunt Meeting at Aiken, S. C.

Mr. Gwathmey was killed when his 6-year-old Brown Ruler fell heavily on a jump in a six-horse race over brush. The rider's neck was broken in the fall and he died a few moments later in a nearby hospital.

During his riding career Mr. Gwathmey had suffered injuries on several occasions. While riding his horse, Gun Boat, well out in front in the Blue Riband Chase, a brush race on the card of Piedmont House meeting at the John Jay Whitney estate, near Upperville, last November, he was thrown when his mount fell and he suffered a fractured collar bone. Brown Ruler, the horse he was riding when killed, was also entered in the Blue Riband Chase, but was scratched.

Mr. Gwathmey was the son of the late J. Temple Gwathmey, twice president of the New York Stock Exchange and a noted amateur horseman for whom the United Hunts Racing Associated named the annual J. Temple Gwathmey Memorial Steeplechase at Belmont Park, N. Y., which will be run next week. The senior Gwathmey died in 1924.

The younger Gwathmey is survived by his mother, Mrs. Leila Shortridge Gwathmey, and two brothers, A. B. Gwathmey 2d, and Gaines Gwathmey, of Westbury, Long Island.

Philander Knox, Jr., Put Under Bond as Fugitive

Charged with being a fugitive from justice in Virginia, Philander C. Knox, jr., 43 years old, son of the Secretary of State in the McKinley administration, was held under $1,000 bond in Police Court yesterday.

Judge John P. McMahon was informed by Assistant District Attorney Milford Schwartz that Knox is wanted in King George County, Va., for removing two saddles, a horse and an automobile from his farm after all the property had been attached. Sheriff T. C. Payne, of King George County, is the complainant.

Burglars in Baltimore Lose Clothing in Homes

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—It's getting tough on these suburban burglars here. They're losing too much clothing.

Last week one of them was surprised as he was burgling a Pikesville home, and in his hasty departure he left a pair of shoes he had removed as a matter of precaution. Today, police told of a burglar—the same one, they think—who was chased from a Sudbrook Park home. He left shoes and an overcoat.

LIMIT TO VETERANS' FREE CARE IS URGED

Treatment Regardless of Cause of Injury Rapped at Clinical Congress.

St. Louis, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The Federal Government's policy of providing free treatment at veterans' hospitals for injuries and disabilities bearing no relation to war service was condemned by speakers before the annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, which opened here today.

Addressnig the hospital standardization conference held in conjunction with the congress, Dr. Franklin H. Martin, of Chicago, director general of the college, called attention to the extensive hospital building program of the Veterans' Bureau.

"Soldier patients," he said, "could be properly cared for in their own communities by their own doctors at much less expense to the Government than by the present program."

He cited alleged cases of free Government treatment of dependents of vterans and of "political favorites who had no part in war service."

New York Officials Get Bank Warning

Told Credit "Precipice" Is Near, Board Cuts Own and Other Salaries.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Warned that political developments have pushed the city's credit to the "edge of a precipice," the board of estimates plunged today into the task of slashing next year's budget.

Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the board of the National City Bank, appeared before the board at its morning session and said that unless "real cuts" were made, the already crumbling market for municipal securities "would disappear and the city credit would be destroyed."

Members of the board went out to lunch, came back and promptly took an initial swing at the budget, lopping off $49,750,000 by voting to adopt Comptroller Charles W. Berry's 50-year subway financing plan. Warming to their task, the board members then voted to cut their own salaries along the lines proposed by Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee. Within a space of ten minutes the amount of salary reductions had mounted to almost $3,000,000 and 128 city-owned limousines had been eliminated from the taxpayers' bill.

Mayor Declares Holiday To Aid Banks and Farms

Pendleton, Oreg., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Mayor George R. Lewis today declared a holiday in Pendleton from October 18 to October 29 to aid financial institutions here to meet maturing obligations and at the same time to protect farmers who might be forced to sell wheat at prices below the cost of production.

Such selling, he explained, would cause a complete collapse of the financial structure of the region.

VETERAN PROBLEMS DESCRIBED BY HINES

Legal Advisory Council of Administration Told of Litigation Increase.

The liability of the Government in reference to war risk insurance is now $1,500,000,000, and annual appropriations of $136,000,000 to liquidate these claims are required, Veterans Administrator Frank T. Hines yesterday told the legal advisory council of the Veterans' Administration.

He invited the attention of the council to the "problems confronting the administration with respect to the enormous growth of litigation in the courts in connection with war risk insurance and to the handling of guardianship matters in cooperation with the probate courts of the country.

Insurance claims now pending in the Veterans' Administration and in the courts, Gen. Hines said, aggregate between two and four hundred million dollars. He expressed the opinion that much duplication of effort could be eliminated if such litigation could be vested in a single agency instead of between the Veterans' Administration and the office of the Attorney General.

Those at the two-day conference are Gen. James A. Drain, of Spokane; Joseph McQueen, Kansas City; Bruce W. Sanborn, St. Paul, Minn.; Hazen I. Sawyer, Keokuk, Iowa; Theodore Stitt, Brooklyn, and Paul C. Wolman, Baltimore.

Notorious Gunman Slain by Policeman

Suspect in $2,000,000 Roundout Theft Tried to Kill His Captor.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The bloody career of Cole Oglesby, Texas gunman wanted for bank robbery and murder and involved in the $2,000,000 Roundout, Ill., train robbery of ten years ago, was ended by a policeman's bullet here today.

Officer Jerry Campbell, fired upon as he was taking Oglesby to the police station for investigation as a motor car theft suspect, shot Oglesby four times. The suspect was driving. Campbell said he warned Oglesby to keep both hands on the wheel.

"In another moment he had a gun pushed against my chest," he reported. "I shoved it upward just as he fired and whipped my own gun out."

Campbell fired five shots before Oglesby could shoot again.

Oglesby was wanted in Abilene, Tex., for a killing there August 8, 1928, and in Columbia, Miss., for a bank robbery January 4, 1932. He once was given a five-year suspended sentence for auto theft in Texas.

Hearing on Power Firm Sale Held in Baltimore

Approval of the sale of the Annapolis & Chesapeake Bay Power Co. to the Consolidated Gas & Electric Light Co. of Baltimore was asked at a hearing yesterday before the public service commission in Baltimore. The commission took the matter under consideration and will give a decision later.

The Annapolis company was sold to the Baltimore concern by a receiver on September 30, but later was protested by John R. Riggles, chairman of the public utilities committee of the Prince Georges County Federation of Citizens Associations. Mr. Riggles claimed there was a "gentlemen's agreement" between the two companies before the sale.

Mussolini Scores War Pact Dividing Hungary

Rome, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Again today Premier Mussolini emphasized his dissatisfaction with the peace treaties drawn up at the conclusion of the World War. He told a delegation of Hungarians that treaties inspired by political motives can not be considered eternal and have been condemned by the experience of time.

Referring particularly to the post-war treaty which divided Hungary, the premier said Italy would continue to oppose "violations of justice committed to the detriment of Hungary."

Cuba to Free Dr. Sotolongo.

Havana, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The interior department announced today that Dr. Pedro Herrera Sotolongo, distinguished authority on constitutional law, who was jailed several months ago, would be set free tomorrow. He is expected to leave immediately for the United States.

Boni de Castellane Sinking.

Paris, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Count Boni de Castellane, former husband of Anna Gould, ill of bronchitis after a paralytic stroke, grew steadily weaker tonight, and his family remained at his bedside. Doctors said there was little hope for his recovery.

Typothetae Seeks Freer Trade.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A call for fewer governmental restrictions on business was made today at the opening of the annual convention of the United Typothetae of America by President William Pfaff, of New Orleans.

INSULL CHARGES U.S. PLOT TO KIDNAP HIM

Greece Provides Guards for Fugitive as Americans Issue Denials.

Athens, Greece, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Samuel Insull, wanted in Chicago on charges of grand larceny and embezzlement in connection with the downfall of his utilities interests, called newspaper correspondents together today and informed them he had been warned of a plot by Chicago authorities to kidnap him.

The warning, he said, came to him in a telegram. He declared he considered the entire affair "absolutely preposterous," but explained that he could not afford to ignore it in his present situation.

At the American Legation the kidnap story was characterized as absurd, and assurances were given that the United States would take no improper action in dealing with the Insull case.

Greek authorities, emphasizing that they were confident American officials would not stoop to gangster methods, affirmed that Mr. Insull would have full protection.

Treaty Is Incomplete.

The Chicagoan told the Athens police of the plot warning. Subsequently he consulted with Arthur Page, a London solicitor who has come to Athens to assist Christos Ladas, Greek attorney, in handling his case.

According to Mr. Insull's version of the conspiracy, the plan was to get him away from Athens to a country "more favorable" to the designs of the kidnapers. The fact that the formalities in connection with the Greco-American extradition treaty have not been completed has hampered American attempts to get Mr. Insull back to Chicago.

The utilities man dictated the following statement to the correspondents:

"I never have had the privilege to talk to such a distinguished group of journalists representing such a big amount of circulation.

Never Gave Interviews.

"I have been on this side of the Atlantic since the second week in June and have never given any interview on anything whatsoever for publication to anybody since my arrival in Europe. The only reply I ever have given to any newspaperman has been that I have nothing to say for publication.

"Any interviews that have been published supposedly with me during that period were nothing but fabrication. But now I must break my silence.

"I have just been at the police department and have notified them of the receipt of a telegram which, although it seems to me absolutely preposterous, I can not afford in the present situation not to take cognizance of.

Text of Telegram.

"It does not seem to me possible that such a thing can even be contemplated anywhere where there is orderly government. I have not the slightest fear of its accomplishment even if it is a possibility. The telegram is the following:

"'Have reliable advice Chicago authorities hired four Greek detectives in America to send to Athens to kidnap you and remove you to a country more favorable to their ends. The four have not left America yet, but Chicago believes authorities there may try to arrange for other residents to do this job.' Chicago says this report to be confirmed or otherwise tomorrow.'

"I wish to reiterate," Mr. Insull continued, "that such a thing can not even be a possibility, but I can not afford to sit still and not give publicity to the information I have on this subject.

Claims Trip Was "Regular."

"There has been reference to my 'flight' from Paris. I came to Athens regularly and in an orderly way and stopped two nights on the way. I registered openly under my own name and on my arrival here was particularly anxious to see that my name was registered plainly on the hotel registration form.

"I'm not going to discuss the merits of the controversy which results in my indictment by the Cook County grand jury. That is a legal question and as such it must take its course."

Police assured Mr. Insull that he need not fear kidnaping. They offered to provide him with an escort of as many men as he considered necessary.

Accusations Termed Absurd.

"Mr. Insull's accusations that Chicagoans propose to kidnap him are absurd," said Leland B. Morris, American charge d'affaires. "The American State and Federal authorities will never take steps which are not in accordance with usual and proper practice within the States or in international practice. Mr. Insull can sleep quietly as regards that."

The Greek minister of interior affirmed that the local authorities would enforce the Greek law. He scoffed at any idea that American officials were planning a move outside the bonds of diplomacy.

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The State's attorney's office tonight emphatically denied knowledge of a reputed conspiracy planned to kidnap Samuel Insull from Athens to expedite extradition here to face trial on charges of embezzlement and larceny.

"Such a procedure wouldn't be considered," W. A. Rittenhouse, assistant State's attorney, said. "The reported warning to Insull in Athens that we planned such a thing is absurd."

Test Director of Movies Was Suicide, Jury Says

Los Angeles, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The death of George A. Davidson, test director for a film studio, was called a suicide today by a coroner's jury which heard testimony of Mrs. Constance Smith, wife of a Dallas, Tex., business man, who was in Davidson's apartment when he killed himself.

Davidson's mother, Mrs. George A. Davidson, sr., of New York, who obtained a delay of the inquest by informing authorities that she did not believe her son was a suicide, failed to appear at the proceedings.

Charles Burns Asks Reno Decree.

U. S. COURT DECIDES DUTY AND OIL ISSUES

Review Refused on Federal Power Cost Finding; Hearings Set.

(Associated Press.)

The Supreme Court yesterday dealt with three cases of national importance in a rapid disposal of many actions accumulated during the summer recess.

One case involved the flexible provision of the tariff act, another oil production and the third, power.

While refusing to pass on the validity of the flexible clause of the tariff law, it did agree to decide whether the duty on sodium nitrate raised under it can stand.

In the Clarion River Power Co. action it refused to review a decision by lower courts declining to prohibit the Federal Power Commission from fixing original costs and net investments of hydroelectric power developments operating under Federal licenses. The commission will thus be free to make for its own use such valuations.

Oil-Curb Case Set.

The court announced it would hear, on November 14, such argument as Gov. Sterling of Texas desired to offer in support of his contention that he had the right to use State troops to restrict the production of oil in the east Texas fields, the controversy involving the question of what steps States may legally take to restrict what they consider "waste" in oil production.

Regulatory power of States over motor vehicles operating in Interstate Commerce will come before the court in another case from Texas advanced yesterday for oral argument on November 14.

Chicago property owners challenging taxes on real estate in Cook County on the ground personal property does not bear its fair proportion of the tax burden were denied a hearing by the court.

Review of Its Decision.

The court took an unusual step in agreeing to review its decision of last term in which it had set aside an injunction obtained by the investors syndicate of Minneapolis, Minn., to prevent the Montana State auditor and investment commissioner from modifying the conditions under which holders of its investment certificates could cancel their subscriptions.

H. Leslie Parker, of Wyoming, was refused a review by the court of his contention he was entitled as the owner of land in the Salt Creek oil fields to divide the millions which he claimed Harry F. Sinclair had made out of the sale of stock in connection with the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve lease, subsequently canceled by the courts.

Technical research experts employed by the United States will learn from the court through a review granted yesterday whether the Government is entitled to patents on their inventions made in the course of their regular employment.

Stock Issue Review.

A phase of the policy of many large industrial and commercial concerns to issue stock to employes at prices lower than the market arising out of the issuance of such stock by the American Tobacco Co. was granted a review yesterday in an action claiming officers of that company had been unduly favored.

Many of the cases in which the court yesterday refused to grant reviews involve convictions under the Federal prohibition law and numerous questions arising under the Federal income tax laws.

In all the court acted on 140 cases, granting reviews in 23, refusing to further consider 117. Last week it granted 50 reviews and disposed of 140 more, mostly by refusing reviews. This leaves for further action, probably next Monday, about 40 cases in which the court must decide whether it will grant or refuse reviews before the accumulation will be entirely removed.

It had been generally expected the court would yesterday decide the Mississippi congressional redistricting case, but it did not. It may do so before a recess is taken next Monday until November 7.

Supreme Court Refuses To Review Bank Case

The Supreme Court yesterday refused to review a decision of the District Court of Appeals in which the North Capitol Savings Bank was freed from liability to Charles D. Kenney for checks cashed by his bookkeeper, Neil A. Yeager, amounting to $7,000.

Yeager admitted to Kenney that he had indorsed his checks and cashed them. He brought suit in the District Supreme Court, holding that Yeager had no authority to cash checks, but had authority to indorse them for deposit. The bank was awarded the verdict, which was sustained by the District Court of Appeals.

Five Children Drowned As Car Falls Into River

Glen Miller, Ontario, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Five children were drowned today when an automobile driven by George Conkwright, of Glen Miller, plunged into Trent River near here.

Those drowned were a 7-year-old son of Conkwright and four children of Archie Wickens. Conkwright and his wife and the Wickens parents, who were in the machine, escaped. Wickens was injured. The bodies of the children were recovered.

Motorship Radioes Urgent Call for Aid

Vessel Not Listed in Marine Records Reports Distress Off Bermuda.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The Radio Marine Corporation received a distress message tonight from a motorship giving its name as the Tanamakoon, with the call letters LJW. No ship by that name is listed in Lloyd's or the Maritime registers and the R. M. C. said no such call letters were assigned to any vessel.

The message, as picked up by the radio station at Chatham, Mass., at 8:30 p. m., was as follows:

"Motorship Tanamakoon, position 33:03 north, 65:56 west, propellor shaft broken, drifting northwestward, now 80 miles northwest of Bermuda with only three days' supply of fresh water. Require immediate assistance. Can transmit by radio only on 65 meters and receive from 35 to 75 meters. Please have help sent from Bermuda and report to Montreal home port."

The message was signed "Master."

PUGSLEY INSTITUTE STARTED AT W. & M.

Newspaper Man Sees Possible Clash of Filipino and Manchuria Problems.

Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Opening the Chester D. Pugsley Institute of International Affairs at the college of William and Mary tonight, Harry W. Frantz, of the United Press foreign department, said the League of Nations' deliberations on the Lytton commission Manchurian report will have an untimely coincidence with Senate deliberations on the Philippines independence bill.

Mr. Frantz, who for ten years has covered Territorial and insular affairs at the Nation's Capital, pointed out that the international status of the Philippines, of and when independent, has already been recognized in the Senate as probably the most difficult single problem in the formation of a counterplan to the Hare bill approved in the House by a 306-to-47 vote.

The league's deliberations on the Lytton report will begin November 14, and Senate deliberations on the independence bill are scheduled to commence December 5.

Will Intensify Uncertainty.

"The international views regarding the Manchurian situation, soon to be aired at Geneva, will under any circumstances intensify an atmosphere of uncertainty regarding many phases of Far Eastern affairs at Washington," the speaker said in the institute's initial address.

Asserting that Geneva deliberations tend to affect the Senate's decision on the Philippines in several ways, Frantz said:

"Some senators of each party are of the opinion that approval of the independence at any fixed date should be accompanied by a general treaty among Pacific countries, or a series of bilateral treaties to safeguard neutrality. * * *."

"Japan's hints of possible withdrawal from the league in the event that the Lytton report precipitates a situation to her disinterest would in all probability raise future questions at Geneva under the ultimate and definite sovereignty of ex-German islands in the Pacific now under the mandate of Japan," he added.

Many Diplomats Present.

Concluding his discussion of Philippines legislation, Mr. Frantz said:

"If events at Geneva tend to restore confidence in the League of Nations covenant, the Kellogg Pact, and other peace instruments; and if confidence and stability are restored in the Far East, the international status of the Philippines will not present an insuperable problem; if, however, the present intranquillity continues, some observers at Washington see a future 'dominion status' or 'free State' as the maximum goal likely to be attained by those seeking to facilitate the political evolution of the Philippines."

The institute was opened with addresses of welcome by Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, president of the college, and Mr. Pugsley, founder of the institute.

An open forum followed Mr. Frantz's discussion of the Philippine situation.

Among the diplomats attending the session were: Mr. Ales Broz, secretary of the Czechoslovakian Legation; Dr. Ken-Shen Weigh, of the Chinese Legation; R. C. Ruggieri, of the Italian Embassy; Dr. Andrei Popovici, secretary of the Roumanian Legation; Sesostris Sidarousa Pasha, Egyptian Minister; Dr. Berislav Angjelinovitch, of the Jugoslav Legation, and Dr. Nillo Idman, secretary of the Finnish Legation.

The institute will continue three days.

Floating, Nonsinkable Duck Blind to Be Shown

A practical demonstration of a floating, nonsinkable duck blind will be given at 4 o'clock today in the Potomac River near Thirty-first and K streets northwest. The hunter's device is the invention of Dr. Charles Hunt, of 3604 New Hampshire avenue northwest.

Dr. Hunt claims a number of innovations for gunners who use his invention. A number of shooting enthusiasts are expected to be present at the demonstration.

COL. W. C. FISHER RITES TODAY

Former Head of Army Dental Corps to Be Buried in Arlington.

thority to go before committees of Congress to speak for the Government worker."

Addressing the opening business session of the Federal employes earlier yesterday at the Hamilton Hotel, President Green charged withdrawal of the National Federation of Federal Employes was brought about by leaders of the latter group "through misrepresentation and fraud."

Pursues Same Objectives.

He indicated the new organization will fight for the same objectives espoused by the National Federation of Federal Employes, including satisfactory classification, restoration of pay levels, improved retirement legislation and the five-day week without cost to the Federal employe.

David R. Glass, president of the new federation, addressed last night's banquet, outlining the organization's aims and reviewing its origin. He was introduced by Director John Arthur Shaw, of the Veterans Employment Service, as toastmaster. Delegates were welcomed by Michael D. Schaeffer, president of the District of Columbia department of the new federation.

Six committees were appointed last night by President Glass, headed by the following chairmen: Rules committee, Mr. Shaw; legislation committee, Miss Ethel M. Smith; credentials committee, Miss Sophie Weber; subcommittee on the economy act, William S. Douglass; subcommittee for miscellaneous, Miss Imogene Williford; and subcommittee on classification, Ira D. Scott.

About 100 delegates attended the opening session. Business meetings will resume at 10 o'clock this morning.

Berlin U. Declines to Stop Pay of Einstein, Quitting

Suggests He Might Use Money for Scholarship if He Insists on Being Replaced Because of His New Work in U. S.

Berlin, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Prof. Albert Einstein has attempted to surrender his salary and terminate his contract with the University of Berlin because of his new obligations in the United States, the Jewish Telegraphic Agency reported today, but the government refused to permit him.

The professor suggested that he be replaced on the university faculty—thus saving the Prussian state the amount of his salary—because in the future he will have to spend five month of each year at the Institute for Advanced Study in the United States and another month in England.

The Prussian government declined to stop his salary, suggesting that if he still wished to give it up the money might be used to establish an Einstein scholarship at his disposal.

German newspapers gave generous publicity to the professor's address yesterday, in which he said that the earth probably was about 10,000,000,000 years old, instead of the fairly generally accepted 3,000,000,000. The feeling was that the lecture was Prof. Einstein's last public appearance before his departure for the United States and it took on added significance from that fact.

In further explanation of his theory, Prof. Einstein said today:

"Expansion must have begun 10,000,000,000 years ago. As, however, the earth's solid crust alone is already 1,000,000,000 years old, it is a matter of speculation whether the beginning of the expansion of matter does not more or less coincide with the birthday of the earth and the planetary system."

Dunkards to Hold Foot-Washing Rite

Ancient Love Feast to Be Observed in Virginia Church Saturday.

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., Oct. 17.—Harking back 300 years ago to its original observance in Switzerland, the annual Dunkard Love Feast will be held next Saturday at Mount Zion Church, 4 miles south of Luray, known as the "Mother Dunkard Church in Page County," having been built nearly 100 years ago.

The Love Feast, embracing the holy kiss and foot washing ordinances, will take place in the hollow square in the center of the edifice. In the ceremonies the male and female membership divide, women washing women's feet, sealing the act with a kiss. The ordinance is likewise observed by the men. The ceremony starts with one of the older members performing the rite, followed in turn by the entire membership.

Mount Zion Church is built after the style of the ancient Roman amphitheater, seats radiating to the ceiling from the central hollow square. The church has the largest number of ministers of any denomination in Page County, including Elders H. E. Wakeman, D. Walter Strickler, J. W. Comer, E. L. Cave, H. P. Sours, A. G. Cubbage, Joseph Caricofe, J. M. Foster, C. L. Painter and D. N. Spitler.

Citizen Is Indicted In Alley Dispute

Maintaining of Nuisance Is Charged by Prince Georges Jury.

One of the most unusual indictments ever returned in Prince Georges County Circuit Court was among the last lot returned by the current grand jury, which charged Price P. Myers with "creating a public nuisance by maintaining a barrier across a public alley."

The true bill is the outcome of a dispute between Myers and the Town of Mount Rainier, which claims as an alley land Myers says is his.

Fifteen liquor indictments were among the last to be returned by the jury. They put charges of possession against Frank Raymond, Milton Rowe, William Nichols, Frederick Radtke, Douglas Butler, Eddie Greeno, Governor Brookens (two indictments), Ernest J. McDonald, Vincent J. Pokomey, Elmer C. Wheatley, Samuel Jeffries, Romolo J. Gentilucci, Edward Gross, jr., and James Hammond.

Albemarle Park Lands Exceptions Are Filed

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 17.—The State Commission on Conservation and development has filed with the clerk of Albemarle County exceptions to the prices fixed by its appraisers for park lands in the county. So far as known here, this is the only county in which the commission has taken such action.

Now that the commission is about ready to buy the park area, it is said the money in sight to make the purchase is much less than needed, and a great deal of trimming will have to be done in making the purchase. Land in the park area is costing much more than was estimated at the outset of the undertaking by the valuations placed by the commission's own appraisers.

Winchester Politician On Trial in Assaults

Winchester, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Boyd R. Richards, former State legislator and prominent member of Winchester political circles, today went on trial on indictments charging attempted attacks on two minors. He pleaded not guilty. Two jury panels were drawn before twelve acceptable jurors were chosen.

Judge Philip Williams, presiding, ordered the corporation courtroom cleared and announced that under authority of the State juvenile law he would forbid publication of any testimony and also names of witnesses.

3 United Fruit Company Ships to Be Overhauled

Newport News, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Officials of the Newport News Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. announced today that the shipyard had been awarded a contract for overhauling three United Fruit Co. ships. The contract price is said to be approximately $90,000.

The Parismina, first ship to be overhauled, will arrive here next Monday and work will be started immediately. Several days later the Cartago and the Heredia will be brought here. The entire job is to be completed in about four weeks.

EINSTEIN EARTH AGE THEORY UNACCEPTED

Scientists Here Ask Greater Specification on 10-Billion-Year Estimate.

(Associated Press.)

Government scientists yesterday were unwilling to accept Prof. Albert Einstein's latest statement that the earth is 10,000,000,000 years old.

The learned German scientist failed to specify, they pointed out, whether he meant the earth had aged 10,000,000,000 years since it first came into existence—probably as a mass thrown off from the sun—or whether that amount of time had elapsed since the earth solidified. It makes a difference.

Einstein said the earth probably saw the beginning of the expansion of the universe, which he estimates took place 10,000,000,000 years ago, but did not indicate, according to reports of his statement, what state he thought the earth was in at that time. The expansion—measured by the apparent outward motion of star clouds out in space—seems to be taking place like a swelling soap bubble at the rate of 12,500 miles a second.

Einstein's estimate of the earth's age brings into prominence a question on which scientists still disagree. The National Research Council gives the earth's age as about 2,000,000,000 years, but others think this is too short.

The first rains fell 1,500,000,000 years ago, geologists estimate, which would leave only 500,000,000 years out of the total of two billion for the earth to cool down from the original mass of hot gas or liquid and from the 30-mile thick crust that existed when the rains began. Many scientists think the cooling-down process must have taken much more than 500,000,000 years, perhaps many billions.

The question of how the earth was born may shed some light on its age. Sir James Jeans, famous British astronomer, holds that all space once was filled with a tenuous mass of gas that "coagulated" into many smaller masses. These spinning furiously, threw off other masses of gas that became the stars and our sun. The earth and other planets, they contend, were thrown off from the sun, perhaps as a result of a collision between the sun and another speeding star.

Religious Rebellion Plot Is Frustrated

Mexican Police Capture Military Equipment and Press.

Mexico City, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Police authorities announced today they had frustrated plans for a widespread religious rebellion in the state of Jalisco by raiding a house at Guadalajara.

The police seized the house after a battle lasting an hour in which two of the alleged plotters were killed. Several others escaped. The authorities said they found a large quantity of rifles, pistols, ammunition, dynamite bombs, field equipment, a printing press and considerable printed matter urging the rebellion.

One of the men killed was Juan Rincon Pregoso who, the police said, participated in the bloody religious rebellion in Jalisco from 1926 to 1929. His papers, the authorities asserted, revealed that he was to be a general in a new movement.

Son of Gen. Howard Named Librarian of 'Y'

Capt. C. O. Howard, son of Gen. O. O. Howard, of Indian and Civil War fame, has been appointed librarian of the Washington Young Men's Christian Association, it was announced by Leonard W. DeGast, general secretary, at a membership campaign rally at the Central Y. M. C. A. last night.

Capt. Howard, who has been a member of the local Y. M. C. A. for 50 years, will have supervision of the collection of historical data pertaining to early days of the association and its leaders. Loss by fire of original records concerning the founding and early progress of the Y. M. C. A. in Washington has made it necessary for association officials to consult contemporary reports and publications in order to fill out the void.

Capital Chamber Will Honor Press

Arthur Brisbane to Address Newspapermen's Meeting Tomorrow Night.

Tribute to the newspaper profession will be paid by Washington business men at the National Press night meeting of the Washington Chamber of Commerce at the Mayflower Hotel tomorrow, at which local newspapermen will be guests of honor.

Arthur Brisbane, editor and columnist, will be the principal speaker. A special musical program will be given by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. Glee Club.

New officers of the chamber, including a president, first vice president, second vice president and ten directors, will be elected at the meeting.

Blame in Dry-Raid Slayings Disputed

State and Federal Officers Accuse Each Other in 2 Kentucky Deaths.

Bowling Green, Ky., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Federal and State officers today blamed each other for the clash near Russellville Saturday night in which a Federal prohibition investigator and a deputy sheriff were killed.

They appeared to be in agreement, however, that Frank A. Mather, 49, the prohibition investigator, and Bluch Soyars, 57, a special deputy sheriff, shot each other, but the Federal authorities arrested three others in the Russellville officers' group and released them in $10,000 bond each.

The men, Mike McKendree, Russellville chief of police; Dick Taylor, Russellville policeman, and Jack Kemp, a deputy sheriff, were charged in the Federal warrants with conspiracy to rescue Federal prisoners, conspiracy to prevent Federal officers from doing their duty and conspiracy to take seized property from the custody of Federal officers.

The shooting affray occurred in front of a Negro cabin on the outskirts of Russellville where Federal officers had corralled eight persons charged with prohibition law violations. The prisoners escaped in the melee, but were rounded up Sunday by Federal investigators, aided by Sheriff George C. Russell. Three Federal men, who were arrested after the shooting, were released Sunday when county officials decided no one except Soyars and Mather fired.

FORT ASKS LENDING AGENCIES TO ASSIST

Chairman of Home Loan Board Points Out Local Responsibility.

(Associated Press.)

The hope that mutual lending agencies will do "the job which is rightfully theirs—by lifting with the funds collected from the neighborhood, the threat to any neighbor"—was expressed last night in a radio address by Chairman Fort, of the Home Loan Bank board. Pausing to praise "the fine and unselfish spirit" of local directors of the banks, Fort said in part:

"At last, the mortgage lending institutions of America have a central reservoir of credit with $134,000,000 of capital and expansion possibilities through the issuance of bonds which make their minimum ultimate size at least $1,500,000,000.

"At last, the Federal Reserve System for commercial banks and the Federal Land Bank System for farm mortgage lending institutions have been supplemented, thanks to President Hoover's vision and persistence, with a system to supply funds primarily for the urban home ownership.

"Conditions in the mortgage market have been deplorable this past year. The great mutual thrift organizations—the building and loan associations, insurance companies and savings banks—have suffered, along with the commercial banks, extraordinary demands for money. * * *

"No longer does any excuse exist for a continuance of this situation. The home loan banks are open. If lending organizations will not do their duty now—if they do not join this great national system and, relying upon its aid, relax the abnormal tension in the real estate and building markets—then the home loan banks have the power to make direct loans up to 40 per cent of the value of the property. But we hope and confidently believe that now that we are open for business, the great mutual lenders * * * will prove their mutuality of character by doing the job which is rightfully theirs—by lifting with the funds collected from the neighborhood, the threat to any neighbor. * * *"

Marine Corporal Marries Heiress

Anna Elizabeth Hartel, of Philadelphia, Bride of Kentuckian.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The marriage of Miss Anna Elizabeth Hartel, daughter and heiress to the fortune of the late Mrs. Walter W. Hartel, Merion, Pa., and Cape May, N. J., society woman, and Corpl. Austin Speed 22, of the U. S. Marine Corps, was revealed today.

Mrs. Speed, who is prominent in the younger society circles here, confirmed reports of the marriage at her Wynnfield suburban home. She said the ceremony was performed in Media, near here, on October 6.

Marriage license records showed the bridegroom gave his home address as Louisville, Ky., and said he was stationed at the marine base at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. The records showed his parents were Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Speed, of Louisville. Mrs. Speed said she had been engaged to Speed for some time, and the marriage was to have taken place "eventually anyhow."

CHESTNUT FARMS

Special Milk

A VERY Special Value!

A "SPECIAL" VALUE, because it's produced by tuberculin-tested herds inspected regularly by the District Health Department. A "Special" Value because it's perfectly pasteurized by the World's Model Dairy, which for the past ten years and eight months, every month but four, has been awarded the highest general rating of Washington's five largest dairies.

A "Special" Value . . . because, beginning this week, all Chestnut Farms bottles, whether milk, cream or buttermilk in quarts, pints or half-pints, will be covered with Seal-Kaps—assuring complete protection of the pouring lip from dust, dirt and exposure. By actual canvass, 95 out of every 100 customers preferred Seal-Kaps.

And it's a "Special" Value because it's one of the most economical foods you can buy. It is rich, concentrated nourishment—containing 34 of the 36 food elements essential to health—yet it costs but 13c a quart.

FRENCH OCCUPATION OF BALEARICS SEEN

Spain Would "Lend" Islands in Event of War, Is Entente Goal.

London, Oct. 17 (U.P.).—An entente between France and Spain providing for French occupation of the strategic Balearic Islands in the Mediterranean in the event of a threat of war with either Italy or Germany was predicted by diplomats here today.

The Balearics are considered the most strategic location in the Mediterranean, and if Spain decides to "lend" them to France, such an agreement would definitely align the two nations in the event of hostilities.

Premier Edouard Herriot's forthcoming visit to Spain is understood to be motivated mainly by his desire to negotiate such an agreement with the Spanish republic, with the probability that it would involve economic concessions between the two nations.

Opposition Likely.

Both Great Britain and Italy undoubtedly would oppose French occupation of the Balearics. Great Britain would be deeply concerned in view of her traditional zealousness in guarding empire communications through the Suez Canal.

There has been recent evidence that the Spanish Republic has been desirous of entering an entente with France in order to nullify the effects of the treaty between Spain and Italy signed during Primo de Rivera's dictatorship and while Alfonso was still on the throne. A secret clause of that treaty provided that Spain would side with Italy in case Italy became involved in warfare. The Republican government has since repudiated that clause and since that repudiation, relations between Spain and Italy have been cool.

Support Noted at Geneva.

Spanish support of Frener policies at Geneva likewise have been noted and naturally would increase greatly if the entente were signed. Spain, however, probably would not accept Herriot's entire disarmament plans, especially for the establishment of an arsenal in Spain. It is remarked that even the matter of transportation would be difficult, inasmuch as Spanish railroads are of a wider gauge than other European lines.

The problem of Franco-Spanish economic concessions is considered difficult since Spain needs to sell wines and fruits, while France herself is a producer of wines and fruits.

If Herriot achieves the agreement, it is considered likely that it will be ratified when President Alcala Zamora visits France.

E. P. HAZELTON FUNERAL.

Masons Will Conduct Rites Today for 73-Year-Old Merchant.

Funeral services for Edward P. Hazelton, 73, of 4423 Bowen road southeast, merchant in Washington for 36 years, who died Sunday after a long illness, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the Bradbury Heights Church, followed by interment with Masonic rites, in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

A native of Hudson, N. Y., Mr. Hazelton came to Washington in 1895. He was a member of the Masonic order and for sixteen years was inspector of the Knights Templar. Besides his wife he is survived by a son, Frank; two daughters, Miss Aileen Hazelton and Mrs. A. E. Davidson, and a sister, Mrs. Melbourne Morse, of Cohoes, N. Y.

RITES FOR W. W. SCOTT.

Funeral of Retired I. C. C. Employe to Be at Silver Spring Today.

Funeral services will be held today for W. W. Scott, for 40 years an employe of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who died in Silver Spring, Md., Sunday morning. Services will be held this morning at 9 o'clock at the home of his brother-in-law, Maj. W. S. Sheets, where Mr. Scott died, and at 2 o'clock in Upperville, Va., where the body will rest.

Mr. Scott, a bachelor, retired from the Commerce Commission July 1, after a series of extensions of service. He was born in Upperville 74 years ago, of an old Virginia family. Mr. Scott is survived by a brother, Magistrate H. M. Scott, of Laurel, Md., and his sister, Mrs. Sheets.

M. T. DOUGHERTY RITES.

Mass Will Be Said Thursday at St. Peter's Church.

Funeral services for Maurice T. Dougherty, 50, plumbing contractor, who was suffocated in a fire early Sunday, which partially destroyed his summer cottage at North Beach, Md., will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at the residence of his sister, Miss Mamie Dougherty, 725 Virginia avenue southeast, followed by requiem mass at St. Peter's Church. Interment will take place in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Mr. Dougherty, who is unmarried, made his home at 647 I street southeast and had lived in Washington most of his life. A brother, John, died two months ago.

FREDERICK KRICHELT RITES

Washington Man Died in Auto on Way to Register for Voting.

Funeral services for Frederick W. Krichelt, 65, of 2105 I street northwest, who died Saturday near Geneva, N. Y., while riding in an automobile, will be held at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow at Joseph Gawler's funeral home, followed by interment in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Mr. Kritchelt, who had been a resident of Washington for many years, was attached to the Veterans Administration here. He was on the way to Rochester, N. Y., to register for voting when he collapsed.

Girl Swapped for Mules Is Shot by Her Admirer

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Louise Green, 16, whose story that three years ago her father swapped her to Ed Green, 45, for a team of mules, was the subject of court litigation and several clashes between the two families, was shot and wounded late today by another man.

William Perrifo, 23, surrendered, and, according to police, said he shot the girl with a shotgun and did so "because I loved her; I did so because I wanted to, and I don't care if they give me 99 years." Police Chief Ben S. Winfree said Perrifo told him he and the girl had been living together. The girl was taken to a hospital here.

INDICTMENTS FOUND BY ARLINGTON JURY

Variety of Offenses Charged in True Bills Handed to Judge McCarthy.

The grand jury at the opening of the October term of the circuit court of Arlington County, with Judge Walter T. McCarthy on the bench, returned the following indictments:

George Augustus, alias George Gustus, charged with housebreaking. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Paul McGraw, Paul Pettitt and Raymond Courtney, also charged with housebreaking. Pettitt and Courtney are fugitives.

Edward L. Folliard, charged with feloniously and unlawfully killing Robert Barham July 30 in an automobile crash.

William Jackson, charged with shooting Norris Whiting. Pleading guilty, he was given a sentence of three years in the penitentiary by the court.

Homer Hooks and Charles Miller charged with violation of the prohibition law. Miller pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in the county jail in addition to a fine of $5.

Samuel Marshal, charged with stabbing one Howard Byrd.

Two indictments against Albert Turner and William Lowry on charges of housebreaking. Turner is 17 years old and Lowry is 18. The court sentenced the pair to the Reform School until they are 21. Turner, in addition, was indicted on charges of attempting to murder County Policeman James Scott the night of September 10, when the pair were arrested. Trial in this case was set for November 4 by the court.

Others indicted on charges of a felony were Robert Brown and John Pelham.

Roger Orrison, former county policeman, and M. O. Peed, charged with obtaining $100 from James L. Cannon by false pretenses.

G. E. Wilson New Head Of Accokeek P.-T. A.

G. E. Wilson, of Aecokeek, Md., has been elected president of the Oxon Hill Parent-Teacher Association, with Mrs. Charles E. Janes chosen vice president. Other new officers are Miss Evelyn Berry, recording secretary; Stanley Hagan, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William H. Cusick, treasurer.

An executive committee, headed by the president, was appointed to consist of the following from the districts served by the school: Mrs. William G. Breen, Oxon Hill; Mrs. Harry Andre, Barnaby; Mrs. Cleveland Kirby, Fort Foote; William F. Taylor, Friendly; George Taylor, Silesia; Mrs. Austin Adams, Fort Washington; Frank Underwood, Piscataway, and Mrs. G. E. Wilson, Accokeek.

Full Mayoralty Term To Be Aim of O'Brien

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Surrogate John P. O'Brien, Democratic candidate for the unexpired term of former Mayor James J. Walker, today announced his intention of being a candidate for a full mayoralty term at the election next year.

"O'Brien is not a stop-gap for any mayor," the surrogate said. "I'm going to be Mayor of New York City. While I'm there I am going to so conduct myself and roll up such a record that there will be a general acclaim for my election next November."

LIEUT. LIPMAN RITES TODAY

Services and Military Burial Will Be in Arlington Cemetery.

Funeral services for Lieut. Solomon M. Lipman, U. S. A., who died Sunday at Walter Reed Hospital after a short illness, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in Arlington National Cemetery, followed by a military burial.

Lieut. Lipman was graduated from the U. S. Military Academy in 1918. He was born in Basset, Nebr., in 1895. He served through the World War and was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant in 1923. He is survived by his father, Mark Lipman, of Basset.

ing of the motion and the arguments be continued until the December term to await a State Supreme Court decision which might result in a change in ownership of the funds. Judge McCarthy refused the request. In setting tomorrow, Judge McCarthy stated that the defense has had plenty of time for preparation of its case.

The case of F. J. Hallock, former clerk to the County School Board, who stands indicted on charges of misuse of public funds, was continued to the December term by the court.

BUCHAREST CABINET QUITS IN SOVIET ROW

King Carol Summons Head of National Peasant Party for Conference.

Bucharest, Roumania, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The bitter controversy between Nicholas Titulescu and Premier Alexander Vaida-Voevod over Roumania's policy toward Soviet Russia finally resulted today in the resignation of the premier's government.

King Carol, confronted during his birthday week-end with the embarrassing choice of throwing either M. Vaida-Voevod or M. Titulescu overboard, decided to drop the premier. Since Friday M. Vaida-Voevod had been offering to resign but the king had hoped to arrive at a compromise.

A conference this afternoon made it clear that there was no possibility of M. Titulescu and the premier working together, and thereupon the king accepted the government's resignation.

Carol summoned Dr. Juliu Maniu, leader of the National Peasant party, and also former Minister of the Interior Ion Michalake to his palace at Sinaia for a conference.

M. Titulescu, who had been offered the foreign portfolio, resigned recently as minister to Great Britain. He has been a consistent opponent of proposals for a nonaggression pact with Russia advocated by M. Vaida-Voevod.

Plane Crash Victims Identified.

Blairstown, N. J., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The bodies of two men found in a wrecked monoplane in the Kittatinny Mountains near Milbrook were identified today as William Ward Brunner, of Duke Center, Pa., and Harry C. Johnson, of Emporium, Pa. Both men were licensed pilots. Their ship bore the license No. NC-513-W. The plane crashed in a fog yesterday.

16-Foot Building Line Set For Takoma Park Street

The Takoma Park, Md., Town Council last night rescinded a former building regulation and established 16 feet as the official building line for Carroll avenue so the Citizens Bank can go ahead with construction of its new building.

The bank had notified the council that the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission had refused to grant a permit because of the earlier ruling. The council adopted a resolution asking the planning commission to establish 16 feet as the standard building line for Carroll avenue.

The council directed the clerk to forward a letter to the county commissioners asking that the attention of Senator Millard E. Tydings be called to the slow progress on the Fern street underpass and asking that he use his good offices in securing faster work. The council discussed at length drainage problems resulting from the underpass construction but took no definite action.

Peter Remsen, chairman of the streets committee, reported that collection of ashes in the town will begin tomorrow. The annual auditor's report was presented and Mayor Frederick L. Lewton pointed out the payment of $36,000 which has retired all outstanding bonded indebtedness of the town.

Irvine H. Ware, J. Wilson Dodd, clerk, and H. E. Adams were appointed delegates to the Montgomery County Civic Federation and former Assistant District Attorney Joseph C. Bruce and Chester C. Waters were appointed alternates. Bids for printing of town police regulations in loose leaf form for sale at cost to the general public were asked at the meeting.

Men Row Over Court Case and Draw Fines

Two men who held differing opinions on a case tried in Laurel Police Court yesterday found themselves in the court after their argument, carried on outside the doors, had become too acrimonious. They gave their names as M. E. Bandler and Albert Goldberg, and each was fined $1 for disorderly conduct.

Frank W. Martin, of 2131 O street northwest, was sentenced to 101 days in jail when he was unable to pay a fine of $101 imposed for driving while drunk and reckless driving.

Leader in Prison Break Gets Life.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Archie (Cueball) Jones, bank robber who led a prison break at Tucker State Farm last August 4, in which four men were killed, pleaded guilty today to the murder of a trusty guard, Else Howell, 24, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Three Men Are Sought In Attacks on Women

Two white men and a colored man, believed to be race track followers, are being sought by Prince Georges County police after three assaults on women in Laurel over the week-end. Robbery appeared to be the motive of the attacks, although money was taken in only one instance.

Saturday night Miss Alice McCullough, a retired school teacher, was robbed of $1.75 and beaten by the three men. Sunday night, the men, after asking Margaret Watkins to accompany them to a nearby resort, beat her when she refused. Later the same night they attacked Miss Annie Wilson, beat her severely and left her behind a clump of bushes near her home. None of the women was seriously hurt.

LUTHERANS REFORM CHURCH'S FINANCING

Questionable Methods Voted Down at Convention in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Use of "questionable" methods for financing congregational work was condemned today by delegates to the eighth biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America, but specification of card parties, dancing and games of chance in this connection was voted down.

A revised recommendation of the Board of American Missions condemning the raising of church funds except by the "scriptural method" of voluntary and free-will giving was adopted by the convention after considerable debate.

"The time has come for a showdown on this question," said the Rev. Dr. J. George F. Blaesi, of Boorklyn, N. Y. "The church has forfeited her respect in the eyes of thinking men because we preach one thing and do another. If the church is to continue to raise funds by methods that transgress the laws of the State of New York and others, the day is not far off when every criminal will be able to point to the church for vindication of his acts."

The delegates approved the proposal to merge the three Lutheran synods of Canada. At the request of the Manitoba Synod, a survey of the astituation in the dominion was made by the United Lutheran Church in America, and its commission recommended that the effort toward union be encouraged. The survey was conducted by the Rev. Drs. Ellis B. Burgess and Ernst A. Tappert, both of New York, and the Rev. Dr. Gould Wickey, of Washington, D. C.

The two other Canadian synods involved are the Synod of Canada and the Nova Scotia Synod.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"
THE STRIPED TIGER
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal artist, Paul Bransom... inspired by the savage ferocity of the striped tiger, known throughout the world as the terror of the jungle. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies
—that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"

Mother Kills Two Children And Self to Free Husband

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Rather than stand in the way of her husband's love for another women, a young and comely matron took her own life and that of her two children today.

"She did it because of her love for him," said District Attorney Elvin Edwards, of Nassau County, who thus reconstructed the tragedy disclosed with the discovery by Guy Phillips, dramatic coach, of the bodies of his wife and two children in the gas-filled Phillips home in Woodmere, on the southern Long Island shore.

Phillips, 35 years old, had been named defendant less than two weeks ago in a $50,000 alienation suit filed by Joseph Seltzer, a salesman, also a resident of suburban Woodmere. Phillips was free in $1,500 bail in connection with the suit.

Last night, the district attorney learned, Mrs. Seltzer was a dinner guest at the Phillips home, at which he said plans were discussed for divorces in both families so that Phillips and Mrs. Seltzer could marry. Seltzer was said to have been invited to the dinner conference, but declined.

One of the last things Mrs. Phillips said at the dinner, the district attorney said, was:

"Make up your mind what you want to do and don't change it."

NORRIS ON ROOSEVELT.

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, who holds office under the false pretense of being a Republican, delivered a speech at Philadelphia last night, telling the voters of Pennsylvania that the curse of that State is partisanship—Republican partisanship, of course. It was a brilliant piece of strategy to send the leading backslider of the country to upbraid the most ardent Republican partisans for their party loyalty. Senator Norris based his plea upon the theory that elections are held for the purpose of allowing every man to express his free will. Therefore, he intimates there should be no parties, or at least there should be no loyalty. But what would have become of Senator Norris if there had not been a party to betray? How could he have become a senator if not by masquerading as a Republican in a Republican State?

"There is nothing sacred about a political party," sagely observes the pseudo-Republican of Nebraska. "It is only an instrumentality." Yes, in the minds of some men it is only an instrumentality by means of which they can obtain public office. After they have used this instrumentality for their personal advantage they can discard it.

Senator Norris referred to his scheme to abolish the electoral college. He wishes to have the people vote direct for President, as they vote for senators—and see what they have now! He intimated that Gov. Roosevelt is in favor of doing away with the electoral college. Thus, perhaps another "improvement" will be made to the Constitution, following the so-called lame duck amendment sponsored by Senator Norris. This amendment is now in process of ratification by State legislatures. The "lame-duck" feature of the amendment is the only one that attracts public attention, but in due time, if adopted, the Norris amendment will lead to a deadlock over the Presidency and a possible vacancy in the presidential office. In that event the people of the United States will have good cause to remember Senator Norris as a constitution-mender.

The Nebraska senator devoted much of his Philadelphia speech to reading extracts from remarks by public men who once opposed Herbert Hoover and who are now supporting him. They are guilty of the crime of partisanship—a crime of which the Nebraska senator can not be guilty, because of his inability to remain loyal to any party.

Senator Norris praised Theodore Roosevelt, saying, "his party name was nothing sacred," and then praised Franklin D. Roosevelt as "another Roosevelt who stands for practically the same things." "He calls himself a Democrat," added Senator Norris, "but that means little, if anything, to the patriotic voter."

What will Democrats say to that libel upon Franklin D. Roosevelt's loyalty to the Democratic party? By what right does Senator Norris describe Gov. Roosevelt as a man who may throw off his loyalty to his party as readily as does the Nebraska turncoat himself? "He calls himself a Democrat," sneers Senator Norris, implying that Gov. Roosevelt is not at heart a Democrat, but is using that party "only as an instrumentality," by which to gain public office.

Gov. Roosevelt need not have incurred the support of Senator Norris. He might have known that a man who is not loyal to his party would depreciate loyalty in others, and might picture Gov. Roosevelt himself as a Democrat for office only. That is what Senator Norris has now done. Gov. Roosevelt is misrepresented to the voters of Pennsylvania as a man of Senator Norris' stamp. It is unfair to the Democratic candidate, who has been as loyal a party man as Senator Norris has been disloyal. Gov. Roosevelt is respected by millions of Republicans as an honest Democrat, but he would be respected by few citizens, Republican or Democrat, if he should imitate Senator Norris and betray the party that has honored him.

MORE WORKERS—LESS WORK.

Some rather startling facts are being reported by the Census Bureau from its studies of groups that are gainfully employed. It is customary to regard the year 1930 as one of unemployment, yet the percentage of the people engaged in economic pursuits was considerably larger than a few decades ago. Recent studies demolish the myth that workingmen are discarded by industrial establishments at the age of 45. Furthermore, the bureau finds that in the decade between 1920 and 1930, when technilogical unemployment is supposed to have become prevalent, there was an increase of 60 per cent in the number of married women working for wages.

It is especially interesting to note that 87 per cent of the men from 60 to 64 years old were gainfully employed in 1930. In the age group from 55 to 59 years 93 per cent were gainfully employed. Nearly three-fifths of the men over 65 were still working for remuneration, and one-third of those above 75 were still active in the economic field. Apparently a lot of sympathy has been wasted on the group of older men who are supposed to have been crowded out of their jobs by striplings.

Women have been gradually taking a more prominent part in the economic struggle for several decades. But it is astonishing that in the era when machine production reached its height, the number of married women gainfully employed should increase 60 per cent. Much has been said about the necessity of women working to support themselves and families, but that does not account for this phenomenal scramble of married women to get jobs. Many of them work because they wish more money to spend on themselves.

It is significant that the number of women workers in the United States is about equal to the total number of unemployed. That the invasion of women into the commercial and industrial fields has deprived men of work can not be questioned. In demanding the right to work outside of their homes, women are also taking upon themselves numerous responsibilities that formerly rested almost entirely upon male shoulders. It is not uncommon to find a husband jobless and the wife supporting their family.

Furthermore, women who are gainfully employed find it difficult to rear a family. Parenthood is sacrificed to economic interests. Hence, the number of gainful workers rapidly increases while the number of consumers sharply decreases, because of the falling birth rate. This situation is undoubtedly a factor in the current depression.

Modern economic machinery is geared to mass production. Only a small amount of labor is required to produce a vast amount of goods. The logical development would be fewer individuals engaged in economic activities. When a great number of women become producers instead of multiplying the number of consumers, and production is accelerated by machinery, a piling up of economic goods and consequent demoralization is inevitable.

Here is a problem for labor, both men and women, to cogitate upon. If women insist upon crowding into the economic system in greater numbers, no one will question their right to do so, but they may expect chronic unemployment or at least increased leisure for their husbands.

NO BONUS SUBTERFUGE.

Three and a half months after his nomination it appears that a way has been found that will permit Gov. Roosevelt to express himself on the question of the cash payment of the bonus. Through the medium of a friendly New York paper it is announced that in his speech tomorrow at Pittsburgh the governor will voice opposition to immediate payment of the bonus certificates, but that there will be suggestions for alternative benefits and preferential treatment which will ease the sting of refusal.

Gov. Roosevelt has withstood for many weeks the insistent demand from his own party as well as the opposition and from all sections of the country that he declare himself on the bonus. His silence has given encouragement to those who are working up a new assault on Congress for this payment. But the widespread opposition to cashing the bonus has been so vociferous, and the disastrous consequences have been made so evident, that Gov. Roosevelt must now speak.

It is announced that he will soften his opposition to the bonus by criticism of the administration's handling of veteran affairs, particularly the bonus army incidents in Washington, and will advocate a program calling for relief for destitute war veterans, setting up machinery to handle it through nation-wide agencies similar to the draft board of the World War.

To select a comparatively small group of men for Government charity would be utterly unwarranted. There is no excuse today for singling out any group for special benefits. Veterans should be the last to ask it when millions are in need of assistance. In the great preparations that are being made to care for unemployed and needy this winter all citizens in need should be treated alike.

TUMULT IN GERMANY.

Added to the turmoil and violence of another electoral campaign, Germany is this week keyed up awaiting the decision of the supreme court on the question of the legality of the dictatorship established in Prussia on July 20 by Chancellor von Papen. Opposition to the favorable ruling of the lower court is made by the states of Prussia, Baden and Bavaria, and while the case is unprecedented in Germany, many feel that, since the seizure of authority was made under the emergency decree of President von Hindenburg, it probably will be sustained.

Meanwhile the fifth election this year in Germany is to be held on November 6. The campaign to select members of the Reichstag is the most apathetic of any of the recent contests, largely because it is foreseen that there is even less possibility of any definite result being secured this time than at the last election. The previous contest enlarged the legislative representation of the Hitler party to nearly 40 per cent, but without any other party in the Reichstag with which he could ally his following to form an effective majority.

All indications in Germany today lead to the conclusion that Hitlerism and the Nazis have passed the peak of their popularity and that they will not be able to hold their present strength in the forthcoming election. Predictions are made that they will lose from 25 to 60 seats. If the Hitlerites stand no chance of securing a dominating majority there is even less hope of any other party gaining such strength. The indications are, therefore, if the Von Papen regime receives no judicial setback, that there will be no serious challenge to its continued rule from the new Reichstag.

The friendly relations between the Nazis and the Hugenberg forces a year ago, which gained for Hitler the support of many young Nationalists, has faded. The growing popularity of the Nationalists, basking in official favor as the only parliamentary group to support the government at the last sessions, is reflected in the violent opposition to Nationalist meetings, which are being broken up by Hitlerites, with resulting disorders and bloodshed.

The determination of the present government to reform the constitution and terminate the dominating authority of the Reichstag was reaffirmed by Chancellor von Papen in his Munich speech on Wednesday. He proclaimed the will and the power to transfer the rule of the German state from the legislative body to the cabinet. A new constitution will be drafted before the new Reichstag meets in December, and it must virtually sign its own death warrant by accepting the new charter or suffer the fate of its predecessors and be immediately dissolved by presidential decree.

It is evident that the German democracy is a thing of the past. Hitler apparently missed his chance of establishing a ruthless military dictatorship, but, aided by the emergency powers of the president, the old militarists are in the saddle and are riding roughshod over all opposition. The gathering strength of the Nationalists, as Hitler's popularity wanes, makes it appear that such action is not distasteful to the German people. Whether the present military leaders will be content to establish their rule by an appointive cabinet, or will follow their traditional leaning and endeavor to reestablish the monarchy, is something the future holds, but the decision may not be long delayed.

Senator Borah has denounced Gov. Roosevelt for his delay in letting the country know how he stands on the bonus question. Soon the Idahoan will have to spend a week thinking up a thunderbolt against Gov. Roosevelt for proposing a special dole to veterans.

Gov. Roosevelt's friends say that he will ask the boys not to pick the bonus apple until it is a little riper, and that in the meantime he will offer them a nice juicy plum at the expense of other needy citizens.

Everything is lovely in New York, except that the prospects of going back under Tammany rule have brought the city to the edge of another financial precipice.

Al Smith may campaign along with Gov. Roosevelt, but we won't be satisfied until Senator Joe Robinson shares the stump with Huey Long.

WAKEFULNESS

From the New York Herald Tribune.

The proof, reported to have been presented to the British Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. G. S. Carter, that sleep is caused by deficiency in the body of the chemical compound of iodine manufactured by the thyroid gland, long has been expected by physiologists. It furnishes, for example, the most plausible explanation yet suggested of the familiar sleep-producing effect of bromides and other compounds containing the closely related chemical element bromine. Iodine and bromide are chemically so much alike that one of them easily replaces the other in the majority of its compounds. Much bromine in the blood probably displaces some iodine from the supplies of the thyroid chemical circulating in that fluid. This alters that fraction of the chemical wakefulness into something else presumably less stimulating to alertness. The result is sleep.

What requires explanation, then, is not sleep but wakefulness. Left to itself, the body sleeps. It is thyroid iodine, Dr. Carter says, that grants it the abnormal boon of being wakeful; and how this may have come about has interest for theories of evolution no less than for those of physiology and medicine. The origin of sleep lies in the same gap in our knowledge of life's history which shrouds the origin of the great class of backbone creatures that now dominate both land and sea. In some mysterious fashion some group of spineless worms or oysters or insect-like sea creatures invented, some 300,000,000 or 400,000,000 years ago, the stiffening bony rod destined, in evolution's good time, to be the keyboard of the chiropractors. It is foolish to conceal our ignorance of how this happened or to whom, but one not implausible theory ascribes it to the efforts of soft sea worms to swim upstream against the currents of rivers. That needed stiffer bodies than the worms possessed, and so they invented backbones.

If this be true, it may be that the sea gave us wakefulness because we insisted on leaving it. In the ocean itself a worm has plenty of iodine for its primitive thyroid glands, for millions of tons of iodine are dissolved in sea water. Bodily activity was provided, perhaps, by absorbing a little iodine from the surrounding plenitude, making a little of the gland chemical and using it at once. All was different when the first possessors of primitive backbones deserted the ocean. The river water into which they swam had no iodine. Some of the necessary element of wakefulness had to be stored in the body and taken along, as aviators take oxygen into the stratosphere. Perhaps there were thousands of centuries when enterprising worms managed to swim upstream a little way as long as their stored iodine lasted, but drifted back again as soon as it was gone, so that they fell asleep. Even now, freed forever from the sea of water, the little chemists in our glands still let us drift back nightly to the sea of dreams.

Too Busy! —San Francisco Chronicle.

POST HASTE.

Prof. Einstein has a suspicion the world is billions of years older than heretofore calculated, but evidently has his doubts, since he can't explain why it isn't wiser.

Gov. Roosevelt goes to electrify the solid South. Well, there's not much danger of it being liquefied again.

Foreign and domestic demands for American tariff cuts begin to look like those of 1930, which Democratic congressmen admit were solicited by them.

Depression College, with tuition, board and lodging at $250 per, is likely to be swamped with freshmen who will find it cheaper than living at home—that is, unless classes are compulsory.

Sao Paulo revolted when Brazil boosted her federal tax quota from 70 to 80 per cent, leaving the other 20 states to pay 1 per cent each, but since she didn't win the state will now be socked a plenty.

This is a two-party Nation. Men as intelligent as Norman Thomas might help accomplish something in one of them.

Hyde Park, Oct. 16.—The correspondents asked: "How about the bonus?" and the Governor replied: "No comment."

It is not often we question Government figures, but the Census Bureau says that only 40 per cent of American homes are equipped with some 12,000,000 radio sets Anyhow, how about putting them on union hours?

"Both candidates are philatelists." So seeking the stamp of approval in this direction is a tie.

To football teams, dropping the first game is like losing the first hole to a golfer; he just can't take it very seriously with seventeen left to make it up—not till he loses one down.

Gov. Roosevelt will try to straddle the bonus question by a scheme for special relief of needy veterans; but all needy Americans are in the same class.

Don't overestimate an overcheerful greeting these days—he may be just another candidate.

Those who seek to aid the white-collar class shouldn't overlook the fact that a good many of us now wear blue shirts. PAUL HUDSON.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST

BOY, MY PUTTER.

To the golfer as he plays
Pleasure comes in many ways.
If his drive be straight and true
Joy his soul goes racing through,
But the second shot, it seems,
Holds the golfer's happiest dreams,
Told in merry words like these:
"Caddie, now my putter, please!"

Language has expressions queer:
"Check inclosed!" to all is dear.
"Come to dine next Tuesday night!"
May be genuine delight.
So with golfers, one and each,
Long to make the perfect speech,
Phrase portraying mind at ease:
"Caddie, now the putter, please!"

Golfer's joys at best are brief,
Golf's a game of gloom and grief,
Trouble lines the golfer's way
Seldom comes the perfect day,
But sometimes that second shot
Lands him on the sacred spot,
Then he shouts adown the breeze:
"Caddie, now my putter, please!"

Watch the golfers when they play
Full two hundred yards away.
Many stray, but one is seen
Now and then to reach the green.
Others still must hack and hew,
He has little left to do,
Thus to boast the chance he'll seize:
"Caddie Pass the putter, please!"

If Men Never Had Learned to Do Wrong There Would Be No Laws to Define Right

By ROBERT QUILLEN

A MAYOR and other officials dash through traffic at break-neck speed, violating the law to honor a guest of the city.

A judge entertains a senator by serving an illicit beverage obtained by conspiring with a criminal to violate the law he is sworn to uphold.

Why do such things happen in America? Because law-makers and citizens have forgotten the nature and purpose of law and the source of its authority.

Suppose a law is passed to prohibit the use of snuff. At once the righteous denounce snuff-dippers as depraved and wicked men.

Why are they wicked? Because they dip snuff? That can not be, for the use of snuff, however nasty it may seem, does not offend the decencies nor violate the common conscience of mankind. An act that is not wicked in itself can not be made wicked by law.

What then? Is the man evil because he violates a law? If any act is wicked because it is forbidden by law, then every act thus forbidden must be equally wicked. Fast driving, of which millions are guilty, is placed on a par with theft, arson and mayhem.

But that, of course, is ridiculous. The law can't make right and wrong, morality and immorality. It does not make standards; it merely expresses them.

Law, in a free land, is the will of the people written in statute books. And the will of the people, insofar as it defines right and wrong, is determined by the majority conscience.

When the law and the public conscience are one in condemning an act, the law truly represents the power from which its authority is derived.

When the law forbids an act that violates neither common sense nor the common conscience of mankind, it does not express the will of the people and therefore has no authority except that assumed by a tyrant.

When this truth is understood, no law will appear in the statute books unless it represents the will and conscience of the people. And then people will respect law as they respect their private opinions.

A law that fixes a standard of conduct is a true law only when the act it forbids would be offensive to all decent people if there were no laws.

The primary purpose of law is to make foolish and evil people behave as well as good and sensible people would behave without law.

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

A Wet Congress.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, and Vice Presidential Candidate Garner both have expressed recently the belief that the Volstead act will be modified when Congress meets in December. Mr. Garner asserts that so far as the House is concerned, such legislation is practically certain of enactment.

If the deductions and calculations of the Women's National Organization for Prohibition Reform—just published—may be considered reliable, it would seem that Mr. Garner and Senator Reed may be justified in their predictions of change in this respect. The women's organization referred to makes broader claims. Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, national chairman of the organization, reports that incomplete returns from 23 State divisions show 227 Democratic congressional candidates and 105 Republican candidates favoring outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Out of the 228 replies from Democratic candidates only one is opposed to straight repeal. Of the 170 replies from Republican candidates 105 are for repeal, 23 against repeal and 42 evasive.

Changed Outlook.

Of course it was Politician Al Smith and not Editor Al Smith who received favorably the Roosevelt peace offering. But in spite of this it will be regarded in some quarters as an acceptance slip.

Coming Down the Stretch.

The campaign seems to have reached a stage where "Say It Isn't So" would be a good theme song for it.

Speaking of Support.

Philadelphia Bulletin.

Some people may prefer suspenders, but both presidential candidates would rather have the farm belt.

Changes in Congress.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The list of preelection congressional changes is one of the amazing features of this campaign. Defeats, deaths, resignations and prospective retirements already indicate a turnover of 87 seats in both branches of Congress, or about one-sixth of their combined membership.

In the present House there were 81 new members elected in 1930. The turnover in 1932 is already close to that figure.

This means that a considerable proportion of the membership of the House in the Seventy-third Congress, which comes into being after March 4, will be composed of "greenhorns." The reapportionment alone has caused a shift of 27 seats. The States which gained these seats will send 27 men with little or no experience to the House. Many of the successful candidates in the primaries have never had legislative experience.

What will happen when the House, with so many new members and lacking the services of several prominent veterans, faces the important problems that are certain to be placed before it? Can it be depended upon to deal with them constructively? Will it be amenable to discipline, which is essential for constructive action in such an unwieldy body, or will it become even more unruly than the present membership did over taxation and other issues at the last session?

These are sambles of the questions which arise because of the amazing turnover in the House because of preelection factors. They will be even more serious when the casualty list is completed after the elections next month.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bishop of Ponce Asks Help for Children of Puerto Rico.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Even between hurricanes, poverty in Puerto Rico is proverbial. Our greatest sufferers are the little children.

Without indulging in polemics about remedial measures or citing statistics of birth and death rates, I can assure you that infant mortality is appalling. Day and night, every 25 minutes, a Puerto Rican child dies because of malnutrition.

The Catholic Puerto Rican Child Welfare Association was chartered by the State of New York in 1930 to combat these conditions at the root. Thanks to the generosity of our fellow Americans, the association was enabled to engage upon permanent relief measures, effective social service work. An infants' infirmary was established. We are planning a preventorium, at which children under 12 will be kept while conditions in their homes are being corrected. Under this modern system practical help is given on a wide scale to parents and children.

Our work, which is dependent entirely upon voluntary contributions from the mainland, has been greatly handicapped because of the depression. Our meager resources are deeply taxed as a result of the recent hurricane. I therefore appeal to the charity of your readers for contributions to be sent to me at St. Alphonsus' Rectory, 308 West Broadway, New York City. A. J. WILINGER,
Bishop of Ponce.

Louisiana Democrat Indulges in Prophecy of Sweeping Roosevelt Victory.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: When Gov. Roosevelt is elected President the South will have one of its best friends in the White House. Gov. Roosevelt has made Georgia his part-time home for eight years and has operated a farm there. His friends in Georgia and throughout the South are innumerable and loyal. In the Democratic primary in Georgia, between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner, a native Southerner, Mr. Roosevelt carried the State by a margin of over 10 to 1. In his home town of Warm Springs, Ga., where he is personally known and beloved by the town people, Gov. Roosevelt received every vote but one.

When the votes are counted in the South on November 8 it will be found that Gov. Roosevelt has amassed the most tremendous Democratic majorities ever heard of in the Southern States. I offer that as a prediction. I also predict that he will carry the border States of Maryland, Kentucky and Tennessee by a margin of close to 2 to 1. The South is ready and anxious to atone for its errors of 1928.

Rev. Dr. Perkins Corrects Report of His Position as to Value of Prayer.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The opening sentence of the report of a sermon of mine on "What Good Does It Do to Pray?" as printed in Monday morning's Post inadvertently misrepresents my position and I am asking the privilege of making a correction. I am reported as declaring, as if it were my personal conviction, that "prayer, in its traditional form at least, does not seem to have a rational place in a world governed by law." That was a statement, not of my own opinion, but of the difficulty which many people are troubled by in this scientific age and which I was trying in the sermon to remove. Any one who read through the report, otherwise very accurate, or who heard the sermon, would not fail to see that. I believe strongly in the function and value of prayer in a law-governed world. It is, as Prof. Rufus Jones calls it, "the priceless jewel of the soul." I was trying to remove what seems to me a needless conflict between religious instincts and intellectual conscience. The opening sentence of the report, taken out of its context, was a candid statement of the question which I was trying to answer. FREDERIC W. PERKINS.

Hopes Progressive Republicans Who Desert Party Will Be Thrown Out.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: For the good of the country, I hope that the day is not far distant when the Progressive Republicans, who have sold out to the Democratic party, will be driven into political oblivion by the enlightened voters. These same Progressives, after failing to win the President's approval for their fantastic theories, which, if put into effect, would have ruined the credit of the Government, put industry and agriculture into bankruptcy, and, in fact, started the United States on the road to oblivion, are now running over the country telling the people that the Hoover administration stands in the way of business recovery. If that isn't a double constructed falsehood, I don't know what you could call it. Any one caring to learn the truth should read the record of every session of Congress for the past three years. He will find that these same Progressives who are supporting the Democratic nominee have intensified this depression by making political capital out of the distress of the unemployed. FORGOTTEN MAN.

Some Democrats Willing to See Tubbs Beat McAdoo, but How Does That Keep McAdoo Out of the Cabinet?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Those courageous Democrats in California who are going to vote for Mr. Tubbs in November, and there are thousands who will do so, according to reliable reports, have the hearty indorsement and plaudits of a host of sympathetic Democrats in the East. But what we Democrats in the East would like to know is whether those Democrats in California who help to elect Mr. Tubbs will sympathize with us when Mr. McAdoo becomes a member of the Cabinet?

Examiner Opposes Rail Abandonment

I. C. C. Advised It Should Refuse Norfolk & Western Application.

(Associated Press.)

Examiner Thomas F. Sullivan yesterday recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission that it refuse to permit the Norfolk & Western Railway Co. to abandon nineteen miles of its Abingdon branch in Ashe County, N. C.

The Norfolk & Western asked leave to abandon the line between West Jefferson and Elkland when 1931 traffic fell off approximately 22,000 tons. The abandonment was objected to by the North Carolina Corporation Commission and local interests, but they did not present testimony at the hearings.

The examiner said the record showed that from 1927 to 1930, inclusive, revenue from traffic handled over the line exceeded operating costs by substantial amounts and that there was no reason given for the very sharp decline in traffic during 1931. In view of the situation he recommended that the commission decline to permit abandonment.

Wingo is a senior at Princeton, and national chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of America.

Sacramento, Calif., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—As his contribution to statesmanship, the Rev. Robert P. Shuler, Prohibition candidate for United States senator from California, if elected, will eat onions. The eating, he says, will be a daily ritual for the benefit of senators and onion growers. He has already equipped himself with three sacks at 30 cents a sack. He thinks the Senate should know how cheap onions are.

Engine Trouble Blamed In Air Official's Death

Providence, R. I., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—E. W. Wiggins, owner of a hangar at the State Airport at Hillsgrove, expressed belief today that engine trouble caused Richard C. Allen, aviation inspector for the Department of Commerce, to abandon his plane near West Point, N. Y., yesterday in a parachute leap that cost his life. The parachute failed to open.

Wiggins discounted the theory that Allen ran out of gasoline on the flight to his home at Albany. He said he had personally filled the gasoline tank in Allen's plane a few minutes before he took off and that no one touched the tank before Allen started for Albany.

Work on Bridge Across Rock Creek Is Resumed

Fall Court's Term Begun in Annapolis

Judge Moss Is Improved, but Is Unable to Be at Session.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 17.—Though resting much easier following a heart attack he suffered yesterday while working at his office in the courthouse, Judge Robert Moss was unable to preside at the opening of the Anne Arundel County Circuit Court for the fall grand jury term today. The jurist is a patient at Emergency Hospital and will be discharged in a few days, according to Dr. J. J. Murphy, his attending physician.

In the absence of Judge Moss, Associate Judge William H. Forsythe, jr., resident judge of Howard County, is presiding. Judge Forsythe segregated the grand jury and delivered a formal charge, directing attention to three specific law violations, namely, narcotic drugs, defaulting public officials and abortion. With this completed the grand jury inquest, of which Walter H. Myers, of Annapolis, is foreman, retired, and began its investigations while the court proceeded with cases on the trial docket.

It was the first time that Judge Moss, in his fifteen years on the bench, was unable to open court.

POWER COMMISSION RULES ON NEW RIVER

Federal License Is Declared Necessary as Stream Is Navigable.

(Associated Press.)

The Power Commission held yesterday that the New River in Virginia is navigable and hence a Federal license is necessary for development of power projects there.

This finding represented another step in a lengthy controversy with the Appalachian Electric Power Co., which plans to develop a dam and power project near Radford, Va.

The company has challenged the constitutionality of the commission's action in requiring it to obtain a Federal license. It contends the river is not novigable and a license is not required. The case is now in the Federal courts in Virginia.

The commission made public a resolution adopted last Wednesday which declared that New River, from the mouth of Wilson Creek, Va., north, is navigable water under the Federal water power act.

The commission said the resolution was adopted in order to correct misunderstanding and misinterpretation of its earlier action concerning the navigability of the river.

It added that it had made no previous finding as to navigability because it was of the opinion that action was not necessary.

League of Upright Wants Hohenzollerns Restored

Berlin, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A clarion call for the restoration of the Hohenzollerns was sounded tonight at the Singakademie at a "resurrection" meeting of the League of the Upright, which convened for its first session since it was suppressed a decade ago after Foreign Minister Walther Rathenau had been murdered.

The celebration coincided closely with the birthday of the first wife of the kaiser, in whose memory the court preacher, Dr. Walter Richter-Reichhelm, pronounced an oration. The only Hohenzollern representatives present were the young Princes Oscar and Burchard, sons of the Kaiser's fifth son, Oscar, who was absent because of illness.

Senator Kendrick's Wife Rallies After Operation

Sheridan, Wyo., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Lula B. Kendrick, wife of United States Senator John B. Kendrick, was reported today to be in a satisfactory condition following an emergency operation Saturday for acute appendicitis.

Dr. W. H. Roberts, attending physician, said recovery was expected.

Pollard to Give Medal To Piccirilla Saturday

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Gov. John Garland Pollard of Virginia will present the Thomas Jefferson Presidential Medal to Attilio Piccirilli, prominent sculptor, here next Saturday.

The medal has been awarded to Piccirilli for his statues of Jefferson and James Monroe by the national educational committee of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation.

Among those scheduled to attend the ceremony are former Gov. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, Stuart G. Gibboney and Henry Alan Johnston, president and secretary, respectively, of the Jefferson Foundation.

Rain Postpones Show Of Virginia Fox Hunters

Chesterfield Courthouse, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Autumn's most prolonged rain today delayed the opening of the renewals of the Virginia Fox Hunters Association and the horse show, first events of the meet scheduled for this afternoon. They will be held Friday.

First cast in the Derby stake, running tomorrow and Wednesday, will be made at 6 a. m. from the courthouse, Russell Palmore, who hunts the famous Palmore strain in Powhatan County, said today. Some 40-odd 2-year-old hounds were named today for the start.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Shades of the middle ages on Miladi Moderne! A richly brocaded double tunic effect over midnight blue velvet, and a wee cap of the brocade. (A Dah-ray design.)

EVENING gowns for the coming season. Never have they been so well done, so elaborately, so compellingly feminine. Shop well, lovely lady, and shop early, for the season's gayeties will soon be in full swing, and you must do your part in giving beauty and charm and loveliness to the world—by being your most beautiful, artistic, gracious, adorable and desirable self!

Shut up, shut up, shut up! This is supposed to be a fashion story of evening gowns, not a rhapsody to woman or a symphony of beauties found and half felt. But Miladi will be just all of these things in her formal evening gowns this season, since she has followed the inevitable swing of the pendulum that swung her to very far towards boyishness—and become lovely again.

Velvets, brocades, lames, chiffons, embroideries, jewels, everything luxurious, will she have. Cut and material are of more importance than anything else, for it is in this type of garment that Dame Fashion tentatively introduces lines and silhouettes which will either die before they are born or swing full fledged into the next season's styles.

And that this season's evening gowns are more elaborate, more feminine, more daring and more interesting, I wish you to know. Bustles, subtle, of course, and sometimes nothing more than a tentative drape, flares, long skirts, low necks, high necks, form fitting lines, long sleeves, no sleeves, all new.

"The proof of the pudding—," but it isn't a pudding: it's a gown and you aren't going to eat it, but see it. For I have designed for you a gown typical, I think, of the day—and a little bit of yesterday, too—my deah. Fifteenth century, to be exact—and Europe, not China or the Americans, who had quite a different silhouette in the fifteenth century!

Well, a beautiful fabric deserves a purity of line—and that I have given a very rich brocade that cost umpteen million francs a yard, in the double tunic effect of the overdress of this design. Then the sleeves and under skirt are of midnight blue velvet, always royal. And for a brunette, the Juliet cap would be of the brocade—whilst for a blonde, it would be of the blue velvet to contrast her golden locks. And slippers for either type, of severe velvet—else the whole would be too entirely costumy for any good!

Then the wrap would be a semibolero and scarf effect, which would just cover the decolletage. And gloves would have to be wrist buttoned, and of the blue velvet—no less. Like it?

* * * *

Another old world idea modernized is in this week's illustrated leaflet, which tells you how to make a nightgown of Turkish inspiration—but thoroughly modernized. 'Tis a three piece idea, with an adorable bolero-blouse that ends just before the skirt ends at the natural waistline with a ribbon girdle! Then the third piece of this outfit is (or should it be are?)—lace pyjamas, that end also at the waistline—so one has pyjamas or nightie, as one wishes. Can you picture a nicer gift for a lovely lady friend, even if she has everything? 'Cause you would pay plenty of francs for such on the Rue de la Paix, my deah—and it would be not a whit more lovely than the one you would make with your own clever fingers. Send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post, for this leaflet, and find out all about how to make the Three-Piece Nightie and Pyjama Set!

Au revoir!

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

G. A. R. EXPECTANCY.

IN reporting the 1932 reunion of the G. A. R. the newspapers said that 13,000 veterans of the Civil War are living and their average age is 89 years. Three thousand died in the year 1931-'32. There were 1,000 in round numbers in attendance on this meeting. The commander was quoted as saying the organization would meet in 1933, and the yearly meetings would continue as long as there remained two or more members strong enough to travel and be away from home for a week.

Glover's tables are based on the census of 1910, and they are drawn from the reports of the original registration States. Therefore, they do not apply as to their fractions to this case, but they are sufficiently applicable to suit our needs. From these tables we learn that the death rate among men 89 years old is 240.61 per thousand.

That means that during the next twelve months approximately 3,200 of the present survivors will die, leaving less than 10,000. A large part of these 10,000 will be confined to the house. The average expectation of life of the members of the group is 3.17 years.

This does not mean that the entire corps will be wiped out by 1936. On the other hand, in that year the number living, according to the tables, will be between 5,000 and 6,000, and they will have an average life expectancy of a little more than two and a half years. If one-thirteenth of the living were able to attend a meeting held in a central place in 1932, one-thirtieth of those surviving in 1936 should be able to get to an attractive, convenient meeting place. That would mean a meeting attended by about 200 veterans of the Civil War, the meeting being held 71 years after the termination of the strife.

If the commander proves to be right in his prediction that annual meetings will be held so long as there live two members, one of whom is capable of traveling, this last meeting should be held somewhere about 1948. According to the Glover tables, there should be two surviving veterans in 1952. The reason for setting the date forward about four years is because probably neither of the two survivors will be able to travel in the last few years of the period.

ATHLETE'S FOOT.

G. B. writes: What is a cure for athlete's foot? I have had this trouble for the last three years. I bathe my feet twice daily and apply a liniment, but if I should miss a day they bother me.

REPLY.

Some cases are easily cured and even the bad ones can be kept in reasonably satisfactory condition. Liniments are not of service. There are many remedies available. The best of these are sulphur ointments or other remedies that contain chemicals that kill the fungus. It is not enough to treat the sore areas between the toes. The fungus lives in and around the nails, in and around corns and callouses, thickened skin and skin folds. The chemical should be applied to these as well as to the inflamed areas. In some cases the fungus is in the shoes. These should be treated inside with some sulphur compound, and then sunned inside, aired and dried. Some cases will need the help of physicians or foot specialists.

NERVOUSNESS IS CAUSE.

M. F. W writes: I suffer from an enormous amount of gas. It forces its way up in long gulps which are extremely annoying and embarrassing. This happens all through the day, from arising to retiring, at intervals of from one to 30 minutes.

What could be the cause?

Is it serious?

Do you think there is any chance of this ceasing eventually of its own accord?

REPLY.

The cause is nervousness. You swallow or partly swallow air and then belch it up. You probably have some little stomach disorder which causes an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach. This causes air to be swallowed, and this in turn, causes belching. It is not serious. It may disappear without treatment. This group of case constitutes the principal field of operations of the food faddists and cultists. Self-cure is frequent. If taking medicine appears to cure, it is generally faith that does the work.

WHOOPING COUGH.

Mrs. J. B. writes: 1. How long does it take to recover from an attack of whooping cough?

2. Is it contagious?

3. How long will it be necessary to keep my children away from one who is just recovering from an attack of whooping cough?

REPLY.

1. As a rule recovery is practically complete in five weeks. In some cases a chronic bronchitis follows. Other complications may develop.

2. It is. The contagiousness is greatest during the fever stage. This, roughly, is during the first two weeks. After that it gradually becomes less contagious.

3. Most laws and rules call for some kind of isolation or quarantine for five weeks. Follow the orders of your health department and see that your neighbor does also.

HEADACHES.

O. H. W. writes: I suffer with chronic headache commencing at the top of the neck and spreading over the head to the eyes. Would an operation through the nose into the head relieve me or cure the headache? What would cure such headache? I am 68 years old.

REPLY.

Headaches that commence at your time of life have a significance that differs from that of headache in younger persons. An effort should be made to find the cause.

Headaches that travel from the neck over the head to the eyes are likely to be rheumatic. Do you get temporary relief from salicylate preparations?

Most headaches appearing first in persons beyond middle life are due to arteriosclerosis. What is your blood pressure? What is the condition of the blood vessels of your retina?

Your handwriting indicates that you have paralysis agitans. Is that the cause of your headache? I see no reason for operation.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

THE stars that flicker in Hollywood have their own cameramen who spend a great deal of time photographing these favorites until they know exactly what angle, what position, what attitude the film-makers look best in. That is how they make the very most of their stars' possibilities.

The average woman has to be her own cameraman. Self-study is fascinating and often very helpful. And self-made beauty is the highest type of all.

Line and Color.

One way to help nature along is to stay on the right side of Fashion. Line and color are so important and can do so much to enhance one's good points and minimize any flaws in the figure. For instance, the short, stocky woman can look inches taller by choosing long lines, which carry the eye up and down instead of across. Subdued colors are better for her, as loud colors or prints with large patterns will only add an appearance of greater width. People with blue eyes know that the blues and blue-greens play up their coloring, making them look brighter and bluer.

Facial Features.

Perfectly molded facial features no longer hold highest beauty honors. They are no longer as important as the whole ensemble of loveliness—interesting loveliness particularly. But facial features that are definitely lacking in beauty can be subdued or at least subordinated. Make-up and hairdress as well as line and color in clothes turn the trick.

Take the case of a receding chin. Symmetrical necklines in dress will only exaggerate this, whereas the one-sided effects, like the slanting necklines in front, will help offset it. Hairdress may be fairly flat at the back, but should not be flat at the top of the head. A round, close-fitting, brimless hat will only emphasize the contours, whereas a brim hat, preferably dipping down in the front, with enough crown to add length to the contour, will make the chin look longer and heavier.

Take a large, prominent nose. A bushy coiffure will exaggerate it. So will a very severe coiffure. A center part is only for very regular features. But hair parted off the center, simple but soft, possibly showing the forehead and the ear lobes, will frame the face becomingly and call attention away from the nose. Accent eyes and mouth with make-up. Wear smartly simple clothes, not frilly, fluffy ruffles. And remember—a medium-size hat with a brim, as the small turban or halo hats, emphasizes irregular contours. The new small sailors are very good.

Suppose the eyes are small and set closely together. Plucking any wild hairs on the bridge of the nose and widening the space between the brows, then elongating them over the outer corners of the eyes will help tremendously. If you use eye-shadow apply it near the outer corners of the lids, not near the nose. And have the hair softly waved, away from the face, not low on the forehead or thick over the cheeks.

How much heat do you get from your coal?

YOU may be paying for more heat than you get. Perhaps it isn't so much the fault of the coal you use, as the furnace. Some furnaces should use a slow-burning fuel—others need one that burns freely. American sells clean coal, specially selected from the best mines, and carefully screened. Ask an American service man to show you why it is best suited for your furnace. Telephone District 6240.

National Bridge Olympic To Open Tomorrow Night

Several hundred local contract bridge enthusiasts will compete in the National Bridge Olympic tomorrow night. Play will start at 8 o'clock at the Kennedy-Warren Apartments and at 2400 Sixteenth street northwest.

Under the direction of Mrs. Frank Guest and Mrs. James Lemon, associate Culbertson teachers, a large group of prominent Washingtonians assembled at the Kennedy-Warren will play a group of sealed hands prepared by a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson and Oswald Jacoby. Another group gathered at 2400 Sixteenth street will also compete in the tournament. More than 35,000 competitors all over the country will play the same sets of hands, so that comparative scores can be figured betwen all competitors.

More than 200 prizes have been posted for the play. A complete analysis of the hands will be published and players will have an opportunity of having their hands analyzed by the above-mentioned experts after play has been completed.

Contract bridge players interested in playing in the tournament can enter by getting in touch with Mrs. Frank Guest or Mrs. James Lemon at their office at the Kennedy-Warren Apartments or with P. J. Kohlhammer, manager of 2400 Sixteenth street.

FINDING THE BEST BID.

I HAVE frequently pointed out that one of the most marked differences in Rubber play and Duplicate play under the Howell Match Point System of scoring is the forcing of the declaration into an unusual channel through players seeking to secure the highest possible score on any particular hand. In Rubber Bridge, whether you make a Slam in notrump or in a suit is obviously a matter of little moment. The determination with wise partners will rest upon what is the best bid in the combined hands. In Duplicate, however, where each hand rewards the player with a number of points dependent upon his score as compared with the others, it is not only a question of finding the best game or Slam bid, but the one that will give you the highest aggregate score. Thus the correct bid in Rubber play might be five diamonds or five clubs, but if the same hand would produce three notrump, the fact that we will score 105 for three notrump and only 100 for five-odd made in diamonds or clubs would cause the notrump bid to be preferred. Equally true, as between the choice of playing a hand at a major suit and notrump if the same number of tricks are available, Duplicate players give up the margin of added safety of suit play because of the hopes for a top in notrump.

An interesting example of this was one of the hands played in the recent Individual Masters' Championship event at Deal, N. J. At all six tables, the hand was played at a Slam, four partnerships electing to play it at diamonds, where the hand unquestionably normally should play. However, two players, Mr. Willard Karn, who donated the cup for which the masters were contending, and Mr. Richard L. Frey, who finished second last year and third this year, elected to play the hand at six notrump.

North—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

After North's Opening bid of one diamond, both Messrs. Karn and Frey, sitting south, made the response of one heart on King-3. The purpose of this bid was twofold—first, if possible, to ward off a heart lead; second, to find out how strong North was in South's weakest suit. When North responded with four hearts, then both of these players decided to play for a Slam at notrump.

West opened the club Queen, and south won with the King. He then played five rounds of diamonds, winning the last round in his own hand. South's heart bid had convinced West that he should keep all three of his hearts, so at this point the hands around the table were:

Now South played the King of spades, and East was helpless. If he refused to win with the Ace, South would shift to the Ace of clubs, forcing him to blank the Ace of spades in order to keep four hearts. Then the play of a small spade would establish South's Queen. If he took the spade and returned it, as actually occurred, the play of the club Ace would force a discard of either the high spade or the fourth heart.

Thus the contract of six notrump for a half top on the board was made by these two players.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

East—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

Women's Clubs Meet Today.

What Today Means to You

"LIBRA."

IF October 18 is the day of your birth, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:30 a. m. to 8 a. m., from 1:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. and 7:15 p. m. to 8:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. and from 9 p. m. to 10 p. m.

A general atmosphere of unrest will manifest itself in all activities. Take note of any unpleasant occurrences today, for the chances are they may become magnified and react to your detriment in the near future. Guard against this. Difficulties seem to loom ahead for dear ones.

The child born on this October 18 will in its early years be quite a problem to its parents. It will have ideas all its own and will probably possess a quiet determination to do just as it pleases. Extreme tact will be required in its guidance. The child will require and demand much affection. To not coddle these children.

If October 18 is your birthday, yours will be a hectic and tempestuous existence. You are possessed of two characteristics which are difficult to reconcile, namely, a very strongly developed artistic sense and an unusually pronounced practical side to your nature. You will be constantly at war with yourself, but fortunately, you have at the same time a sane outlook on life and rare good judgment. These should enable you to attain and to maintain some sort of balanced existence. You are probably inclined to sacrifice your ideals when you are forced to choose between them and economic gain. Remember, though, that it is the man who has ideals and holds to them, that often lives through the ages.

You are a person who makes friends easily yet cares little for them. At the same time, the friends you have are extremely important to you, for the affection they have for you, and the interest they take in you, make life's path easy and pleasant. You are content to make much in the way of affection and sympathy and to give little.

At home you are quite a different person. You love your family dearly and you lavish your affections upon them. You are unselfish, and nothing that money can buy is too good for them. At work, your quiet reserve makes you seem cold and indifferent to all but your own interests. At home and with your few close friends, you give way more to your emotions, and your spiritual self shines forth.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

GRAPES IN COOKED DISHES.

(Bureau of Home Economics.)

Of course you have used grapes—particularly the blue Concords—to make grape juice, grape jelly, and perhaps grape butter and grape conserve. You may also have jellied grape juice with gelatin for a dessert. But have you ever tried a pudding or a pie with the fresh grapes? Concords are delicious in grape tapioca pudding and in grape pie, as you will find if you try these two recipes from the Bureau of Home Economics. You may be interested, too, in knowing that grape skins are a good source of iron, and although they are not usually eaten raw, some of the iron remains when you make grape juice and preserves, and practically all of it is there in grape pie.

Grape Tapioca Pudding.

1 quart stemmed Concorn grapes
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Cook the grapes and water for about five minutes and press through a sieve to remove the skins and seeds. Add the sugar, tapioca and salt to the juice and pulp and cook for 25 minutes in a double boiler. Add the lemon juice, and let the pudding stand until cold. Serve with top milk or thin cream.

Grape Pie.

5 cups Concord grapes
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pastry.

Discard the stems and slip off the skins of the grapes. Keep them separate from the pulp. Heat the juice and pulp for about 5 minutes. Rub through a sieve to remove the seeds. Combine the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Mix this with the grape pulp and cook it for about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Then add the grape skins and the lemon juice. Pour the fruit filling into a pie pan lined with pastry. Cover the top with strips of pastry and bake in a hot oven for 30 minutes.

ELMER TWITCHELL CONSIDERS AN AFRICAN HUNT.

"Big Game Hunting Expeditions—Elephant, Lion, Tiger, Buffalo, Zebra and Giraffe, in East and Central Africa, arranged by best known white hunter in Africa; regular departures every Wednesday from London; $3,600 one person; $2,800 per person for two persons; Capt. George Lunn, 136 Wigmore St., Portman Sq., London."—Advertisement.

• • • •

DEAR CAPTAIN LUNN:—Wednesday is a bad day for me. But I can generally get away Tuesdays or Fridays, and if you could fix it that way I would be interested in the ad which I found in the personal columns right between the announcement that Louis Gatzuk was no longer the partner of Philip Brown and the announcement that a lady returning from Kansas City would take a couple to share expenses.

• • • •

For a long time I have felt a strange uneasiness with life, a peculiar yearning for a new means of expressing myself. I have been discontented with my lot in life. I have been unhappy and disappointed. But now I realize what has been wrong with me. I need elephants and lions and tigers. I need buffaloes. I need giraffes.

• • • •

Until things pick up I can think of nothing better to get my mind off things than an African hunt, and your hunt appeals to me because it is not just an idea or a tiger hunt, but a general catch-as-catch-can hunt, where a man can get most anything, and probably pick up a pheasant, partridge or mallard duck now and then.

• • • •

The only thing that bothers me is the $3,600 rate. Couldn't you hook me up with somebody else so we would be two persons and get the $2,800 booking? I would not be much bother, as I am no hog for elephants and would be satisfied with one or two, and I can also take my lions or leave them alone. In other words, there would be lots of days when I would just as soon stay in camp and read a book. You could have all the animals I killed. All I would like to keep would be a giraffe, as the wife says there is room for one in the corner of the living room, opposite the piano. In fact, she thinks a giraffe is just what it needs.

• • • •

I would not be much bother. What I mean is, that you would not have to take a lot of time teaching me about African hunts. I know all there is to know, as I am a regular motion picture house patron and have been through every important big game hunt shown on the screen in the last fifteen years. This year I missed five or six, as there were so many that it was impossible for a movie fan to take them all in, but I feel that I am practically a veteran hunter.

• • • •

At any rate, the idea of getting away from things via an African hunt intrigues me, and if we can get together on the terms, it will be very nice. Hoping to hear from you, I am, yours truly.

ELMER TWITCHELL.

P. S.—I would like to get away as soon as possible, on account of the political speeches.

Taxicab Meter Order Can Not Be Enforced

The Public Utilities Commission is powerless to enforce the meter provision of its taxicab order, it was explained yesterday in answer to an inquiry from Will Brown, general manager of the Black & White and Yellow Cab Co.'s.

Besides being tied up in litigation, the order is held in abeyance until the end of the fiscal year by the lack of funds to enforce it as Congress specifically prohibited the commission from using any of the current appropriation to enforce the meter provision. Other sections of the order are in effect.

DICK TRACY—Stumped!

WELL, HERE I AM—ALL READY TO GO TO WORK. CHEE, DIS IS A FUNNY BAKERY—IT DON'T HAVE NO BREAD—SMELL LIKE MOST OF 'EM.
YEAH? WELL, DON'T WORRY ABOUT THAT, KID HERE ARE A COUPLE OF PACKAGES FOR YOU TO TAKE UP ON THE NORTH SIDE.
WOT'S IN DIS ROOM?
HEY—KEEP OUT OF THERE, YOU BRAT—
OH, EXCUSE ME, KID—I'M SORRY! I DIDN'T MEAN TO SOCK YOU—BUT THAT ROOM'S FULL OF—OF—OF MACHINERY—AND I DON'T WANT YOU TO EVER GO IN THERE—YOU MIGHT GET CAUGHT IN THE WHEELS—SEE?
OH
TRACY—WHAT HEADWAY HAVE YOU MADE ON THAT DOPE-RING CASE? HAVE YOU GOT A LINE ON MUCELLI?
NOT A THING CHIEF! I DON'T BELIEVE THAT BIRD MUCELLI IS EVEN IN TOWN!

Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL.

THE first news with regard to the future of Station WMAL after it leaves Columbia on Thursday night to become an independent local station is that all music thereafter will be under the supervision of Meyer Davis.

Ensembles ranging from trios to 20-piece concert orchestras are being rehearsed. New orchestral features which will be broadcast regularly by WMAL, beginning Friday, include the WMAL Salon Orchestra; Morning Serenaders, a dance combination; the Masqueraders, novelty orchestra, and Afternoon Frolickers, popular ensemble.

The WMAL Little Symphony and guest artists will present a full hour concert every Sunday, beginning at 8:30 p. m., October 23.

Harold Veo will be in immediate charge of the orchestras.

Speaker Garner took a lesson in microphone technique the other night when he made the first broadcast in his life.

"You know, this is my first try at this sort of thing," he confided as he stepped into the studio, "and I want all the teachers I can get."

They quickly put the Speaker through the elementary steps and gave him a test. As the second hand of the studio clock neared air-time Mr. Garner was beaming and had his arm around the mike as if it were a long-lost friend.

"CARMEN," to be sung by the National Grand Opera Company (WRC, 11 p. m.), will have Louise Bernhardt, formerly of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, an American artist, born at Melrose, Mass., in the title role.

"The Alaska Killer," the first of a new series of secret service dramatizations, will be presented during the Lucky Strike Dance Hour (WRC, 10 p. m.).

Hymns most frequently requested will comprise the program of the Mid-week Hymn Sing (WEAF network, 7 p. m.).

ED WYNN omits his show at the National tonight, having jumped on his horse last night and galloped off to New York for his regular Tuesday broadcast (WRC, 9:30 p. m.). He will gallop back to Washington in time for the matinee tomorrow.

RADIO JOE'S Harvest Home farm hands are Fred East and Bill Raymond. Also the "Budget Babes"—Jean Kressin, Jeannette Bittner and Kitty Latimer—will be there (WMAL, 7:30 p. m.).

UNITED DEMOCRACY COUNTY POSSIBILITY

Montgomery Signs Point to Coalition of Organization and Anti Forces.

Montgomery County, Md., Democracy may continue after Noxember 8 the united front it is presenting in the general election. No definite announcement has been made by the leaders of the two factions in the county regarding the possibility of a coalition, but it is being said that once the election is out of the way developments will result in the merging of organization and antiorganization forces into one Democratic group.

None of the leaders will talk on the subject. "We are too busy electing Roosevelt, Garner, Tydings and Lewis to indulge in fence-mending now," they say, but none went so far as to deny that negotiations might be opened after election.

Rumor has slated State's Attorney Stedman Prescott, an organization member, for the judgeship in the county police court left vacant by the scheduled appointment of Judge Charles W. Woodward to the county circuit court bench to succeed Judge Robert B. Peter, as announced exclusively yesterday morning in The Washington Post.

This will leave the post of State's attorney open, and one of the antiorganization leaders, Edward Peter, Rockville lawyer, is understood to be under consideration for this office. It is not believed that the Police Court or State's attorney appointments will be acted on until after the general election. Several other prospects are in the field for the State's attorney post, among them are Kenneth Lyddane, well known in the county and an organization member, and John Oxley, of the antiorganization forces, who was defeated in the Democratic primaries by Stedman Prescott.

The principal deterrent to a coalition would appear to be the belief of the organization Democrats that they are capable of defeating the antiorganization forces if necessary and the possibility that the antiorganization faction might ask for too much for its support of regular principles. On the other hand, the joining together of the two factions would do away with the acrid primary fights which have been more costly in bother and money than the campaign against Republican candidates.

The Democratic organization elected its ticket with one exception, the popular Walter Dawson, Republican, having won election to the House of Delegates, in the last county election, when the antiorganization forces were in coalition with the Republicans.

Ready readers await the offers in Post Classified Ads, the first thing in the morning.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

THERE is not a star in filmdom who receives the homage, concessions and consideration accorded to Dixee Lee Haley Who, you want to know, is Dixee Lee Haley? Well, Greta Garbo, Constance Bennett and Ruth Chatterton have never received more attention. That, at least, is certain.

Loretta Young.

Dixee's big moment came in "Life Begins" at First National Studios. It was her first appearance before the camera; but for several hours before she deigned to do her plain and fancy emoting, the rest of the cast and the production crew had been worked up to a pitch of tense anticipation. Directors James Flood and Eliot Nugent, who were used to telling big stars what's what in no uncertain terms, were duly cowed and obsequious in the face of Dixee's slightest whim or fancy.

The scene in which she was to appear was rehearsed for over two hours without her so that the other players might be letter perfect by the time she arrived on the set.

During her wait, she was assigned a dressing room and placed in the care of three women who saw to it that everything she wanted was forthcoming immediately. Otherwise an outburst of temperament might prevent her from condescending to do the scene.

When all was finally in readiness, voices were hushed and all necks craned toward the door of the dressing room from which she was to emerge. Noiselessly, she was escorted to the set and given her position. Freddie Fox, the assistant director, forgot his usual shouting of directions that might have offended Dixee's ears, and resorted to whispering and signaling. Nothing was heard but the voices of the players as they spoke their lines.

The scene over, there was a chorus of stifled sighs, of mixed relief and admiration. Only the necessary shots from various angles were taken, and Dixee's day of work was over.

From the set, she was taken to the dressing room, where she was thoroughly examined by a trained nurse to see that the exertion of the work had not hurt her. The O. K. report was given to a second woman, a welfare worker, who duly noted it on her report card. Then the third woman, who acted as guardian, took Dixee to a waiting limousine and escorted her home.

And that is how Dixee Lee Haley, 17 days old, conquered Hollywood.

The real star of "Life Begins," opening tomorrow at the Metropolitan, by the way, is Loretta Young, the charming young actress who not so long ago was seen in person at the Earle in association with George Brent, in the East to attend to a little marrying!

The completion of "Life Begins" marked the termination for Miss Young of a considerable period of addiction to robes de chambre—night gowns, to you—in place of more conventional attire. The nature of Miss Young's part in the picture, of course, is such as to render robes de nuit—there we go again, fella—the only appropriate form of costuming, but before that she had been enjoying an attack of the flu for several weeks, so, as a matter of fact, life really began for Loretta the moment she was able to don a dress again.

Mention of "Life Begins" brings up the matter of the week's sudden splurge of previews. As already noted here, "The Washington Merry-Go-Round" was screened for the press last Saturday midnight at RKO-Keith's; by the time you read this, this department will have viewed "Life Begins," and prior to its opening with a special midnight public preview Thursday night, will also have seen "Once in a Lifetime," at the Rialto. Comprehensive—and I hope favorable—reports on all of these widely acclaimed subjects will be promptly made in The Post. Enter your subscription now! (Advt.)

Smart hombres, these Columbia Pictures people. It goes back to that "Washington Merry-Go-Round" business. When the action of the picture gets off the Pullman car and into the National Capital, it is notable that whenever a character in the story wishes to consult a daily newspaper it is always THE WASHINGTON POST that is shown upon the screen. I say, smart hombres, these Columbia Pictures people—you can ask Fred Marshall or that high-strung Southern gentleman, Mr. Sam Galanty!

Making the second of the young season's disappointments, word was received yesterday by the management of the National Theater and corroborated by a personal wire from Russel Crouse, of the Theater Guild, that "The Pure in Heart," scheduled for next week, has been canceled. At time of writing, in the midst of Monday night's drizzle, nothing has been announced to take its place.

This is a situation—I mean the fact that only one legitimate theater is operating this season in Washington and that cancellations such as the present one are apt to happen any time, conditions being what they are—that would seem to multiply the opportunity offered the Drama Guild of Washington to step into the breach in emergencies of this character.

I do not mean, of course, that the local Guild should on all occasions have ready a production that could be popped into dark theaters at a moment's notice. That would be absurd. But the way does seem smoothed a little for the successful fulfillment of the Guild's ultimate aims—the creation of a professional acting group in the City of Washington, to produce worthy plays on a basis of strictly professional merit and eventually operate and occupy its own theater, precisely as is done by the New York Theater Guild. A fine start, worthy of city-wide support, has, of course, already been made.

The Drama Guild of Washington, after successfully concluding the last year and having outlined its program for the coming season, is actively conducting a campaign for membership under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Otto Johnson. Her committee comprises Mrs. Albert N. Baggs, Mrs. Alfred H. Brooks, Mrs. John Boyle, Mrs. Carl Casey, Gen. Mason M. Patrick, head of the Utilities Board,; Mr. George W. Offutt, past president of the Board of Trade; Mr. Joseph Sanders, of the Federated Citizens Association; Commander E. R. McKenzie, Mr. Mannix Walker, Commander Frederic Southworth, Col. John Otto Johnson, and Maj. John A. Hillman.

Any one who is interested in good plays by the cream of Washington talent should contact this committee before the first production on November 24, 25 and 26. This play, "The Squall," by Jean Bart, to be directed by Dennis Connell and presented at Wardman Park Theater, is now in the process of casting.

Subscriptions from Washingtonians are being received daily, among them Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the National Federation of Women's Clubs; Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schools; Miss Frances Herriott, instructor of dramatics at Mount Vernon Seminary, formerly with the New York Theater Guild; Mr. Harold Wineberger, of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer forces; Mr. Frank E. Jamison, formerly associated with Margaret Anglin and other famous stars; Mr. Curtis Hodges, head of the Greater National Capital Commission of the Board of Trade; Mrs. Anne T. Renshaw, well known as a teacher of public speaking, and many others interested in the aims and ideals of the Drama Guild.

While he is just plain Vic Oliver, "Europe's gift to America," to patrons of the Earle Theater, where he is featured on the stage program this week, on the other side he is Baron Victor Olivier, scion of a noble house of Hungary.

Baron Olivier served through the war in the Austrian cavalry, was twice wounded and came out of the tiff to be a concert pianist. He was born in Vienna, educated in Paris and at the University of Vienna. His sister is the Countess Muenzer, socially prominent in Parisian society, and his uncle, Baron Loudron, also is a social figure abroad.

This may give Vic diplomatic immunity, or something, but just the same the Baron was baron down so hard at the first show Friday afternoon that he broke one of the bass strings in Mrs. Earle's best grand piano!

That is probably why the management goes in so much for peer-less music!

CLUB WOMEN HOLD CONVENTION TODAY

Alexandria Scene of Session of Fourth District; Ford Plant Opens.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU,
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The meeting of the fourth district of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs will be held this morning at 11 o'clock in the Virginia Public Service Auditorium, with delegates in attendance from the clubs of Berryville, Winchester, Fredericksburg, Arlington and the Cameron Club of Alexandria. The local club is the official hostess for the gathering and the welcome will be by Miss Helen Norris Cummings, president of the Cameron Club.

Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock at the George Mason Hotel, and the principal speaker will be Raymond Christ, of the Department of Labor.

The new Ford plant, situated at the foot of Franklin street, on the river front, was opened for work yesterday, and a date for a formal opening to the public will shortly be announced. The plant is now in operation, and employs 225 men.

The four European contestants in the international oratorical contest will be the guests of the Alexandria Rotary Club at luncheon today, at 12:30 o'clock, in the George Mason Hotel, through arrangements made by the local president, Francis H. Fannon. They are George B. Domine, of Paris, France; Henri Emile Phaff, of The Hague, Holland; Eric Boden, of the Irish Free State, and Charles Smith, of London, England.

GAMES SATURDAY TO TEST PITT AND NOTRE DAME

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

WITH very little fanfare and commotion, the football teams of Coach Arthur J. ("Dutch") Bergman, of Catholic University, have gone about the business of winning ten consecutive varsity games in a streak that started with the second contest of the 1931 season.

Not since Boston College rallied in the fourth quarter to score a 26-7 victory in the Cardinals' first game of last season has a Bergman team tasted of the dregs of defeat, and with two impressive victories thus far this season, Catholic U. is in a fair way toward asserting an undisputed supremacy in the local field.

Catholic University's winning streak comes into contact with its stiffest test of the season on October 29—Holy Cross. If Bergman's lads can surmount the Holy Cross obstacle, then there appears to be no other team on the schedule capable of interrupting the Cardinals' bid for an unbeaten season.

Bergman has fashioned his 1932 team from nineteen members of last year's squad, but he attributes the Cardinals' success as much to the presence of the Sophomore reserve talent as to the veteran team of 1931 that forms the starting line-up virtually intact. These Sophomores were sent into the Chattanooga game last Saturday in the second half and marched to seven first downs in a greater display of sustained power than the Varsity had shown.

The Chattanooga team that the Cardinals beat off last Saturday by a 19-0 score was a respectable opponent from every angle and the manner in which they pounded at the Catholic University goal in the first half bore evidence that it was by no fluke that Chattanooga held the vaunted Tennessee team to a 13-0 score the week before. The manner in which the Cardinals' defense stiffened when the goal was threatened is a pleasing commentary on the team's defensive strength.

Holy Cross Game Long Objective.

No great football team ever attained fame without its one super star, and Catholic University has that individual in Tom Whelan, who has demoralized every opponent with his sensational ball carrying of the past two seasons.

Whelan's 87-yard run against Chattanooga last Saturday, the first time he laid his hands on the ball, is typical of the threat he contains. Able to pick his holes with almost magical effect, Whelan has the speed and shiftiness to outsprint and outguess the opposition in a broken field, and is the cleverest ball carrier to represent a local institution since Jack Hagerty graduated from Georgetown six years ago.

Whelan's effectiveness is not confined to his offensive play, for he is virtually a defensive full back in the Cardinals' secondary defense and has been the team's best bet in the breaking up of the opposition's aerial attacks.

Catholic U. figures to beat Manhattan next Saturday in New York, but the following week the Cardinals meet up with Holy Cross, which last week beat Detroit, a team that has beaten Georgetown for three consecutive years.

Following the Holy Cross game comes battles with Wake Forest, Providence, Duquesne and Loyola, none of which is calculated to topple the Cardinals if the latter display enough power to sweep Holy Cross aside. The Holy Cross game has been Bergman's objective since spring practice.

IRISH STAR TO WED.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Joe Kurth, Notre Dame tackle, today announced his engagement to Miss Ortlieb, of Chilton, Wis. Miss Ortlieb is a student at the University of Wisconsin. Kurth, whose home is in Madison, Wis., will graduate from Notre Dame this year.

GROSNER'S

Reed Defeats Bowen on Decision

Capital Boy Floored Twice in Feature at Portner's.

Davis Trounces Ross; Swetman, Phelps Are Winners.

By DAVE HERMAN.

BOW-LEGGED JIMMY REED whipped out two left hooks loaded with dynamite last night at Portner's Arena in Alexandria. He unleashed the first to Ray Bowen's jaw in the fifth round, and the Washington boxer sank to the canvas only to arise at the count of nine. Again in the eighth the same wicked blow found its mark on Bowen's chin; the local boy wheeled around and went down again for another count of nine. Courage alone brought Bowen to his feet.

These two punches were vital factors in Reed's decisive ten-round victory over Bowen in the main bout on the program. The verdict was unanimous with the two judges and Referee Charlie Short. The match was one of the most spirited staged at Portner's this season, with Reed, the Jacksonville, Fla., flash, displaying his customary clownish ring tactics, but at the same time his ability to shoot out punches with telling effect and in rapid-fire fashion. Referee Short gave Reed five rounds. Three went to Bowen and two were even.

Bowen Strong at Start.

Bowen started strong, winning the first. He finished strong, taking the last. But Bowen's best showing was in the fourth. Here Reed crouched in his corner, invited Bowen to fight. Bowen's answer was a barrage of blows to face and body that for a while had Reed reeling.

Reed bounced out for the fifth mad and wild. A few minutes later Bowen was down. Bowen came up and gallantly finished the round. In the sixth, Reed worked on Bowen's body, at the same time swung wildly in an effort to connect again on his jaw, but failed. Came the eighth, and Reed tore in furiously, again flooring his man. When Bowen arose after the ninth count, Reed beat him up with punches right and left. The crowd went wild when Reed upset Bowen's defense by stamping on the canvas.

The ninth went to Reed. The final round proved the tamest of all, with Reed loafing a bit and Bowen fighting grimly.

Roddy Davis, 133-pound Eastern High boy, showed his ring versatility in the six-round semiwindup with Tony Ross, bull-necked Baltimore scrapper, and won every round. His left eye badly cut in the third, Ross was gory and groggy at the finish.

Kersey and McKenna in Draw.

Harry Kersey, 138, of Jacksonville, Fla., who looks enough like Jimmy Reed to be his twin brother, made his debut in a special four-rounder with Sailor Jimmy McKenna. They fought to a draw, although Kersey appeared the better fighter.

Doug Swetnam, clever 124-pounder of the District, gave Joey Schwartz, of Baltimore, a bad beating in the third and sixth, but piled up enough points to smother the visitor's sharp-shooting left for a six-round decision. Lloyd Phelps, rugged brother of the Arizona Cowboy, Owen, mastered Whitey Saylor in a four-round go, winning all except the third. Saylor was down for a count of nine in the first.

Close to 1,000 fans saw the card—the best staged since Portner's reopened.

Poreda Winner Over Loughran

Jersey Boy Earns Decision, Punishing Veteran in Philly Match.

Philadelphia, Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Young Stanley Poreda, of New Jersey, entered his bid for heavyweight championship consideration tonight by winning a 10-round decision over the "Old Master," Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight title holder.

Poreda's showing at the Arena tonight was one of the most impressive in his career. He outfought Loughran from the first to the final bell. Despite his boxing ability and ring craft, Tommy had no chance against the brilliant Polish fighter. Moreover, he was handicapped in height, weight and reach.

Only in the sixth and eighth rounds did Tommy battle on nearly even terms with Poreda, conqueror of Primo Carnera and Ernie Schaaf.

Tommy's jabbing tactics proved futile against Poreda's long reach and accurate timing. Right cross after right cross sizzled over the former champion's extended left arm and thudded into his face, followed usually by a hard left hook to the body.

Loughran was cut on the nose and right cheek, and was bleeding freely when the bout ended. He also suffered a turned ankle during the melee.

Poreda weighed 201 pounds; Loughran, 186½.

Billie Webb to Pilot Club at Galveston

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—William A. (Billie) Webb, formerly with Buffalo and Toronto in the International League, will manage the Galveston Texas League baseball club next season.

Webb, an infielder, played with Toronto in 1931 and was a former manager of the Buffalo club. He replaces Derrill Pratt, dean of Texas League managers, whose resignation was announced a week ago.

Catholic U. Ace

TOM WHELAN.

WHELAN HAS N. Y. RECORD TO UPHOLD

Faces Manhattan on Scene of Former Grid Triumphs.

WASHINGTON'S most illusive pigskin toter, Tom Whelan, zigzag expert of the Catholic University back field, has a reputation to uphold Saturday when the Cardinals meet Manhattan at Ebbett's Field in one of C. U.'s best games of the year.

Whelan, who hailed from the tough neighborhood bordering the Polo Grounds, is a football player who never failed to come through with a sensational play in the presence of his home town rooters. The baseball hero who is presented with a token of the fans' appreciation invariably strikes out upon his first appearance thereafter at the plate, but Whelan, in his four appearances in New York, has come through with "money" plays of high rank.

Made 95-Yard Dash in 1930.

In 1930 Whelan, running in ankle-deep mud in the Manhattan game, reeled off 95 sensational yards in a spectacular fourth-quarter run, but his team lost the game, 7 to 6. Last year, against C. C. N. Y., Whelan scored four touchdowns, coming after runs ranging from 86 to 63 yards, and against Manhattan the same year scored twice, once from 76 yards out in the field to help win a 19-to-6 game.

This year, against City College, Whelan scored two touchdowns and passed two more of the touchdowns in the 47-to-0 rout. Both of his running plays were more than 50-yard canters.

Saturday he makes his final appearance in New York—a place where, if he had stayed and become a member of Fordham, N. Y. U. or, perhaps, Columbia, he certainly would have been acclaimed as real all-American timber. He hopes to round out his New York appearances with another spectacular achievement. He is in the best of shape for such a stunt, if last Saturday's 87-yard run for a touchdown is any harbinger.

The squad held a light workout in C. U.'s big gymnasium yesterday afternoon, the feature of which was the return to uniform of Charley McVean, injured quarter back.

Chocolate-Arizmendez Matched by Garden

New York, Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Madison Square Garden has matched Kid Chocolate, of Havana, to defend his featherweight title against Baby Arizmendez, of Mexico, on November 18 or 25.

The State athletic commission will be asked to approve the match Friday. Chocolate won the title, as far as the State commission is concerned, when he beat Lew Feldman, of Brooklyn, Thursday night.

Winner of the Chocolate-Arizmendez bout will be matched with Nel Tarleton, of England, for the world's title. Tarleton is the European featherweight leader.

The Garden also announced that Maxie Baer, California heavyweight, would meet Primo Carnera, of Italy, some time in December. Jimmy Johnston, director of boxing at the Garden, claims to have smoothed out Maxie's difficulties with his four managers and that Baer is willing to fight again.

Mid-Atlantic Pros Led by Larkin

Chevy Chase Assistant Has Card of 70; Beats Houghton.

Shorey, Cunningham and Barnett Also Still in Running.

Special to The Washington Post.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 17.—Gene Larkin, assistant professional at the Chevy Chase Club in Washington, led the qualifiers in the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers' Association tournament today at the Maryland Country Club with a 70. Scoring at approximately the same figure in his first round match with Al Houghton, of Kenwood, he defeated the latter 1 up when the loser three-putted the final green.

The day was miserable for golf, and the scores were remarkably low, considering the handicap of wind and rain. The slow greens made it impossible to go for the cup, however, and the casual water rule permitted moving the ball when puddles intervened. While stymies were played in the afternoon, few developed.

Washington, Baltimore Survivors.

The surviving eight players are divided equally between Washington and Baltimore. From the Capital those left in match play are Larkin and Bob Barnett, also from Chevy Chase; Mel Shorey, of East Potomac Park, and Gilbert Cunningham, of Burning Tree. From this city, Carroll T. McMaster, of Hillendale; Glenn Spencer, of Maryland; Charley Betschler, of Rodgers Forge, and Ralph Beach, of the Suburban Club, are still in the running.

Shorey had an approximated card of 72 to defeat Al Tredor, of Manor, 1 up. The latter was two under par for the last nine, but took a five on the last hole. Beach won on the nineteenth when George Diffenbaugh, of Indian Spring, who was even at the eighteenth, forfeited in preference to continuing.

Cliff McKimmie, of Fountain Head Country Club, Hagerstown, who won the championship last year, did not appear to defend his title, though he was entered.

Seventeen played in the qualifying test, and one, Kenneth Allen, unattached, failed to make the grade with an 85.

Larkin's card:

Par, out..... 4 3 4 4 3 4 4 5 3—34
Larkin, out..... 3 3 4 4 3 4 4 4 3—33
Par, in..... 5 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4—37—71
Larkin, in..... 5 4 4 4 3 4 4 4 4—37—70

FIRST ROUND RESULTS.

Gene Larkin, Chevy Chase (70), defeated Al Houghton, Kenwood (73), 1 up.

Ralph Beach, Suburban (76), defeated George Diffenbaugh, Indian Spring (77), 1 up, 19 holes.

Charles P. Betschler, Rodgers Forge (76), defeated A. B. Thorn, Woodmont (82), 7 and 6.

Gilbert Cunningham, Burning Tree (77), defeated Lawrence Wisner, Suburban (79), 5 and 4.

Carroll T. McMaster, Hillendale (76), defeated Leo Walpoert, unattached (83), 3 and 2.

Mel Shorey, East Potomac Park (74), defeated Al Tredor, Manor (82), 1 up.

Bob Barnett, Chevy Chase (75), defeated Frank Cunningham, Burning Tree (78), 2 and 1.

Glenn Spencer, Maryland (75), defeated Cliff Spencer, Beaver Dam (76), 1 up.

Jack Johnson, Now 54, To Fight in Germany

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, is going to Germany to pick up some easy marks.

The giant Negro, now 54 years old, plans to sail a week from today to appear in boxing and wrestling exhibitions. He is unable to appear in most States in this country because of the National Boxing Association's age limit.

Pitt Eleven Prepares For Ohio State Game

Pittsburgh, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Reiterating time and again "the Buckeyes are tough," Coach Jock Sutherland, of Pitt, sent his football squad through a light workout today in preparation for the week-end invasion of Ohio State.

Sutherland impressed his charges with the need of having a tight defense against Carl Cramer and his back field mates, despite the fact Ohio is without victory and Pitt without defeat this season. He contended the Buckeyes "are about ready to break loose and go places."

Joe Tormey, sturdy lineman, was the only casualty of the Army game last week. He suffered a recurrence of an old injury which may keep him on the sidelines for a couple of weeks. Warren Heller, hero of the win over the Cadets, did not don a suit today but was allowed to rest.

The Post Stages Contest for Grid Fans

BEGINNING today The Washington Post opens its sports pages to the opinions of thousands of local and nearby football fans, who are hereby invited to submit their selections for this Saturday's outstanding football games.

Four box seat tickets to the George Washington-Iowa game at Griffith Stadium Friday night, October 28, will be presented to the winner of this first contest.

Simply write in the scores you think your favorite teams should win by and mail the clipping to the Football Contest Editor of The Post. This week's contest closes Friday at midnight.

In the event that several fans are tied in the number of games correctly chosen, the Contest Editor will decide the winner on the nearness of his or her scores to the actual results of the games.

G.U. FAVORED TO TRIUMPH SATURDAY

Western Maryland to Be Met in Griffith Stadium.

ALONG-STANDING feud will be fought out in Griffith Stadium next Saturday when Georgetown and Western Maryland battle in the local gridiron feature of the week-end. Rivals over a long period of years, the Hilltoppers and the Terrors go into Saturday's game with colors somewhat tarnished, Georgetown's by its loss to N. Y. U. and Western Maryland by its tie game with unsung Marshall.

The only basis of comparison between the two teams is their respective showings against Mount St. Mary's, and that does not show a great deal. Georgetown beat the Mounts 26-0, while Western Maryland handed them a 33-6 beating.

Three N. Y. U. Touchdowns Near-Flukes.

In taking stock of its N. Y. U. game, Georgetown does not feel too bad about things. It is the truth that the score should have been lower. Three N. Y. U. touchdowns bordered on the fluke. One came after N. Y. U. recovered a blocked punt on the 5-yard line. Another was one of the season's weirdest plays, coming when Harry Temple picked up a punt Tom Carolan had grounded—before the referee's whistle sounded—and ran 65 yards to a touchdown. The third of the fortunate touchdowns saw Bill McDonald, N. Y. U. back, catch a forward pass that had been batted down by a teammate and run more than 50 yards to score.

The calling back of these three touchdowns would not have changed the final result, but they certainly would have lessened the numerical severity of the beating the Hilltoppers took from the Vast Violets.

Capt. Ray Hudson, who hobbled around on his bad leg for more than a quarter in the N. Y. U. game, will be in first-rate shape for the Western Maryland encounter Saturday. Georgetown rules a slight favorite. Its line has met its toughest opponent of the year. Western Maryland, for all its brawn, will seem almost light and easily punctured in comparison to that massive N. Y. U. front wall.

Natie Brown Stopped By Galento in First

Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Tony Galento, heavyweight, of Orange, N. J., knocked out Natie Brown, of Pittsburgh, tonight in the first round of their scheduled ten-round bout at Laurel Gardens.

Brown was out after 1 minute and 42 seconds of the round. Galento, weighing 235½, floored him for a nine-count with a left hook to the body. When he rose, a hard right to the jaw sent him down for the full count. Brown weighed 201.

Max Schmeling Turns To Movies This Winter

New York, Oct. 17 (U.P.).—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, has turned "Hollywood" and won't take any ring chances on having his proboscis battered until he completes a movie in February and March.

At least that's what Joe Jacobs, manager of der schlager, announced tonight during preparations for a sea voyage tomorrow to join Maxie in the Fatherland.

"Of course," modified Yussel Jacobs, "he won't take any chances unless some one guarantees him at least $100,000 for a bout, and I don't think that will happen."

Eastern-Tech Face Delay In Battle

Rain May Postpone Scholastic Feature Listed Today.

Eastern Backfield Is Menace to Hardell's Title Hopes.

By LEWIS F. ATCHISON.

TWO days and nights of rain, which continued unabated at an early hour this morning, leaving Wilson Memorial Stadium a sea of mud, threatened to postpone the Eastern-Tech game, scheduled for this afternoon, until tomorrow. School authorities had not arrived at a decision last night, but John Paul Collins, chairman of the faculty advisors committee, was to confer with coaches of the rival schools this morning regarding the advisability of delaying the contest.

Should the game be postponed, and it is almost certain to be, it will be played tomorrow, rather than Friday, as Tech is scheduled to play again next Tuesday.

Monarch of the high school grid realm these past four years, a brand-new but powerful Tech eleven begins its quest for a fifth title with Eastern, dark horse of the current series, as its foe.

Hardell Boasts Another Strong Team.

Hap Hardell, little Napoleon of local coaches, has another strong team on his hands despite his repeated denials of this fact. Hardell points to the absence of seven regulars, lost through graduation, in support of his argument. But he does not add that their shoes are occupied by lads whose principal aims in life seem to be breaking through and smearing opponents' plays.

In his back field, Mr. Hardell has the best looking college prospect around town, Johnny Gormely. His efforts, confined solely to clearing the way for ball carriers last season, Gormely is doing a bit of ball toting on his own accord this year and doing quite well. The lad stands 6 feet without benefit of shoes and weighs 190 pounds.

Helping Gormely advance the pigskin for the sake of dear old Tech and Mr. Hardell will be Ed Foley, punter extraordinary, and Max Weitzman, who is a passer of note.

As well fortified with back field material as Tech is, its opponent is even better situated in this respect. Tommy Nolan, Carl and Joe Mills and Francis Cleary, important cogs in Gonzaga's steam roller last year, will see action today. Eastern already had Tony Palmer, one of the most consistent ground gainers in the series last year; Kenny Wade, a nifty broken field runner, and Sam Minni. Carl Mills and Wade are just recovering from injuries, but will be ready for duty.

Tech Has Advantage in Front Line.

Tech boasts a wide advantage in line play, and this should turn the tide in its favor. Hardell has molded a wall capable of withstanding tremendous pressure. Norman Baxter, brother of Fred, all-high selection for center last year, has succeeded his kinsman. Capt. Allison Meiklejohn and Colner flank the line, with Bell, Mathy, Hadway and Morrissetta in between.

Though Eastern's linemen have plenty of bulk and courage, they do not seem able to get along. Wolfe's work at tackle has been particularly disappointing. The one redeeming feature of the Lincoln Parkers' line play is Eddie Benjamin's work at left end. This boy is going to make life miserable for more than one ball carrier this season. Washington-Lee backs gained more endeavoring to avoid Benjamin than they did when that gentleman was not around.

Each team has lost one game. Eastern was decisively defeated by Gonzaga, 13 to 0, but the only loss charged to Tech is a 38-to-6 affair, lost by the second stringers to National Training School's powerful eleven. Eastern nosed out Episcopal, 7 to 6, in the opening game of the season for both teams, and one week later Tech downed the Virginians, 7 to 0.

Braves, Cubs Deny 4-Club Deal Brews

Report Has Seven Players Figuring With Giants to Gain Cuyler.

Boston, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Published reports of an impending baseball deal involving four National League clubs and seven players, valued at approximately $500,000, tonight brought denials from Charles F. Adams, vice president of the Boston Braves, and William L. Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs.

The evening American said a trade, understood to have been started by Bill Terry, manager of the Giants, would send Freddy Lindstrom and Frank Hogan to the National League pennant winners in exchange for Kiki Cuyler, Gabby Hartnett and Pat Malone.

The Braves, in turn, would, the papers said, turn Wally Berger over to the Giants for Cuyler and Hartnett, while Cincinnati would become the fourth club involved by giving up Babe Herman for Pat Malone.

Adams, when informed of the report, said the Braves had no definite trades in mind. He told the Associated Press the Braves wished to strengthen their roster, but no deals, so far, had advanced beyond the talking stages.

He said President Fuchs and Manager McKechnie were traveling in search of new material, and observed it was "hard enough" to make a deal involving "two clubs," without drawing in half the league.

Veeck said his club had not talked with any one in regard to getting rid of any of his three players mentioned. He said he had no idea of letting anyone else have Hartnett, Malone or Cuyler.

Abbott Seeks Berth As Manager of Reds

Cincinnati, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Spencer Abbott, manager of the Portland Club of the Pacific Coast League, today applied for the job of manager of the Cincinnati Reds. He came here to present his case to President Sidney Weil. Although under contract to Hollywood for another year, it was understood Abbott is at liberty to take any better post that is open to him.

Weil received also a recommendation that Johnny Dobbs, former Red outfielder who piloted Birmingham, of the Southern Association, be given the job. Wilbert Robinson, former Brooklyn manager, put in the word for Dobbs.

Panthers Play Ohio State Eleven

Irish Meet Carnegie in First Real Test of Campaign.

Harvard - Dartmouth, Yale-Army Also to Clash in Features.

By JACK CUDDY.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (U.P.).—The gridiron chefs have mixed up a red-hot potpourri of sectional and intersectional games upon which football fans can gorge themselves Saturday.

A glance at the menu reveals Pittsburgh and Notre Dame, potential candidates for the mythical national football championship, demonstrating their strength in intersectional encounters.

Pitt's Panthers, who entered their bid for Eastern supremacy by beating Army, collide with Ohio State, which has tied Indiana and lost to Michigan, 14-0, two of the strongest Midwestern outfits. Notre Dame tackles Carnegie Tech in its first real test of the season and, although Tech is comparatively weak this year, the score should be significant.

Dartmouth Is First Harvard Test.

Harvard, unbeaten and untested, enters its candidacy for Eastern leadership in combat with Dartmouth. Yale, off to a deplorable early season start, will try to snap out of its lethargy against Army, and the powerful, unbeaten teams of Colgate and New York University promise a nip-and-tuck thriller.

Down in Dixie, Tulane, strong Southern Conference contender, will try to ward off Auburn's unbeaten eleven, and Kentucky and Virginia P. I. will meet head-on in their triumphant marches. Vanderbilt and Georgia tangle in an interesting melee.

The Purdue-Northwestern game stands out in the Midwest's big ten, and three other heated encounters in that circuit bring together Illinois-Michigan, Minnesota-Iowa, and Indiana-Chicago.

Stanford and Trojans Battle on Coast.

One of the best grid duels of the day will occur on the Pacific Coast when the unbeaten teams of Stanford and Southern California start blazing away at each other. Victory in this encounter will mark an important stride towar dthe conference title. California and Washington clash in a traditional affair.

Rice Institute, one of the leaders of the Southern Conference, will buck that formidable herd of Texas University long horns, and S. M. U., victor over Syracuse, tackles Centenary.

First call for the football feast actually will be sounded on Friday when a few interesting intersectional games are scheduled, bringing together Detroit-West Virginia, Loyola (New Orleans)-St. Louis University, Temple-Denver, and West Liberty Teachers-Adrian.

Cincinnati U. Elevens Of 1911-12 Will Play

Cincinnati, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—In all these years, County Auditor Robert Heuck and his brother, Walter, have not settled to their mutual satisfaction which University of Cincinnati football team was the better—that of 1911, which Walter captained, or that of 1912, which Robert bossed.

Now they are going to put it to the test on the football field. Squads each one led will play again between halves of the Dennison-Cincinnati game here Saturday.

Pro Football Tops College Brand, Says Ex-G. U. Star

By BOB CONSIDINE.

BIG league professional football is almost as much superior to college football as big league baseball is to college baseball, in the opinion of Maurice (Mush) Dubofsky, captain of last year's Georgetown University's team, an All-American mention and now a regular guard with the New York Giants, who beat the Brooklyn Dodgers last Sunday, 20 to 12, with 25,000 people in the stands at the Polo Grounds.

Dubofsky, who labors in the Giants' line for $100 a game, is part and parcel of a team which boasts of the old Army man, Reds Cagle, in the back field, along with Bo Molenda and Jack Hagerty, a former Georgetown man, besides such former collegiate lights in the line as Moran, Grant, Owen nad Mulleneaux. That Sunday's victory was their first in four starts is just another reminder of the speed of the competition. On the Brooklyn Dodgers were Ben Friedman, Michigan's great quarterback; Nat Grossman, ace of the Rutgers squad last year, and about half of

POLONAISE WINS FEATURE RACE AT LAUREL IN RAIN AND MUD

Coe Ace Wins Purse by 6 Lengths

Semaphore Second; Watch Him Only Other Starter.

Filly, Jones Up, Completes Double for Coe Stable.

By WALTER HAIGHT.

"BOSS, you better get ya'self a ticket on that Coe hoss. He's the onlyest one with an outbode motor." This warning came from an old colored fellow, leaning against the press box to escape the driving rain at Laurel yesterday. The outboard motor was not in evidence, but Polonaise, the filly referred to, could not have done better had she been equipped with an airplane propeller.

Racing conditions at their worst gut the field in the feature race to three, and only Polonaise, Semaphore and Watch Him followed the lead pony to the post, and that's just the way they were to finish, although the parade margin was nowhere near the finish tabbings. Polonaise had a six-length advantage at the wire, with Bobby Jones taking up. Semaphore was some three lengths in front of Watch Him.

Rain Overhead and Mud Under Foot.

There was no "enjoying a day at the races" yesterday. Only the regulars and those who needed the cash were on hand. Only the worn out words, "sea of mud," can describe the track. The rain fell and fell throughout the afternoon and the jockeys went to the post with their chins on their knees trying to escape some of the water.

There was little delay in the start of the Fairlee. Polonaise went to the front in the dash for the clubhouse turn and Semaphore fell into second place ahead of Watch Him. There was no change in that order to the finish. Semaphore pulled up lame. Polonaise was the longest shot in the field at 3.45 to 1, with Watch Him and Semaphore split favorites at 1.40 to 1.

Tremendous, a mud-running daughter of Canter, has been away from the races since last spring, but was ready at the first asking yesterday. Under the guidance of Johnny Gilbert, Tremendous stayed behind the pace set by Bally Bay and Tabaku to move up when straightened out in the stretch. Sweet Chariot, close up all the way, appeared dangerous a quarter mile from the finish, but Tabaku pulled away. Tremendous came through on the rail to battle it out with the leader and took the decision by a head.

Sid Game in Victory in Chase.

J. P. Jones sent Sid against a field of eight jumpers in the Warrenton and the gelded son of Meridian gave a game exhibition to win from Some Hero, the property of W. B. Street. Revelation was third. Sid and Revelation battled for the lead all the way with Some Hero laying third. The lead changed hands several times until, with three jumps to go, Revelation tired and Sid went on to win by four lengths from Some Hero. Revelation stumbled into the third money. Two lost riders, and Priva's fall were the mishaps, with no jockeys hurt.

The Linton Farm's Pretty Wise, proved as much, in the second race, leading from the start to escape the mud slinging and defeat the favored Even Stephen. Blondish was third. Jockey C. Quattlebaum put up a rousing ride on the son of Wise Counsellor. Even Stephen made up a world of ground from a slow beginning.

The Coe pair of Pomponius and Jockey Bobby Jones accounted for the fourth with a stretch rush that found White Lies second and Snaplock third. Snaplock, normally far back at the start, set the pace yesterday and weakened when caught by White Lies. However, neither had reckoned with Pomponius.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

LAUREL RACE TRACK.

DEAR AL:

If the rain continues to fall, I'm going to recommend to the stewards that they provide jockeys with life preservers and oars today. Last night trainers were busy dusting off the mudders in hopes they will be able to drag anchor. Anything can happen on these days and probably will. That's the warning of Stoney Pete, by heck.

They tried to scratch everything but the mutuel board when the mud came up and most of the selectors picked only their teeth. In fact, only 13 of the 21 horses I named got in action and the feature went to the post without a Bennings representative. However, 10 of my picks were in the money. Maybe I can paddle a few home for you today.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—WAR GLORY hasn't had a race at Laurel, but came from New York after taking two seconds in good fields. This son of Man o' War appears to have the edge. POMPOSITY is as good as I have been warning you. If the top fellow is beaten, the Coe juvenile may do it. BAND WAGON for the show.

SECOND RACE—BRIGHT BIRD, when fit, is a dangerous one. He demonstrated his condition by beating Avalon here. The mud will make his chances better. GRAND PRINCE and CAMP BOSS for the rest.

THIRD RACE—GAY PARTY has been prepared for a race of this kind and comes off a good sprint. Looks like the spot. JIMMY D. will fancy the going and is ready to make it tough for the top fellow. ZONE for the show.

FOURTH RACE—WISE ANNE is the logical selection here. Has done well at the track. SPEEDBOAT is dangerous. May find that New York form today. VOLETTE for the third money.

FIFTH RACE—PILATE is the standout in this race. Finished right between Canron and Hygro the other day. REHOBOTH may surprise by being second, despite the move up. CURACAO may show.

SIXTH RACE—ANUBIS has had a lot of hard racing, but should still have enough left to take cae of these. Will like the track. WARD-IN-CHANCERY will be dangerous from now on. BRANDON ROSE is a possible upsetter here.

SEVENTH RACE—DON TASKER is in rare form and should find little here to keep him away from the top end. Has no fear of the going. GENERAL COURT and FAIRDALE for the rest.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—TREMENDOUS, $11.00, $6.10, $3.70; TABAKU, $5.00, $3.10; SWEET CHARIOT, $3.00.

TREMENDOUS, kept on the inside from the start and going in the thick of contention, came through a narrow opening on the inside of TABAKU during the stretch run and outfinished the latter in a hard drive. TABAKU raced BALLY BAY into submission, showed good ability in the going and fought it out in determined fashion when challenged. SWEET CHARIOT, prominent throughout, was unable to menace the first two. ST. CHRISTOPHER was never able to reach a contending position early. PRECIOUS DOLLAR had no mishaps. BALLY BAY stopped.

SECOND RACE—About two miles. Purse, $1,500; allowances. The Warrenton Steeplechase. For 3-year-olds. Start good. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 2:16. Off at 2:21. Winner, J. P. Jones' b. g. (3), by Meridian—Eddes. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $1,050; second, $300; third, $150. Time, 4:26 (14 jumps).

Two-dollar mutuels paid—Sid (entry), $8.10, $4.20, $2.80; SOME HERO (entry), $7.80, $4.70; REVELATION, $4.10.

SID, steadied when REVELATION moved into command at the eighth fence, went into an easy lead when the latter blundered at the twelfth, and held SOME HERO safe over the final two fences. SOME HERO, a forward factor throughout, responded gamely when called upon in the final half mile while REVELATION was going strong to the winner. REVELATION raced stoutly for a mile and one-half and tired badly. MIRTON was never dangerous. FORAY and MIRTON were badly bumped when PRIVA fell and WHIZZBY fell at the seventh. DAIQUIRI would not extend himself and was pulled up at the ninth. BRASH fell at the ninth, and WHIZZBY lost rider at the second jump.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000. For maiden 2 and 3 year olds. Start good from stalls. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 2:50. Off at 2:53. Winner, Linton Farm's b. c. (2), by Wise Counsellor—La Recluse. Trained by H. Brooks. Value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $100. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:15 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PRETTY WISE, $15.80, $6.40, $4.80; EVEN STEPHEN, $3.20, $2.70; BLONDISH, $5.50.

PRETTY WISE went to the early leaders with a rush when midway of the turn, sprinted into an easy lead when straightened into the home stretch and, holding on willingly, had something in reserve at the end. EVEN STEPHEN, as usual, slow to get going and squeezed back soon after the start, worked his way up stoutly, but could not threaten the winner. BLONDISH, a strong factor throughout, consisted gamely under hard driving. VON SION was used up racing MECAT into defeat and weakened badly. ALMOND was held safe. MECAT tired. BANNACH LATH went wide all the way. CLEAR KNIGHT stopped early.

FOURTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,000; allowances. The St. Inigoes. For 2-year-olds. Start good from stalls. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 3:20. Off at 3:24½. Winner, W. R. Coe's b. c. (2), by Pompey—Wigwam. Trained by B. Creech. Value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $100. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:48, 1:14 4-5.

*Field.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—POMPONIUS, $8.30, $3.10, $2.10; WHITE LIES, $2.50, $2.10; SNAPLOCK, $2.20.

POMPONIUS, away quickly, was restrained off the pace for the first half mile, reached the leaders resolutely and drew out at will inside the final furlong. WHITE LIES, hard ridden from the start, came through a wide opening entering the home stretch, reached almost even terms with the leaders, but faltered fast approaching the finish. SNAPLOCK, hustled vigorously to command, saved ground until entering the home stretch and then tired from his early efforts.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; allowances. The Fairlee. For 3-year-olds. Start good from gates. Won eased up; place, easily. Went to post at 3:53. Off at 3:57. Time, 0:24, 0:48, 1:13 4-5, 1:46. Winner, Mr. Coe's ch. c. (3), by Pompey—Sweet Music. Trained by B. Creech. Value to winner, $840; second, $240; third, $120. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 3-5, 1:42, 1:48 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—POLONAISE, $8.90, $3.20, out; SEMAPHORE, $2.30, out; WATCH HIM, out.

POLONAISE, roused sharply going to the first turn, went into a clear lead midway of the backstretch and, drawing out at will, won eased up. SEMAPHORE, under a drive the last five furlongs, was unable to threaten the winner and held WATCH HIM safe. SEMAPHORE pulled up very lame.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 4:16. Off at 4:19. Winner, F. Hayes' br. g. (5), by Flying Ebony—Lexicon. Trained by F. E. Fitzgerald. Value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $100. Time, 0:24 2-5, 0:49 3-5, 1:15 3-5, 1:43, 1:57.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—SYRIAC, $7.30, $4.90, $2.50; TARNISH, $4.10, $2.40; NEGOPOLI, $2.20.

SYRIAC, favored by the footing, went to KANEM without effort when midway of the far turn, sprinted into a commanding lead when straightened into the home stretch, and finished in hand. TARNISH, rated close up, closed courageously, but could not menace the winner. NEGOPOLI was kept under pressure from the start, but was never a serious factor. VIMONT went gamely.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:46. Off at 4:48. Winner, A. J. Gericke's b. f. (4), by Dunlin—Fay. Trained by A. Gillmore. Value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $100. Time, 0:24 3-5, 0:50, 1:16 2-5, 1:42 3-5, 1:56 3-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FAYLIN, $8.70, $4.90, $2.50; RUANE, $4.40, $2.50; DRASTIC DELIGHT, $2.20.

FAYLIN sprinted into a winning lead after the first five furlongs, responded stoutly when challenged in the final quarter mile and outstayed RUANE. Latter was made too much use of closing a big gap to reach the winner, and he faltered fast when the real issue came. DRASTIC DELIGHT, slower than usual in the early stages, closed a big gap and was racing stoutly at the end. VANDAL tired steadily.

TSCHIFFELY GOLF PLAY TOMORROW

28 D. C. Golfwomen in 36-Hole Medal Event at W.C.C.

TWENTY-EIGHT feminine golfers from the Washington Golf and Country Club will participate in the 36-hole medal handicap tournament for the Douglas Tschiffely Trophy, starting tomorrow morning. Eighteen holes will be played the first day and the second eighteen Thursday.

The tournament will wind up 1932 golf activities for the women at Washington. Mrs. Hugh Nicolson, club champion; Mrs. William S. Hall, winner of a recent 36-hole medal handicap event, and Mrs. J. L. Feiser will not take part.

Dr. J. T. Maclenahan, chairman of the greens committee, is donating two prizes, while R. Harris & Co. is giving another prize.

Play will commence at 9:15 o'clock. Pairings and starting times for first round follow:

9:15, Miss Kay Thacker, Mrs. L. Brubaker and Mrs. B. Price; 9:30, Mrs. R. N. Sutton, Mrs. Douglas Tschiffely and Mrs. M. Draper; 9:35, Mrs. C. H. Merrillat, Mrs. C. B. Stewart and Mrs. J. E. Wooten; 9:40, Mrs. J. L. McCabe, Mrs. O. Thacker and Mrs. F. W. Bradbury; 9:45, Mrs. G. C. Roney, Mrs. G. R. Huffman and Mrs. S. Bassoer; 9:50, Mrs. M. S. Whaley, Mrs. F. Nesbit and Miss A. W. Moran, Mrs. Stacey Noland.

Marion Eleven Plays Maryland A. C. Sunday

Boasting two successive victories, the last a 2-to-0 triumph over the powerful Fredericksburg Rebels, the Marion eleven will strive to add the Maryland Athletic Club team to its list of victims when the two clash Sunday at Seat Pleasant. The game is an Independent League engagement. The Marions lead the loop, having defeated Mercury in its first start, while the Marylanders were held to a scoreless tie by the Seaman Gunners in their only start. The contest will start at 3 o'clock.

Western Eleven Plays Alexandria High Today

Displeased with the work of his back field in the Central game last week, Coach Dan Ahern planned to start Western's regular array of ball carriers in today's game with Alexandria in an effort to iron out rough spots. Rain threatened to cause a postponement of the game last night, but the teams had agreed to play if the weather man relented, disregarding the condition of the field.

Jimmy Corcoran's work in the Central fray heartened the Western mentor considerably. He also praised the generalship of Leo Hilleary, who directed the team in sterling fashion. Reynolds' injury rumpled the smooth play of the ball toters for a time, but Hilleary's fine work soon put things in order.

Ahern plans to give many of his second stringers an opportunity of proving their mettle against the Virginians this afternoon, although those regulars who were not impressive in the Central game will see plenty of duty.

Amateur Athletes In Carnival Tonight

Amateur athletes of the District will come to the aid of the Democratic party tonight when they stage an athletic show as a supplemental feature at the circus being held at Georgia and Alaska avenues, under the auspices of the Democratic central committee.

John F. Costello, Democratic national committeeman for the District, announced last night that arrangements for the athletic features are being made by members of the committee in cooperation with Jack Whitely, of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., and other local sportsmen.

There will be no admission charge to the athletic features, which will probably include several boxing exhibitions, Mr. Costello said. Republican athletes are volunteering to help out the circus, he said, in addition to Democrats.

G. W. ELEVEN GOES WEST TOMORROW

Blackboard Lecture Is Final Preparation for Tulsa.

A BLACKBOARD drill and the outlining of plans for the big trip to Tulsa took up the afternoon for George Washington's football team yesterday—with the trip playing a more important part in the proceedings than the drill.

The Colonials leave at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on board a Pennsylvania special and will go to St. Louis by way of Indianapolis. Reaching St. Louis Thursday afternoon the team will work out in Washington University's Stadium and leave at night for Tulsa, arriving Friday morning. They will work out Friday afternoon at Tulsa Stadium and leave immediately after the game Saturday for home. There will be a stopover for church services in St. Louis Sunday.

G. W. is more anxious to win the Tulsa game than any other this year, including the Alabama affair. The Colonials still smart under the whipping they took from the Golden Hurricane last year, their worst beating of the year. It so happens that two of those kangaroo-like back field men who helped to stun G. W. last year will play again Saturday. They are Billy Boehm and Chuck Keeling. Besides these two, Coach Gus Henderson has this year developed Roy Berry, who is "another Boehm."

Coach Jimmy Pixlee was very secretly pleased with the antics of Nig McCarver at the ball yard last Saturday night when the waspish-hipped antelope romped over Catawba in great style. Perhaps the thing that Pixlee likes most about McCarver is the way he is developing as a passer. Heretofore there has been only one passer on the team, Johnnie Fenlon. Now Fenlon can be retired to the side line with some hope that G. W.'s passing attack will not bog down.

Fenlon, hurt in the Alabama game, will be back in shape for Tulsa. The game will be the first of a series of first-rate battles for the Colonials. In succession thereafter they meet Iowa, North Dakota State, William and Mary and Oklahoma.

Gonzaga Organizes Lightweight Eleven

Peering into the future and feeling none too well blessed with football material, Coach Orrel Mitchell has organized a lightweight eleven at Gonzaga and is endeavoring to book games for the team. Mitchell has carefully laid his plans for the team and mapped out a constructive program with a view to graduating the smaller players to the varsity team when several regular members of the latter will be lost through graduation.

Weather permitting, Gonzaga will begin preparation for its game with Georgetown Prep next week at Garrett Park. The team has been taking it easy since the victory over Eastern. Mitchell is not taking the Garrett Parkers lightly, for Coach Joe Gardner's proteges always give the Purple one of their hardest games of the year.

Joe Lilly, Francis Mann, son of the local boxing promoter; Bud Luskey and Pat Deenahan have developed sufficiently to relieve the Irish mentor of worry over suitable reserve material. Lilly and Mann have looked particularly good in recent practice sessions.

Stocks Decline 1.6 Points In Lightest Sale Since July

Trading Range Is Narrow in Session's Turnover of 777,787 Shares.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—With professionals providing a large percentage of the transactions, stocks eased moderately in very dull trading today.

Net losses ran to a point or so in some instances; in others they were only fractional. Volume was only 777,787 shares, making the dullest full session since July. Wheat was off a trifle early in the day, but steadied later and closed unchanged.

The share market dipped in the morning, hardened around noon and then reacted again. Changes in trend reflected chiefly the momentary trading pellets of operators on the floor; outside participation was extremely light. Brokers saw nothing in the current news to stimulate activity, and many appeared reconciled to another period of hesitation.

A dozen or so stocks provided most of the turnover; these, in the absence of aggressive bidding, worked lower. Thus U. S. Steel sagged a couple of points and American Telephone slightly more. North American, Consolidated Gas, American Can, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, National Biscuit and Case lost one to nearly 2. Preferred stocks were quiet and mixed, their changes varying with technical market conditions.

Business statistics of the day and week-end cast little additional light on the general picture. One steel review placed operations above 19 per cent but it was noted that the rate of advance had slackened.

September's commodity price index of the Labor Bureau showed an improvement, although a favorable change had seemed likely. Santa Fe Railroad reported loadings last week at 29,291 cars, an increase of 6.7 per cent over the previous week, while the decline from a year ago was only 10.4 per cent, the most favorable comparison in nearly twelve months.

Foreign exchanges were fairly firm, the Canadian dollar being strong for a time. Whether the easiness of our own currency against foreign gold monies reflected speculative maneuvers was not clear; it was to such action that the recent decline was generally attributed.

Wardman Auction Is Set for Friday

14 Properties to be Sold on Foreclosure; Assessed at $15,000,000.

City-wide interest is being taken in the auction of the fourteen buildings of the Wardman Real Estate Properties, Inc., which is to take place at 2 p. m. Friday on the steps of the District courthouse.

The buildings to be auctioned have a current assessed valuation of more than $15,000,000. They include the Wardman Park, Chastleton and Carlton Hotels, the Department of Justice Building, Stoneleigh Courts, North and Central Cathedral Mansions and the four Wardman apartments on Avenport street northwest.

The auction will be conducted by Thomas J. Owen & Son. It was ordered by the court as the result of a suit brought in June, 1931, petitioning a foreclosure on the first mortgage on the properties because of defaults on interest, sinking fund and tax payments. Many local residents hold first mortgage bonds amounting to approximately $11,000,000.

Standard Oil Producers Reject Crude Advance

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Two producing subsidiaries of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey—Humble Oil and Carter Oil Co.—will not meet the recent advance in crude oil prices in Southwestern territory, it was learned here today.

Standard of Indiana had previously announced it would not join the advance, although it was reported that Standard Crude Oil Purchasing Corporation, a subsidiary of the Indiana company, was paying the higher prices for crude produced on Indian oil lands in Oklahoma as well as for oil from leases. It was recalled that both the Indiana and New Jersey companies were among the last to join the price rise of last April.

Atchison Sets Loading Record.

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A new high record for 1932 in freight traffic was set last week by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad when 29,291 cars were moved, officials said today. The increase amounted to 7 per cent over the previous week when 27,441 cars were moved.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

What the Stock Market Did

	Mon.	Sat.
Advances	96	215
Declines	200	94
Unchanged	103	108
Total issues traded	499	417

Stocks.

Professional trading dominated a dull session. Prices declined 1.6 points in the lightest sales since July. The session's turnover was 777,787 shares.

Bonds.

Low ebb trading resulted in unchanged prices at the close. Sales totaled $7,224,000. Canadian issues continued to hold the bright spot in the market. The railway group exhibited sagging tendencies.

Curb.

Trading dropped to 100,000 shares. Prices drifted lower, with the specialty group losing. The Standard Oil, of Indiana, was unchanged. Imperial gained a fraction. Utilities were steady.

Wheat.

The probable reentry of the United States into world competition in grain exports made wheat prices steady. The closing quotations were mixed. Corn was the lowest since 1897. Oats ran one-eighth higher. December wheat sold at 48¼ to 48⅝ cents.

Cotton.

Southern selling and liquidating sent cotton 15 to 17 points lower. Spot sales increased. December sold at 6.26. Liverpool reported hedging and liquidating.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON—Industrials, oil shares and other prominent issues reacted on profit-taking after a firm opening on the stock exchange. Argentine rails advanced one to two points following the rise in wheat and the hopeful political outlook in South America. The closing was uncertain.

PARIS—Despite the better tone in Wall street, prices on the bourse were hesitant chiefly due to the unsettled international situation. Losses were moderate and the market closed irregular.

BERLIN—Prices on the bourse opened weak and closed firmer.

BOND PRICES STAND AT SATURDAY LEVEL

Low-Ebb Trading Results in Fractional Changes on $7,224,000 Sale.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Trading in the bond market was at a low ebb today and, except for a few specialties, prices milled about in a fractional range or did not move at all.

It was the slowest full day's session since last June 15, sales totaling only $7,224,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans was unchanged.

One of the few bright spots in the proceedings was the continued strength of Canadian issues. Dominion 4s were quite active, gaining a point and reaching another new year's high at 92. Canadian National Railway loans advanced around a point each to new 1932 peaks.

Interest in Canadian bonds was attributed partly to improved sentiment resulting from the recent tariff accord with Great Britain.

Most of the high grade domestic mortgages maintained a fairly firm position. American Telephone collateral 5s were up ¾ of a point to a new year's top. Consolidated Gas 5½s also improved, as did Metropolitan Edison 4½s and refunding 6s.

The railroad group exhibited a sagging tendency. Losses of fractions to a point or more were suffered by some liens of Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake Corporation.

Foreign bonds were irregular. Belgian, Australian, Japanese and some of the Germans were under mild pressure. German Government 5½s and 7s rallied after early declines. Dutch East Indies 6s were in demand for a small gain.

U.S. Ship Mail Contracts Defended by O'Connor

Virginia Beach, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A defense of ocean mail contracts as a means of permitting American vessels to meet foreign competition was made tonight by T. V. O'Connor, Shipping Board chairman, before the Propeller Club of the United States.

Opponents of the mail contracts "try to show," he said, "that the rates of pay are excessive. They argue that the mails could be carried cheaper on a poundage basis. They claim that the whole scheme is designed to stifle foreign competition. Finally, they want the contracts cancelled on the ground of economy."

Coffee Prices Steady In Quieter Trading

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Coffee was steady today but trading was quiet and interest in the market slight. Trade houses appeared to be on both sides of the market.

No. 7 contracts opened and closed nominally unchanged. Sales nil. Santos opened unchanged and closed 4 to 6 higher. Sales, 1,000. Closing quotations: No. 7 contracts—December, 6.40; March, 6.58; May, 6.82; July, 6.73; September, 6.86. Santos—December, 9.40; March, 8.87; May, 8.57; July, 8.42; September, 8.27.

Frigidaire Sales Advanced 43 Per Cent by Advertising

Although September sales in the electric refrigeration industry are said usually to run about 18 per cent less than those in August, the Frigidaire Corporation reports that its sales of household units last month were an increase of 43 per cent over August. The company attributes this unprecedented increase principally to its newspaper advertising campaign in which The Washington Post was a local medium.

The company believes there were three contributing factors to its spectacular sales accomplishment:

First, a reputable product was offered, built by an established manufacturer and priced attractively.

Second, the product was supported with good advertising copy.

Third, the advertising was placed in a carefully selected list of newspapers to get the maximum coverage at the lowest possible cost.

Receiver Is Named For Press Building

L. B. Campbell to Protect Property in Period of Reorganization.

Lawrence B. Campbell, general manager of the National Press Building Corporation, was appointed its receiver yesterday afternoon by Justice Oscar R. Luhring, of the District Supreme Court, upon application of Dudley P. King, of Garden City, N. Y., a creditor.

Mr. Campbell will act to protect the property pending reorganization of the corporation, it was announced. His appointment, which was consented to by the National Press Building Corporation, is regarded as a preliminary step in the reorganization of the corporation with a view of having its fixed charges placed upon an income basis.

The corporation, it is expected, will be discharged from receivership in the near future with a revised capital structure which will enable it to continue under present conditions. There will be no change in the management of the building. Mr. King holds $6,000 of an unsecured indebtedness of $200,000, subject to two deeds of trust, one for $6,200,000 and the other for $2,200,000.

U.S. Court Orders Insull Loan Sales

Collateral Securities to Banks Now Freed of Injunction.

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed an order of Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley and directed him to dissolve the injunction by which he had restrained New York banks from selling collateral pledged on loans to Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and Corporation Securities Co.

The appeals court held that the two Insull companies, now bankrupt, had pledged their securities and that pledge involved the right of the banks to dispose of the collateral as they wished to protect themselves.

"The pledgers have neither possession nor the right of possession" of the collateral, the court decided. It also held that the United States district court in Chicago had no jurisdiction, since the New York banks and the securities they hold were both outside the judicial territory of Judge Lindley's court.

Nickel Plate Notes Placed on Deposit

75 Per Cent of Issue Favors New Plan to Refund.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—More than 75 per cent of the $20,000,000 issue of New York, Chicago & St. Louis (Nickel Plate) Railroad 6 per cent notes, it was announced today, have been deposited in favor of the company's refunding plan. The notes were in default October 1.

An additional amount of deposits, it was said, had been promised which would bring the total deposits to slightly better than 77 per cent.

Under the refinancing plan the company, through a loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, would pay noteholders 25 per cent in cash and the remainder in new three-year notes. "Substantially all" of the security owners must approve the plan before the loan would be granted.

CURB DRIFTS LOWER ON DULLER TRADING

Specialty Group Declines as Sales Volume Drops to 100,000 Shares.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Trading on the curb market today came near stagnation, with prices drifting generally lower and total transfers approximating 100,000 shares, against 280,000 for the previous full session.

Standard of Indiana was unchanged. Imperial Oil gained a fraction, while International Petroleum eased slightly. Gulf, which is a relatively fast moving stock, dipped 2 points.

The utility stocks presented a fairly steady front, although Electric Bond & Share and American Gas & Electric each moved a point or so. Cities Service and United Light & Power A were both off a scant fraction, while Niagara-Hudson Power was unchanged.

In the specialty group, A. O. Smith yielded 2 points, while Singer Manufacturing dropped 1 on an odd lot proximating 100,000 shares, against transaction. Newmont Mining eased fractionally. Aluminum Co. gave up 3½ points of its advance scored toward the end of the week. Deere & Co. was unchanged.

U. S. Breweries Sought On Hope of Beer Return

Los Angeles, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Anticipating the legal return of beer to the United States, Frank J. Parker, of Montreal, was in Southern California today for the purpose of buying two or three breweries.

Head of a $40,000,000 Canadian distillery combine, Parker said he already has invested $1,500,000 in brewery plants in the United States, has options on 7 plants and expects to acquire about 12 more within the next few weeks. He flew his own plane into Los Angeles yesterday and drove on to San Diego today.

Bankruptcy Filed By Booth Fisheries

Petition Alleges Company Is Unable to Pay Obligations.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—A voluntary petition in bankruptcy for Booth Fisheries Co., a Delaware corporation, was filed in the United States District Court today. The petition was presented by Harry K. Hoch, a Wilmington attorney. Schedules will be filed within the next ten days.

The petition was filed, it was stated, as a result of the meeting of the board of directors last Saturday when a motion to that effect was adopted. The corporation operates fish canneries in a number of States.

The petition was brief and merely stated that the company was unable to meet its maturing obligations.

Cotton Spinning Record Is Greatest Since 1912

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The increase in domestic cotton spinning activity from July to September was the greatest for any like period since records of monthly activity became available in 1912, says the New York Cotton Exchange service.

Mill consumption of cotton in September indicated 90 per cent of average operations for the six years from 1922 to 1927, inclusive, as against 54 per cent in July.

WHEAT VALUES FIRM ON MARKETING PLAN

America May Reenter World Competitive Trade; Corn Lowest Since 1897.

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Prospective reentry of the United States into world markets on a competitive basis helped to steady grain values late today.

Rallies developed after wheat had fallen to within ½ cent of the season's low price record, and corn December contracts were down to the bottommost point since 1897. Authoritative trade statements said it was the first time in almost two years wheat had been on the verge of a competitive export basis.

Wheat closed irregular ⅛ off to ⅛ up, compared with Saturday's finish; corn, at ¼ decline to a shade advance; oats, unchanged to ½ higher, and provisions varying from 15 cents setback to a rise of 2 cents.

Drought Aids Recovery.

Contributing to the late recovery of wheat values here was the fact that more attention was being paid to drought conditions in domestic winter crop territory West and Southwest.

Reports both from Nebraska and Kansas were more disquieting and it was predicted acreage would be reduced materially unless rains came within the next week. There were also advices from northern Alberta, Canada, that the quality of unthreshed wheat had been hurt by rain, sleet and snow.

Decrease of 1,760 bushels in the amount of wheat on ocean passage was construed as bullish and so too was notice taken that owing to a steady advance in the Canadian exchange rates, Winnipeg December wheat contracts were now closer to Chicago than for some time.

Securities Affect Market.

On the other hand, wheat prices here were bearishly affected at intervals by relative heaviness of securities, and by word that Argentine and Australian crops were making favorable progress. There was a decided improvement shown in domestic milling demand for wheat.

Commission house buying developed in corn when wheat rallied. An opposite factor was that the corn visible supply showed the largest October total in 35 years except 1927.

Oats shipping demand was better.

DUPONT NET INCOME 36 CENTS ON SHARES

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—In a preliminary statement issued today E. I. Dupont de Nemours Co. reported earnings for the September 30 quarter equal to 36 cents a common share.

This figure, which includes dividends from the company's General Motors investments equal to 23 cents a share, compares with total earnings of 27 cents a share in the preceding quarter and $1.12 in the September quarter, 1931. The latter included 68 cents a share from General Motors dividends.

For the nine months ended September 30 earnings were equal to $1.37 a common share. These earnings include dividends from the General Motors investments of 92 cents a share on Dupont common. This compares with $3.37 a share on the common stock for the nine months of 1931, which figure included dividends from General Motors investments amounting to $2.03 on the Dupont common.

The Davison Chemical & Subsidiaries Co. today reported for the fiscal year ended June 30 net loss of $1,564,317, compared with net loss of $263,553 for the preceding period.

Penick & Ford Co. reports net profit for the first nine months of $658,846, before Federal taxes, against $840,355 in the same period last year. Third-quarter profit was $339,187, against $208,491.

Profits for the third quarter of this year of $1,063,100 are reported by the Atlantic Refining Co. and subsidiaries. This is comparable with a profit of $1,241,600 for the same period in 1931.

For the first nine months of this year the company showed a profit of $4,248,000, compared with a loss of $2,771,400 for the first three quarters of last year.

Earnings per share for the first nine months of 1932 were $1.58, against a loss in the same 1931 period of $1.03 a share.

Madison Square Garden Corporation had net loss of $156,144 in the quarter ended August 31, compared with loss of $314,853 in the same period of 1931. These figures do not include operations of the Boston Madison Square Garden Corporation, a partly owned subsidiary, which lost $35,893 in the 1932 quarter, against loss of $33,946 a year ago.

Industrial Rayon Corporation had net loss of $210,928, in the first nine months, contrasting with net income of $397,971 a year ago. In the third quarter net loss amounted to $96,115, compared with loss of $292,461 in the preceding quarter.

Supreme Court Refuses Convicted Banker's Plea

(Associated Press.)

Wallace B. Davis, former president of the Central Bank & Trust Co., of Asheville, N. C., which closed in November, 1930, was refused a review yesterday by the Supreme Court of his conviction in the North Carolina State Courts on a charge of making a false statement on the condition of the bank.

Nonferrous Metals Lower.

Nonferrous metal prices tended to ease in all branches last week. Lead declined about $5 a ton; zinc sagged to the lowest level in several weeks, and tin sold under 24 cents for the first time in weeks. Copper prices also worked lower in the export market.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—For the third successive week, business insolvencies, as reported by Dun's, fell below the comparable figures of last year. Last week's failures totaled 500, compared with 532 in the corresponding period of 1931. The agency points out that the insolvency trend in the fourth quarter is generally toward a higher level.

Two New York Cotton Exchange memberships were sold at auction today, one at $13,500, a decrease of $5,000 from the previous sale, and the other at $12,100.

With action of the preferred dividend scheduled for next week's session of the United States Steel board, Wall street is awaiting the meeting with increasing interest. In most quarters hopes for a regular $1.75 quarterly payment have faded a little because of the relatively small revival in steel trade activity this fall.

A special meeting of stockholders of Graham-Paige Motors Corporation will be held October 24 to vote on reducing the authorized capital from $7,000,000 to $5,516,000.

Venezuela crude oil production averaged 203,423 barrels daily in September against an average of 304,423 barrels in August.

Bankers today sold a new $600,000 issue of Sierra Pacific Power Co. first and refunding mortgage 5½ per cent bonds, due 1957, at 90. The company is controlled by Sierra Pacific Electric, of the Stone & Webster group.

Holders of French government external 25-year 7 per cent bonds, due 1949, are being notified by J. P. Morgan & Co., fiscal agents, that $4,000,000 principal amount has been drawn by lot for redemption at $1,050 on December 1 next, out of moneys in the sinking fund.

Havana Electric & Utilities Co. has declared a dividend of 75 cents on the 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock for account of the quarter ended August 15, payable November 15 to stock of record October 22. On June 11 last the dividend was omitted, and prior to that time the stock was on a $5 annual basis.

Wall street sees further evidence of the world-wide nature of economic improvement in the past three months in the moderate rise of commodity prices in France, Great Britain and Germany. In France the September index of wholesale prices recorded the first gain since last March.

Carpet Wools in Demand.

Carpet wools demand is reported broadening in response to more active operations by leading carpet manufacturers. Some of the latter are said to be producing at the highest rate for the past eighteen months.

RESIDENCE BUILDING IS STARTING UPTURN

Gain of $2,000,000 Addde in 37 States in Total of $22,803,900.

New York, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Residential building activity which has been more severely affected by the depression than any other major branch of construction, appears, on the basis of recent statistics, to have struck a bottom.

September figures on residential building contracts, as compiled by statistical organizations, show a sharp upturn over the August figures. The F. W. Dodge Corporation estimates residential contracts for the month, in 37 States east of the Rockies, at $22,803,900, a gain of about $2,000,000, or nearly 10 per cent over the previous month. September normally brings a seasonal decline of about 4 per cent.

The comparison is encouriging against the figures for September last year, the decline amounting to 58 per cent, whereas August contracts were 65.5 per cent down from the same month in 1931 and July nearly 70 per cent lower.

While the residential contract figures for the first nine months of the year make a disheartening comparison with 1931, here is ground for encouragement in the opinion of building trade interests in the evidence of stabilizing tendencies since July. As one survey expresses it, there can be little question but that this branch of building activity is close to an irreducible minimum, and that the broad trend from this point, allowing for seasonal influences, will be slowly upward.

It is admitted that any considerable improvement will necessarily depend on real progress in expanding consumer purchasing power and a correction of the ills which now beset the home mortgage market. However, hopes are widely entertained that the latter condition may be improved a good deal through the operation of the recently enacted home loan bank bill.

Furniture Plants Speed Up as Industry Revives

Special to The Washington Post.

Jamestown, N. Y., Oct. 17.—An important increase in total volume of business and hours of plant operations for the past several weeks in the furniture factories of approximately 75 manufacturers of every type of wood furniture in the Jamestown, N. Y., district was reported today by Frank E. Shearman, jr., president of the Jamestown Furniture Market Association, as a forecast for what the furniture industry may expect in the coming semiannual furniture market at Jamestown, scheduled to open this year the day after election, November 9, and run through November 19.

The Jamestown market is attended each buying season by approximately 800 buyers representing furniture and department stores and buying syndicates. Twenty-two States and Canada were represented at the spring market at Jamestown.

JONES WILL ADDRESS BANKING INSTITUTE

J. P. Lynch Announces Visit of National Underwriters' Head in November.

Grosvenor M. Jones, chief of the finance and investment division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, will make the principal address at the first forum meeting of the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Banking on Wednesday evening, October 26, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Jones has been in close touch with international financial affairs for the past ten years, and has traveled widely in Latin America and Europe. He served as an expert with the American delegation to the World Economic Conference at Geneva in 1927 and at several Pan-American conferences.

Norman E. Towson, chairman of the forum committee, announced that many reservations have been made, indicating a great interest in the forum on the part of local bankers.

John P. Lynch, president of the District of Columbia Life Underwriters Association, announced yesterday that Charles C. Thompson, president of the national association, will address the local chapter on Monday, November 14. Roger B. Hull, managing director and general counsel of the national association, is expected to accompany Mr. Thompson, Mr. Lynch said.

Listed with States in the United States, the District of Columbia stood twelfth in September in the number of building permits issued, according to a survey by S. W. Straus & Co. The volume of permits during the month amounted to $971,280.

R. Preston Shealey, Washington counsel for the National Retail Credit Association, is responsible for the decision of the bankruptcy committee of the American Bar Association to hold a public hearing on bankruptcy between now and the convening of Congress, it was learned yesterday. Mr. Shealey obtained this decision through offering an amendment at a meeting of the bankruptcy committee. His main purpose, it was revealed yesterday, was to enable retailers of the country interested in bankruptcy reform to receive a hearing on a five-point program of bankruptcy amendments.

PRO GRIDIRON PLAY SEEN SUPERIOR

Dubofsky, 1931 G. U. Player, Now With N. Y. Giants.

Fordham's 1930 team, besides Whitey Ambrose, former Catholic University center.

Dubofsky said, without any obvious attempt to illusion a fellow, that he had never trained harder than in the last few months. The entire Giant team lives in one hotel in New York, has regular training table and even more regular hours. The married men have their families with them, but the most of the players are bachelors.

They are fined $10 for missing a practice, of which there are three a week. Dubofsky says he has never played against such consistently great opposition. Every substitute sent in is a first rate, topnotch football player, a fact that is not true of college football. The professional magnates pick their players from the cream of the crop, discarding them at will and picking up greater ones. There are no eligibility rules.

Play is very clean. Dubofsky says that is necessary, for if it is whispered about the grape-vine system that so-and-so is doing a bit of extracurriculum eye-gouging, well, so-and-so will have ample cause to regret his actions in the very next game. Besides, the owners do their best to keep the game as clean as Beau Nash's collar. They feel that it would be bad for business, and perhaps it would.

The only one of the new football rules the pros ratified is the substitution rule. They feel that the others, particularly the dead-ball rule, have militated against the speed and enjoyment of the game.

4 Latonia Winners Ridden by Elston

Latonia, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Less than six months ago they said Gilbert Elston would never ride in another race. Today the popular young C. V. Whitney jockey, fully recovered from a fractured skull that threatened his life, rode four winners at Latonia, adding a punch to an otherwise drab day on the American turf.

Elston, who was seriously injured when his mount fell in a race at Washington Park in the spring, won with his first four mounts, but failed to finish in the money on his fifth and last of the day in the sixth event.

He began his string of victories in the opening dash, when he drove K. Russell Home in advance of a good band of sprinters at $13.06 in the mutuels. He proved a winning combination with Lon Jones' Barsahkova at $8.62 in the third race, and came right back in the fourth to chalk up victory No. 3 astride Shepherd, even-money favorite. He then climaxed his riding achievements for the day by outrightdelivering the sensational young apprentice, Monte Parke, in the fifth, winning with F. A. Wehle's La Feria over Benny Creech's Whippercracker. La Feria paid $7.08.

Oliphant at Quarter For Ohio S. Saturday

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 18 (A.P.).—A steady downpour of rain kept Ohio State University gridders indoors today, where they talked over their errors Saturday in the Michigan game. Coach William indicated that Oliphant, in place of Cramer, would be his starting quarter back this week when the Bucks take on Pittsburgh at the Smoky City. All Scarlet players came through the Michigan fracas in good shape physically, but a bit disheartened.

V. M. I. Drills in Rain For Virginia Contest

Lexington, Va., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The V. M. I. Cadets today began preparation for their game with the University of Virginia—a part of the annual homecoming program Saturday. A long drill was held in a drizzling rain and on a wet field.

They were in good spirits and ate up the rough work given them by Coaches Hess and Raftery.

Blocking, tackling and signal drill consumed most of the afternoon.

Canisius Removes Oberst as Grid Coach

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—After a long string of football defeats, Canisius College today had a new coach. Mike Traynor, of Buffalo, a Canisius star back in 1921-1922, succeeds Gene Oberst "immediately," the Athletic Council has announced.

The action came after Saturday's 7-to-6 defeat at the hands of the University of Baltimore. Canisius had expected to win handily.

Canisius has not won a home game since 1930 and has won only one game since the end of the 1930 season.

Hot Shot Sets Record At Sportsman's Park

Chicago, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—C. E. Davison's Hot Shot, in a spectacular nose finish, conquered Miss Melody in the top race at Sportsman's Park today. Going to the front at the break of the barrier in the 5 furlongs sprint, Hot Shot, piloted by Jockey E. Arcaro, made every post a winning one. Voltamaid finished third.

Hot Shot established a new track record at the half mile track for the distance by turning in 1:01 2-5. The previous record was 1:08. Jockey Arcaro starred during the day by booting home three winners. Mutuels paid $7 to win, $4.06 to place, and $3.94 to show.

RACE ADMISSION CUT.

Miami, Fla., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Reductions in admission charges at Hialeah Park for the winter horse races were announced today by James M. Bright, secretary of the Miami Racing Association.

He said prices of grandstand seats have been cut from $2.50 to $1, plus State tax of 15 cents and Federal tax of 10 cents. Clubhouse privileges this year will cost $4 net, as against $6 previously.

DENVER ELEVEN HEADS EAST

Denver, Oct. 17 (A.P.).—The University of Denver football squad, including 28 players, left here this afternoon for Philadelphia to play Temple University Friday night. The Denver players will take a limbering-up workout in Chicago tomorrow and arrive in Philadelphia Wednesday.

Football Briefs

Princeton, N. J.—Disappointed with Princeton's offensive play against Cornell, Coach "Fritz" Crisler sent the Tigers through an intensive drill in the rain today. Tad Wieman worked for more than an hour with the linemen, emphasizing blocking and charging in an effort to add speed and power to the Tiger attack. Jack Bales was at the injured Millard Draudt's place at right half back.

West Point, N. Y.—Because of the battered condition of the Army football squad, Maj. Ralph Sasse was forced to call off his plans for hard work and devoted most of the short practice session to a few limbering-up exercises and a blackborad talk. Even though Yale seems to be far below form, Army's coaches seriously doubt whether they can bring the Cadet squad back to the peak in time for Saturday's game.

New York.—Lou Little gave his Columbia team the usual light Monday practice, although he was dissatisfied with the Lions' play against Virginia. With a weaker-than-usual Williams team next on the list, Little is aiming at the Cornell game two weeks hence. Except for bruises to Schwartz, Linehan and Rivero, the Lions came through the Virginia game in good condition.

Annapolis, Md.—Hoping to find a smoother combination to throw against Princeton, Rip Miller, of Navy, was turning over in his mind a possible back field shake-up with a new quarter back to replace Shorty Beckt. Faulty signal calling was blamed partly for the Tars' nine fumbles against Ohio University last week.

Hamilton, N. Y.—With undefeated New York University to be faced next, Colgate's Maroons went through a long session to perfect their powerful attack. Bob Samuel, quarter back, returned to the squad and probably will start against N. Y. U.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Vic Hanson spent his time trying to bolster the Syracuse line through which Southern Methodist plowed for 273 yards. The Orange may return to the winning column since Penn State has looked fairly weak so far.

Providence, R. I.—As a reward for beating Yale, Brown's regulars were given the day off, but Tuss McLaughry sent the scrubs through a long scrimmage session. McLaughry is looking for reserve material. Brown meets Tufts, one of the East's undefeated teams, this week.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Wet weather forced Rutgers, preparing for the Holy Cross game, to work in the gymnasium, a signal drill being the most important item of the program.

State College, Pa.—Bob Higgins' principal task this week will be to find replacements for the several Penn State regulars who were so badly battered up in the Harvard game they are unlikely to play against Syracuse.

Philadelphia—Harvey Harman, of Penn, gave his varsity the day off, but worked strenuously with the reserves, who probably will carry most of the burden against Lehigh.

Pittsburgh—Jock Sutherland warns his high-geared Pittsburgh Panthers that they must watch out for Ohio State, especially Buckeyes' back field luminary, Carl Kramer. Joe Tormey, center, was the only casualty of the hard-fought game with Army, suffering a recurrence of an old injury that may keep him on the sidelines for several weeks.

New Haven, Conn.—Mal Stevens made two changes in the Yale varsity, sending Gil Wright, a letter man two years ago, to end to replace Felix Hughes, and John Overall, a sophomore, to the other wing in place of Kimball.

Worcester, Mass.—After the bruising game with Detroit, Holy Cross was given a light workout with signal drills for the second and third elevens.

Cambridge, Mass.—The brilliant showing of Frank Crane, second-string guard, resulted in his promotion to the varsity in place of Herman Gundlach. Roger Hallowell, injured center, probably will start against Dartmouth.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Indiana's first string football players, excused from heavy duty, today watched freshman elevens execute Chicago formations and work Maroon passes effectively against a reserve squad. The squad also got plenty of work on blocking and tackling. Otto Kuss, Pine City, Minn., reserve tackle, was shifted to end, where he used his 6 feet 3 inches and 216 pounds to advantage.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Battered by the drives of Minnesota and Wisconsin, the Purdue football regulars were released from drill today after a chalk talk on the Northwestern offense. With Doxie Moore, half back, out of action, the coaches were grooming Vernon Craig and William Riblet, lightweight reserves, to assist Duane Pervis at the right half back berth.

Evanston, Ill. (A.P.).—Northwestern's regulars donned sweat suits today and went through a half-hour signal drill as preparation for the Purdue game Saturday. The reserves scrimmaged with the freshmen. Coach Dick Hanley expressed pleasure at the improvement shown against Illinois, particularly the return to form of Pug Pantner, whose blocking, Hanley said, helped other backs to a lot of gains.

Chicago (A.P.).—Coach A. A. Stagg bore down in real earnest today as he started readying Chicago for its opening Big Ten battle against Indiana Saturday. The regulars worked long on plays and finished up with a brisk dummy scrimmage against the Freshmen.

Hawks and Celtics Will Clash Sunday

Alexandria Eleven Invades Griffith Stadium; Game Sandlot "Natural."

The closest approach to the old Apache-Mohawk rivalry of former years, in the matter of football games, will be played Sunday at Griffith Stadium when St. Mary's Celtics and the Mohawks clash. The game bears all the earmarks of a "natural." Last season the Celtics won the South Atlantic League championship and the Hawks were runners-up.

The Celtics journeyed to Richmond two weeks ago and inflicted the first defeat on the Arrows those worthies have suffered in two years. The Hawks, showing marked improvement with each start, losing their first game and tying the second, broke into the win column Sunday, trimming Penns Grove, 12 to 0.

Knight Gains Decision Over George Nichols

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 17 (A.P.).—Joe Knight, of Cairo, Ga., decisively outpointed George Nichols, of Buffalo, N. Y., recognized by the National Boxing Association as light-heavyweight champion of the world, in their ten-round boxing match here tonight.

Nichols failed to win a round. His title was not at stake in the bout, which drew an attendance of 3,000.

The Georgia boy, who has to his credit a victory over Maxie Rosenbloom, recognized as champion in New York State, sailed into Nichols in the opening round and smashed him all around the ring.

There were no knockdowns, but Nichols showed he was hurt by Knight's punishing left early in the fight, and for the most of the latter rounds, he was busy covering up and back-pedaling. The decision was unanimous by three judges.

Hitting the Headpin

KING'S PALACE, which has been traveling along the mapleways at a merry clip in the National Capital League this season, much to the surprise of veteran observers, added to its lead by taking the odd one from the second-place Colonial Ice Cream quintet in a close match rolled at Lucky Strike last night.

With Ben Hare setting the pace the department store team piled up the wood for games of 602, 540 and 603, a set of 1,745. Colonial Ice Cream, despite the presence of such notables as Eddie Espey, Joe Pricci and Johnny Anderson in its line-up, failed to break 500. Its games were 564, 563 and 592. The final game, it will be noted, was lost by only 11 pins.

Hare disturbed the pins to the extent of 366 for high set and 148 high game.

With Johnny Welsh and Al Works sitting up in the front row and making more noise than a dozen kids at a circus, Rendesvous took the champion Northeast Temple crew into camp at Rendezvous, winning all but the last game. The Victors lugged enough lumber for games of 602, 584 and 556. Temple improved with each game, rolling 553, 571 and 591. George Honey was head man for the losers with his 379 set. Welsh rolled 397 and his teammate was just a step behind with 391.

Having served notice that they are out for the national title this season, by virtue of their record-smashing victory over Chester Bild and Ed Blakeney last week, Reds Megaw and Ollie Pacini, Temple's crack duckpinners, will seek fresh laurels Saturday night when they encounter Earl McPhilomy and Ray Von Dreele in a five-game match at Temple. Von Dreele and McPhilomy should give all the competition, possibly more, than their hosts bargain for. The Earl is suffering with the well-known bowling ailment identified as a "hot hand," just now, and should be particularly good.

Pirrone's 139 game and Aronstein's 349 set led the individual lists in the Jewelers League at Lucky Strike. Art Metal took the team game, with 548, and M. Pirrone garnered the set honors by virtue of its 1,591.

Frank Xanter massaged the maples for high set, 380, in the District Government loop at Arcadia. Werle hot on his trail with 373. Barnhardt, whom it appears has been granted a patent, or exclusive right to nigh game, did it again with 144. Public Utilities bagged team honors with 590 and 1,643.

Glossy Glossbrenner, anchor man on Standard Engraving, put the skids under Bill Woods' pins for a 149 game and 393 set in the Typothetae League at Lucky Strike. Big Print Shop toppled 879 bottles for high team game and 1,892 for the best set of the evening.

Washington Centennial No. 1 stacked the wood for a 489 game and 1,440 set to lead in the Eastern Star Ladies League at Lucky Strike. Miss Dove's 125 game was high, as was Miss Schmidt's 311 set.

In the Commerce Ladies loop, Miss Webster garnered all individual prizes in sight with a game of 122 and 320 set. Domestic Commerce added to its collection of laurels with a 491 score for game and 1,372 total for the three.

VISITOR, 80, KILLED, SEVERAL INJURED IN RAINY DAY TRAFFIC

Staten Island Man Dies After Being Hit by Auto; Slippery Pave Peril.

Slippery streets and rain last night made driving exceedingly treacherous throughout the city and was largely responsible for a score of automobile accidents in which one man was fatally injured and many persons hurt.

Reuben Androvette, 80, of Staten Island, N. Y., suffered fatal injuries when struck on Nichols avenue southeast, between V and W streets, by a car driven by Glenn R. Stamps, 25, of 1353 A street northeast. Androvette was visiting friends at 2104 Nichols avenue.

In another serious accident, Alonzo Warfield, 75, 1214 Massachusetts avenue northwest, suffered a fracture of the right leg and bruises when struck by a taxicab, driven by John Thurston, 31, colored, 1704 Vermont avenue northwest, near Eleventh and Harvard streets northwest.

Visiting Couple Injured.

At Fifteenth and L streets northwest, Cyrus C. Houston, 71, and his wife, Sally Houston, 63, of Knoxville, Tenn., were both knocked to the pavement by a car driven by John P. Murphy, 25, 2216 Tunlaw road northwest. They suffered severe lacerations and bruises. The couple said they were stopping at the Lee House.

Mrs. Nannie Blake, 50, of 1707 Euclid street northwest, received bruises and minor cuts when a car in which she was riding with Harold L. Pyke, 22, of 1223 M street northwest, was struck by a car driven by Henry Allen, colored, 50, of 1308 N street northwest.

Woman Hurt in Crash.

Slight injuries were suffered by Jean Lane, of 1719 Thirteenth street northwest, when struck by a car operated by Henry F. Meso, 43, of 821 Longfellow street, at Sixteenth and R streets northwest.

In a crash between cars driven by George Pfluger, 39, of 1324 Ingraham street northwest, and Bernard Grubb, 22, of 1519 Monroe street northwest, at Seventeenth and Q streets, Mrs. Georgia McCormick, of 2779 North Capitol street, suffered bruises and lacerations.

Cab Driver Robbed Of $5 by Gunman

Forced to Walk Mile After Thief Threw Away Keys, Victim Declares.

W. J. Chesser, 24, of 765 Twentieth street northeast, reported to police late last night that he was forced to drive about 11 miles beyond Silver Spring by a colored man, who robbed him of $5 and threw away the keys to his car.

Chesser said the man got into his cab at Tenth street and Florida avenue northwest about 9:30 o'clock and told him to drive to Walter Reed Hospital. Upon arrival, the man then told him to drive a few blocks farther along Georgia avenue. Suddenly the man stuck a gun in his back, saying: "Drive until I tell you to stop."

When Chesser was unable to find his keys, which the colored man threw into the bushes, he had to walk about a mile down the road to a filling station, where he telephoned for the cab company to send him new keys.

Weekly Bridge Games Arranged at Willard

An open invitation to bridge fans, either residing in Washington or here for only a short visit, has been issued by the Washington Bridge Club. The first of a series of weekly bridge games will be held tonight in the Willard Hotel.

The new and novel idea, first inaugurated in New York, will make its appearance here under the auspices of Mrs. Paul Collins, wife of the president of the Ludington Airlines. Visitors and residents alike may join the games.

Miss Catherine Toomey In Capital Song Recital

Miss Catherine Toomey, former Los Angeles society girl, who recently came to Washington, launched her formal debut in local music circles last night at a song recital in Barker Hall, Y. W. C. A.

Miss Toomey was introduced by H. Leroy Lewis, Washington vocal instructor. A large crowd voiced approval of her mellow contralto voice and predicted for her a colorful career.

Lincoln Park Citizens Elect Kern President

Officers for the ensuing year were elected at a meeting of the Lincoln Park Citizens Association last night at Thirteenth and B streets southeast. They are John P. Kern, president; Albert I. Caldert and L. R. Tindal, vice presidents; William A. Carlin, secretary; Fred Muller, treasurer. J. S. Gammell, former president, and John Kern were elected delegates to the Federation of Citizens Associations.

Traffic Expert In Court on Auto Charge

The man who decides whether an applicant for a driver's license knows the regulations was brought into Police Court yesterday on a charge of not obeying the regulations.

Harry L. Morningstar, the examiner, was charged with failing to give the right of way to an automobile operated by Park Policeman W. E. Riley. The policeman testified Morningstar cut in front of him as the latter was about to make a left turn at Florida and Rhode Island avenues. Then, Riley said, Morningstar called to him to "hit the car."

However, Morningstar accused Riley of cutting a corner. The case was continued until tomorrow.

RAILWAY TRACKAGE REVIEW IS REFUSED

Act of Congress Did Not Give Property Right to Firm, Court Ruled.

The Mount Vernon, Alexandria & Washington Railway Co. was refused a review by the Supreme Court of a decision of the Court of Claims denying it compensation for damages suffered under an order requiring it to abandon trackage used in reaching its terminal at Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

In 1894 Congress gave permission to the railway to lay tracks to the terminal. Congress, in 1926, authorized the Secretary of the Treasury to close the streets over which the trackage was laid.

The railway contended it had a property right in the track and that the right could not lawfully be taken from them without compensation. The lower courts held against it, and suit was brought in the Court of Claims. This court held that the franchise granted by Congress was but a privilege which Congress specified should be subject to repeal. The right to occupy the roadway was a repealable grant, the court said, and gave the railway no property right to the streets occupied by its tracks.

Lyons Reelected Head Of West End Citizens

Robert D. Lyons was reelected president; Charles Norris, first vice president, and William Brown, treasurer, at a meeting of the West End Citizens Association last night. New officers elected were Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, second vice president; A. N. Cooper, third vice president, and A. C. Barber, secretary. The two delegates to the Federation, Charles Norris and David Babp, were reelected.

The association decided to take part in the Halloween parade, and appointed a committee to prepare a float. It also indorsed the principles and purposes of the Community Chest campaign.

Annual reports will be made and as a special musical feature, Mrs. Harvey Baker Smith and Mrs. Helen Edgar Lancaster will sing the song, "Defend and Not Amend."

HOOVER TRIP CRASH SUIT ASKS $70,389

Official of R. F. C. and Wife Seek Damages From Bus Company.

Suits totaling $70,389.25 were filed yesterday in the District Supreme Court against the Old Dominion Stages, Inc., of Washington, by Frank W. Connor, Reconstruction Finance Corporation executive, and his wife, Wilhelmina D. Connor, as the result of an accident to their car while with President Hoover's party on a tour to the Rapidan last year.

Mrs. Connor asked $50,000 for her injuries, listed as including a fractured collar bone, fractured right hand, displaced vertebrae, cuts, bruises and shock, while Connor petitioned $20,000 for loss of his wife's services.

Newspaper accounts at the time of the accident, which occurred on the Little River turnpike between Annandale and Fairfax, Va., on July 10, 1931, said that the bus fell in between the President's car and a Secret Service car following it. The latter car and another succeeded in passing the bus, but, according to the suit filed in the Supreme Court, the driver of the bus was negligent and refused them passing space after a warning, resulting in an accident between the bus and the Connor car.

Hearing on Cupola Is Set for Today

Controversy Will Be Aired Before Commissioners; Many to Attend.

A spirited controversy over the elimination by Maj. John C. Gotwals, Engineer Commissioner, of a cupola from plans of the Taft Junior High School will be aired this afternoon before the District Commissioners.

Started as a mild protest, objections to Maj. Gotwals' action has gained considerable momentum in the last ten days. As a result, representatives of several citizens' associations, the District chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and the Fine Arts Commission will be present.

While the question is chiefly one of economy versus achitectural design, officials of the Engineer Department contend the school can be made just as handsome, or even better looking, without the cupola, a device that has been attached to most of the recent new schools.

WORKERS OF CHEST PLEDGE THEIR BEST EFFORT IN '32 DRIVE

Speakers Point Out Increase In Number of Pleas for Relief.

A veritable spirit of crusade dominated the Community Chest meeting in the Hall of Nations, U. S. Chamber of Commerce Building, last night, when more than 300 presidents and members of boards of Community Chest organizations, inspired by the pleas of E. C. Graham, president of the chest; Newbold Noyes, campaign chairman, and others signed up as members of the advance guard and pledged their best efforts in the coming Chest campaign which will be held November 14-23. The silver cup for the largest percentage of attendance of board members of any one institution went to the Jewish Foster Home with an attendance of 85 per cent.

President Graham spoke to the board members as "the group directly in contact with the work that the Community Chest is doing through their organizations."

He spoke of the great need that confronts the city. Even with the expenditure of the fund granted the Board of Public Welfare, he said, the welfare agencies of the Chest are carrying double the burden that they carried two years ago; the hospitals are equally affected, their number of free and part-pay patients who formerly paid for service having doubled, while the character building institutions, with incomes greatly reduced by inability of persons to pay, face an added burden of free service.

Outlines Campaign Plans.

Mr. Noyes outlined the plan of campaign, stating that the Chest is sticking to the formre plan, which has proven successful. "We need more than ever before," he said. "More and more families are being added daily to the thousands already under care of Chest agencies, and the need will grow as the winter advances. Some people can not give as much this winter as the yield last year, and we must find among our people those that can give more to make up for this deficit in giving."

Other speakers were Morris Edwards, vice chairman of the speakers' unit; Coleman Jennings, president of the Associated Charities; Mrs. Whitman Cross, president of the Instructive Visiting Nurse Society; Drs. David Meade Lea, president of the Episcopal Home for Children; the Rev. John O'Grady, director of the Catholic Charities; Rayford Logan, of the Twelfth Street Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. Charles A. Goldsmith, of the Hebrew Home for the Aged board, and Clarence A. Aspinwall, of the board of Garfield Hospital.

The District Commissioners are confronted with an unusually difficult problem as a result of the report filed with them Saturday by the special committee on emergency relief. Yesterday they could see no immediate solution.

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, chairman of the board, said that he had not had time to read the report but that he knew of no source of replenishing the dwinding unemployment fund before Congress reconvenes. Because of the daily Budget Bureau hearings and other pressing matters, he said it would be several days before the Commissioners could confer with Sidney P. Taliaferro, chairman, and other members of the relief committee.

Surplus Is Gone.

The committee had recommended, pending another appropriation, that the Commissioners "canvass the possibility of obtaining, by extraordinary means from some temporary source, or by the creation of a deficit, additional funds" to continue the special relief work.

District officials yesterday pointed out that the Commissioners are prohibited by law from borrowing money or from creating a deficit, that the District government's surplus has disappeared, and that its working capital is below par.

Few, if any, District buildings are available for occupancy by those who are without shelter. The committee also proposed, however, that the Welfare Board appeal to the Federal Government and to private property owners for "free quarters."

About the only means suggested by District officials of supplementing the relief fund until more money can be obtained from Congress was that the Community Chest may be able to assist after its fall campaign.

Operating on a scale that is admittedly far below "bare living" standards, the emergency relief organization, of which L. A. Halbert is director, is likely to run completely out of funds before Congress can act. If relief is not forthcoming within a reasonable time, Washington will be faced with actual cases of starvation.

Drug Theory in Illness Of Woman Is Dropped

Narcotic agents yesterday discontinued their investigation in the report of Mrs. May Gernava, 27, of 3360 Eighteenth street northwest, who told police that she had been jostled in a crowd at Fourteenth street and Park Road northwest Saturday night and thought that some one had jabbed her with a hypodermic needle. The agents said that such a needle could not have penetrated the pony skin coat which she was wearing.

Mrs. Gernava was crossing the crowded intersection and felt a sharp jab on her arm. She later became ill. A physician, who was called Sunday, told her that her symptoms show a similarity to the aftereffects of a drug, but that they were of no consequence.

Child, 3, Is Scalded As He Tips Basin Over

Stanley Weiss, 3-year-old son of Charles and Sophie Weiss, 430 Irving street northwest, was scalded severely about his chest, arms and legs yesterday when he tipped over a basin of hot water while playing near his mother, who was doing the family wash.

Three Rob Taxi Driver Of $3 and Take His Cab

H. B. Lyman, 613 Eleventh street northwest, a taxicab driver, reported to police that he was held up by three colored men last night, who robbed him of $3 in cash and took his taxicab.

FIREMAN FORBIDDEN FROM OUTSIDE JOB LOSES REVIEW PLEA

Supreme Court Refuses to Consider Case Involving Commission Order.

The right of the District Commissioners to forbid any policeman or fireman from engaging in any other work for compensation was upheld by the Supreme Court yesterday, which denied to review the validity of the order of the District Commissioners.

The appeal was made by John R. Ihrie, a member of the District Fire Department, who contested the order of the Commissioners restricting the work of the fire and policemen to their official duties.

Ordered Issued in 1930.

The prohibitive order was issued by the Commissioners on September 19, 1930, and Ihrie contended that work he was doing in no way interfered with his duties as a fireman. He asserted the order was an unlawful interference with his personal liberty, and deprived him of rights guaranteed by the Constitution, including the freedom to contract.

District Court Reversed.

The District Supreme Court sustained the fireman, but it was reversed by the District Court of Appeals, which held that the Commissioners had acted with authority conferred upon them, and that the order in no way deprived the fireman of constitutional rights. Ihrie then sought a review by the United States Supreme Court.

Taxi Crash Case Review Plea Lost

Supreme Court Refuses to Act on Reversal of Judgment.

The Supreme Court yesterday refused to review the judgment of the District Court of Appeals, which reversed a judgment for $1,000 in favor of Wallace L. Redwine against C. E. Knox and Lewis Stanley Wetmore.

A taxicab operated by Wetmore struck an automobile driven by Redwine at Twenty-ninth and Q streets and Mrs. Redwine was injured. In Municipal Court Redwine obtained a judgment against Wetmore and Knox.

On appeal the District Court of Appeals reversed the judgment on the grounds that the action had been improperly brought. It held that it was improper to join master and servant in an action in tort in the District. Redwine sought a review of the verdict by the Supreme Court.

Trade Commission Employe Honored Upon Retirement

Timothy A. Carroll, in U.S. Service 43 Years, Given Gold and Umbrella.

Timothy A. Carroll, examiner in the economic division of the Federal Trade Commission, who was recently retired from the Government service in which he spent 43 years, was guest of honor and recipient of a purse of gold and an umbrella with an inscribed silver band at a luncheon given yesterday by officials and employes of the commission.

Mr. Carroll, who lives at 1329 Massachusetts avenue southeast, is a native of Lynn, Mass. He first came to Washington in July, 1889, when he served under Col. Carroll D. Wright, the first Commissioner of Labor, and helped prepare the statistics on which was based the bill providing for literacy tests in connection and arbitration.

Prior to coming to Washington, Mr. Carroll was connected with the shoe industry in Massachusetts and was interested in labor problems, having been prominent in the movement to establish the State board of conciliation and arbitration.

He was instrumental in having introduced in Congress the first bill setting aside a holiday for labor. In 1904, Mr. Carroll was transferred from the Bureau of Labor Statistics to the Bureau of Corporations, Department of Commerce, which later became the Federal Trade Commission. He worked on numerous important investigations and in late years specialized in the study of petroleum and petroleum products industry.
